The test measured the student's ability to handle his body effectively in seven areas: pull-ups, arm and shoulder girdle strength and endurance; sit-ups, strength and endurance of the abdominal and hip flexor muscles; shuttle-run, total body agility and coordination with special emphasis upon power of the legs; standing broad jump, total body coordination and power of the hip extensor and leg muscles; 50-yard dash, total body coordination, leg strength and power; softball throw, total body coordination and power of the arms and should girdle; and 600-yard run-walk, total body endurance as it depends upon endurance and efficiency of the muscular, circulatory and respiratory systems.

Each pupil taking the test was classified according to age, height and weight. National norms were determined on basis of a classification index and boys and girls attaining the 50 percentile on all items were eligible for an achievement award. Any student making the 80th percentile qualified for a gold merit emblem.

Dick Travis, chairman of the physical education department, explained about a percentile score. He said the score indicated the percent of individuals who had not attained a certain score. A boy or girl who has a percentile score of 60 on a test item has performed at a higher level than 60 percent of all the individuals of this age or classification who were tested while developing the norms. The percentile scores in steps of five. Sometimes a student can move up several steps by the performance of, say, one more pull-up.

From the student body at Southern 423 boys out of 659 are enrolled in physical education, compared to 278 girls from a total of 587, or a total of 701 students from a total of 1264, are participating in physical education.

Of those taking the test the number passing included 21.9 percent of junior high boys, 20.59 percent of senior high boys; 37.84 percent of the junior high girls and 35.86 percent of senior high girls.

In the department in addition to Mr. Travis are Thomas Kuhn, Mrs. Lucille Kerins, Mrs. Dorothy Frame and Leroy Bolding.

Questions By You and Your Friends

Answers From Clinton W. Englander

ASK YOUR PHARMACIST

Question

Will breathing the hair spray I use to set my hair hurt my lungs?

Answer

Scientists at Northwestern University asked the same question recently. Their experiments proved that there is no reason to be afraid of lung damage from the use of hair sprays. Even heavy concentrations of hair spray in the lower part of the lungs cause no damage to lung tissue. The whiffs of hair spray you get by accident should not worry you.

Economic Growth Antidote

The record is crystal clear that economic growth—and not public welfare programs—has been responsible for the lessening of poverty, over the years.

It is deplorable, therefore, that the Administration has placed its main emphasis in the fight on poverty on the expenditure of $1 billion in taxpayers' funds, thus relegating the private enterprise system to a relatively minor role despite its vital and consistent contributions to the improvement of living standards.

As the National Association of Manufacturers has pointed out, economic problems are best solved by economic forces.

In a statement submitted to Congress the NAM discounted the doubt, expressed in some governmental quarters, concerning the capacity of the private economy to provide the jobs needed to combat poverty.

"Given incentives, the American businessman will invest," said the statement. "Given a wage scale that is economically realistic, business will employ more people—and train them to do the work required. Given an opportunity to earn a profit they will be willing to undertake the new and risky ventures which may expand employment in areas as yet undreamed of".

The policies most likely to achieve the goal of reducing economic hardship and raising living standards the NAM contends are these:

"1. The pre-emption of increased revenue resulting from economic growth for further tax reduction.

"2. Economy in government spending.

"3. Maintenance of the value of the dollar.

"4. Reduction of the special powers and exemptions granted to labor unions by the government.

"5. Public assistance where necessary based on need and financed and administered by the states and localities."

This strikes us as a program that will bring far greater success in the anti-poverty campaign than massive spending of taxpayers' funds, which has never worked in the past. —International Press Service.

543 Deer Slain

Resources Institute, to determine age and size of the bucks killed.

Two men, Dr. Vaughn Flyger, assistant director, and Richard Reppert were in the county last Friday and Saturday and members of the State Game and Inland Fish commisssion have been at various stations during the balance of the week, making the survey. They are finding, according to Harold Harman, of the Mt. Nebo station, that 90 percent of those slain are about one and one-half years old. The oldest one to be checked up to today was five and one-half years old.

The number of points on an antler does not indicate the age of the deer but the type of food and the amount of food a deer eats.

The survey is expected to provide much information on the ways deer feed and develop in each area. In other sections of the state it has been found that ages and weights of deer are much higher than those in Garrett and Allegany counties. Deer killed on the Eastern Shore may range from 20 to 30 pounds heavier than those killed in Western Maryland. Dr. Flyger said the Eastern Shoe was a good food area for deer but the browsing area in Western Maryland had declined over the past several years as the deer herd has increased.

Biggest day up to yesterday was Saturday when 244 were killed.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
PRESIDENT—NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

The Democratic vice president elect, if he should ever succeed to the top position, might well become the first socialist president of this nation. Senator Hubert Humphrey was one of a small group of political activists who in 1947 founded the Americans for Democratic Action, a Fabian-like organization that seeks to speed up every possible step toward building a socialist America. He has been its chairman, and later its vice chairman and board member. Senator Humphrey vigorously defends his relationship with ADA and continues a member of it.

The late President Kennedy, when he was a young Senator in 1953, said that he never had joined ADA and that he was "not comfortable with those people". Nevertheless, soon after his inauguration the White House was swarming with card-carrying ADA members. Several of these remained to lend their particular talents to President Johnson. Perhaps only ADA headquarters knows today how many of their number fill positions in the government, but it is thought by critics that the peneration has been quite thorough.

The ADA has shunned revolutionary Marxism, to be sure. At least for the record it opposes Communism, although no one has noticed any significant results from ADA opposition to the Reds. Perhaps this is because its members have been very busy fighting the anti-Communists. But it is what the ADA stands for, its espousal of radical left positions, that excites its supporters. It has, for example, called for admission of Red China to the U. N., a position that should have chilled Democratic voters to the marrow.

The ADA member's special interest is a fierce devotion to the general principles of socialism. New Frontiersman Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., one of Senator Humphey's colleagues in ADA, has predicted the growth of socialism in these terms: "There seems no inherent obstacle to the gradual advance of socialism in the United States through a series of New Deals." With the Administration trying to outdo its previous spending records and the Johnson poverty program having been inspired by socialist Michael Harrington, this prediction seems to have some validity.

It is not unfair to describe as socialism what the ADA and Mr. Humphrey acclaim. The Senator himself has noted in his recent book, The Cause Is Mankind, that European socialism has much in common with the ADA point of view. If Humphrey were British he would certainly belong in the government of his British Socialist friend Harold Wilson, of the Labor Party. The expansion of socialist ideas has been a major goal in Humphrey's career. What additional socialist proposals will he urge upon the people as vice president, or even president?

The ADA seeks through its power and influence to reconcile the trend toward world socialism with the American tradition. This is impossible, of course. The ADA member, please note, has much to say about responsibility at the top, but makes little reference to loss of freedom for all below the top. These people insist that state control, with all the decisions resulting from government economic power, is the way a modern nation should be conducted. They expect to do it all legally, through fiscal control. The ADA may well bring socialism to the U. S.

Md. U. Offers Free Soil Testing For Home Lawn Care

If you were embarrassed last summer by a scrawny, unsightly lawn, a soil test now can be the key to a lush green landscape and a tickled pink homeowner next spring.

The University of Maryland Soil Testing Laboratory in College Park offers this service free to Maryland residents.

A soil test will show the amounts and kinds of lime and fertilizer needed for your lawn.

Improper fertilizing and liming practices produce lawn problems, say Maryland Cooperative Extension Service specialists, who urge home gardeners to sample their soil before autumn ends.

Fall is the best time to apply lime, if it is needed. And testing now will give you the entire winter to plan a fertilizer program.

For more details on taking soil samples, plus a kit for mailing your sample, contact your county's Cooperative Extension Service office.

Willard Hawkins Civic Club Speaker

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, addressed the Oakland Civic club members on the status of education in the nation in general and in Garrett county specifically.

The luncheon was held Tuesday, November 24, in the Hinebaugh dining room.

Mr. Hawkins stressed the important role education plays in any community and declared the improvement in quality of education, both in personnel and buildings, was reflected in business services and facilities, improvements in church structures, housing, public library and recreational facilities. He suggested that if money allocated for the president's anti- poverty program would be used for education of both youth and adults, the whole area within two decades could be transformed from one of poverty and depressed economic conditions to one of diminishing relief rolls, general prosperity and better living for all.

He emphasized the specific needs of the county school system, naming the need for additional space in classroom, library, shop, laboratory and recreation. He stressed the importance of vocational education, since the system must prepare four-fifths of the students for their life's work, in addition to the other fifth in higher education.

He gave in detail the plans for the immediate future, already publicized in the newspaper. He said also he anticipated the day when a junior college might became a reality in the county.

He concluded: "It has been said that buildings do not make the schools. Good facilities, however, do make better schools, attract better teachers, inspire interested students, and develop civic pride in improved educational opportunities. Good schools make good communities. No community is likely to make any greater progress than the progress it makes in the education of its people. The best investment a community can make for its own welfare is the investment it makes in its educational system". He declared it would be his purpose to continue to work for money for better teachers, for better buildings and for better education for all.

Participating in the opening of the meeting were Mrs. W. W. Grant and Mrs. Stuart Hamill, Sr.

Picture Out Of The Past

About Curiosity, The 1938 Flood, And A Horse Named Gale

By Henry Arnold

There is one definition in the dictionary which may help define this week's Picture Out of the Past. "Curiousity—Desiring to see or know something new or strange, inquisitiveness." This must be the explanation as to why people gather around to watch a fire, a fight, a wreck or some other unusual occurrence.

The group shown today gathered around the corner of Second and Green streets in Oakland is watching a flood—on July 23, 1938, to be exact. When the photo was taken, cleanup crews including members of the local Fire department and boys from the C. C. C. Camp at Swallow Falls had begun their task.

The flood was the most damaging Oakland had experienced up until that time. Without warning, Wilson Creek overflowed its banks, swirled down Third street, pouring into Green, Second and Liberty. At this corner water reached a depth of five feet, backing up as far on Liberty street as Ralph Pritts Garage, and to the corner of Second and Alder, flooding basements and most of the business places in-between.

Damage was estimated at more than $50,000. The person who took the picture is not known, but probably he was a little curious, too.

It is from the collection of the late Wilbur Davis, and used through courtesy of Charles Davis.

Now We Know His Name

Several weeks ago, a pictured was published showing three young women sitting in a buggy on Third street. At that time the passengers were identified, but little mention was made of the horse.

Now Mrs. Madelein (Hillary) Blamble adds a footnote. She writes:

"I have in my possession a postcard with the same picture, postmarked April 28, 1909, addressed to my sister, Lucile Hilleary, who was in school in Keyser, W. Va.

"The message on the card reads, 'Dear Lucile, This is a photo of Gale, the new horse I bought for Mama. Love, Papa.'

"My mother's birthday was April 12; their anniversary April 29, so I'm sure 'Gale' was a special gift. I learned to ride on Gale when I was two years old, and she was a family pet until the spring of 1931 when she walked to one of her favorite resting places, lay down and died."

Kickback Charge Is Given Airing At Senate Hearing

Don Reynolds Testifies On Bobby Baker Alleged Transaction

Don B. Reynolds told Senate investigators in Washington on Tuesday that he was the "bag man" in a $25,000 political kickback involving Bobby Baker and Philadelphia contractor Matthew H. McCloskey.

Reynolds, Maryland insurance agent of Silver Spring, and a member of the Youghiogheny Mt. Club corporation in this county, testified at a stormy hearing of the Senate Rules committee that he received $10,000 for his role in what he described as "a coverup" transaction. "It was given to me for being the bag man," he said.

Reynolds took the stand at an open hearing after appearing before the committee in closed session and introducing some new angles into the case which are being kept secret until they have been checked out by committee investigators.

McCloskey, Democratic fund raiser, has denied any knowledge of what Reynolds says was an extra $35,000 payment on the premium of a performance bond. Reynolds said he acted as broker for the bond after McCloskey's firm won the contract for a $17 million District of Columbia stadium.

The charge that $35,000 was added to the bill, and that $25,000 of this was channeled through Baker into the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund was aired in a Senate speech Sept. 1 by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del. The Senate ordered a reopening of the dormant Baker hearings.

Reynolds was the first witness at the reopened inquiry. He testified the arrangements were discussed in his presence by Baker and McCloskey at a 1959 breakfast. Reynolds once was a business partner of Baker, former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority. At one point Reynolds testified Baker told him he'd "better be quiet" about the alleged payoff, quoting Baker as saying "I've talked to Jordan and I have access to what the committee has".

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N. C., committee chairman, broke in angrily and said: "That's a lie. I've never talked to Bobby Baker except when he was appearing as a witness before this committee".

During another exchange Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb. accused L. P. McLendon, special counsel to the committee, of trying to discredit Reynold's testimony. "I'm after the truth", McLendon retorted. Reynolds pulled out a Bible, and opened it, saying: "I refer the committee to read the 32nd verse of St. John and stop using semantics to misinterpret what I say." He referred to "And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

Reynolds protested several times that "You have to understand what I mean inside of me" to understand his testimony.

He said he actually never knew whether any of the $25,000 went into any campaign fund. Although the money originally was described to him as for the presidential fund, he said he understood later that $10,000 of it was to go to "other political funds - or to Bobby".

Reynolds said all the details were handled by Baker who served directly under Lyndon B. Johnson when Johnson was Democratic leader of the Senate.

Reynolds' story of how he added $35,000 to his bill for the premium on the performance bond was included in an affidavit signed by Reynolds last August 18 and placed in the hearing record. It said:

"Some time subsequent to this breakfast meeting which Bobby had arranged with Mr. McCloskey, Bobby telephoned me and told me that I should personally bill Mr. McCloskey and Bobby gave me instructions as to the amount. He said that I should direct the communication marked 'personal and confidential' to Mr. McCloskey. The amount given to me by Bobby was $109,205.60."

Reynolds said this was approximately $35,000 more than McCloskey's firm actually owed. Under instruction from Baker, Reynolds said, he deposited $25,000 in a savings and loan account where "anyone snooping around would have one hell of a time locating it". He said he handed it over to Baker in five cash installments of $5,000 each, after withdrawing it from the account in $100 bills.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Poling, Oakland, announced the engagement of their daughter, Mamie Catherine, to Elmer Leroy Reckart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlus Reckart, Hutton.

Miss Poling is a senior student at Southern High School, Oakland. Mr. Reckart was a 1963 graduate of Southern High School and now employed at the Sterling Processing Plant in Oakland.

A spring wedding is being planned.

Gives Campaign Costs

Royce Hanson, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Sixth district, who was defeated in his bid by incumbent Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., reported that he had received contributions of $38,762 and had expenses of $37,763, leaving him a surplus of $1,019.

Congressman Mathias had previously listed his contributions at $53,822 and expenses of $50,218, a surplus of $3,604.

Hanson's contributions included substantial assistance from labor groups such as COPE.

Democrat Carlton Sickles, who won re-election as congressman-at-large, wound up with a deficit of more than $10,000, spending $51,721 and receiving contributions of only $40,908. He cut the deficit to $3,600 by applying funds left over from the primary campaign.

Maryland Completes Checking the Votes

THE TOWN CRIER

He used to be the bearer of news—both good and bad. And he announced the merchandise available in the various places of business. Newspapers have long since replaced him.

He would cry the hour night and day for he was timekeeper to the town. Clocks and wristwatches crowded him out of our life.

But when he announced the hour he liked to reassure his neighbors: "'Tis three o'clock—and all's well!" Why has no one taken up this function in our modern world?

Probably because no one is certain that all is well. And because merely saying that all is well doesn't calm our fears or lighten our concern.

More and more we are coming to realize that our crucial need is spiritual. Men are seeking truth and power in the faith and worship of our churches. With each passing hour it becomes more evident that all will be well only when ALL discover God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

What Fits Faith?

Lesson for December 6, 1964

Background Scripture: Titus 1:10 through 2:10; 3:1-3, 8b-15.
Devotional Reading: Ephesians 4:1-7.

DOES WHAT a man believes affect his life? The New Testament, at any rate, gives little room to stand for the man whose faith and life are kept in separate compartments. Faith that cannot work out in life, faith that works out in evil living, faith that has no connection with life at all, is not faith in which Jesus or the Apostles would take any interest.

Dr. Foreman

Paul says to his protege Titus, "Teach what befits sound doctrine." We could re-translate that: Teach what sort of person and what sort of living it is, which matches the high truths of Christian belief.

Being what you can be True Christlike goodness is not a ready-made thing the same size and color for everybody. What is good, Christian, for an old lady is not necessarily good for the lady's grandchildren five years old. What is good for the old lady may not be good for a young man. Paul recognizes this. He doesn't want the young preacher Titus to preach to everyone just alike. Be good! When spoken to the older women means don't gossip, don't be an alcoholic. Be good! to older men means be serious, be sensible. (Remarkable how sensible Paul is himself — elsewhere he speaks of faith, hope and love, but not here. To older men he speaks of faith, love and steadfastness. Older men have no great hopes; but they can still be steadfast!) Be good! to a young man means: Control yourself. Paul seems to be saying not only "Be what you can be — the best you can be"; but also, "Be what you can be, you and not somebody else."

Be what you need to be

We have only to turn Paul's advice inside out to see how wise it is. What must we think of an older women who is irreverent, a slanderer and a slave to drink? Paul wants Titus to urge (in his preaching and otherwise too, no doubt) the older women to just that kind of behavior which they of all people need to show. Or take the young men, for example. The commands or advice which Paul gives are not easy, and the short command he gives young men is perhaps hardest of all: Control yourselves. Youth is the hardest time in life to practice self-control; but if it is not learned then, it may never be learned. Once this writer had the exciting opportunity of speaking to about 400 men, all prisoners in the same great jail in New England. What struck the speaker was the fact that almost every man there was young, the average about 19 or 20 years old. Furthermore, their crimes and misdemeanors were mostly the kind of thing done on the spur of the minute, in a fit of emotion. Older men make careful criminals. These young men were too young to be cautious. But they needed self-control to be good citizens; and self-control was just what they didn't have. We would all love to control money, the lives of others, political movements, public opinion . . . we all want to control. But the hardest and most important thing is controlling yourself. Be what you need to be!

Adorning the doctrine

The congregations Titus would preach to had many slaves. They would no doubt think: It's all very well for your preacher to tell us what we ought to do. But I'm a slave. I'm at the bottom of the pile. I can't call my time my own. I can't call myself my own. I do what I have to do. I have no choice. Well, Paul has a word for these poor men too. Be a Christian in the things you have to do. Even a slave can be honest. Even a slave can be obedient. Even a slave can show respect, he can give satisfaction to the man who paid good money for him. There is a more and a less Christian way of doing even the things you have to do or else . . . There is a more and a less Christian way of performing the simplest acts such as sweeping the floor or pruning a tree.

Argument Favoring Doe Season Given

Arguments favoring the antlerless deer season have been published by Tom Cofield, outdoor editor for the Hearst papers in Baltimore and Washington.

He said opponents of the two-day doe season claim it would seriously deplete the whole deer population in Western Maryland; this in spite of the declaration of the State Game and Inland Fish commission to the contrary.

He said: "Since Arizona began its 'any deer' seasons, the number of bucks taken by hunters had nearly trebled, proving that a population increase has taken place.

"In Montana an increase of 300 percent was noted in the total deer harvest during the first five years after that state permitted deer of either sex to be hunted. The kill of bucks during the same period rose from 39,000 to 90,000.

"While it may seem strange to argue that more hunting pressure will increase deer populations, experiences in other deer states offer ample proof that it does.

"Right here in Eastern Shore counties where the game department had a free hand without interference from self-styled experts, the deer herds have grown to the point where a two-deer limit was given to Dorchester county. In other Eastern shore counties the herds have more than quadrupled in the past ten years."

But Garrett countians continue to keep their land posted, for the most part leaving just the 75,000 acres of state-owned lands in the county for deer hunting purposes.

Gentlemen:

We have examined the statements of income collected and expenses disbursed of the Garrett County Board of Education for the year ended June 30, 1964. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary under the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements and exhibits present the Garrett County Board of Education's cash on hand and in bank at June 30, 1964, and income collected and expenses disbursed by the Board of Education for the year then ended on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

The records of the Board of Education are adequate and are efficiently kept. We had the complete cooperation of your staff in making this and prior audits.

Respectfully submitted,

No. 5342 Equity In The Circuit Court For Garrett County, Maryland

Order of Publication

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree declaring absolute ownership of the coal and other minerals underlying Military Lots Nos. 1324 and 1325 together with all mining rights for mining, removal and marketing of said minerals, to be vested in the complainants and that Fay H. McCoy and/or the unknown Heirs, Devisees and Personal Representatives of Fay H. McCoy be enjoined from asserting any claim to said coal, other minerals and said mining rghts. The Bill states:

That they are in constructive and peaceable possession under color of title of the coal and other minerals underlying Military Lots Nos. 1324 and 1325 together with all mining rights for mining, removal and marketing of said minerals, situate, lying and being in Election District No. 8, Garrett County, Maryland, which was conveyed to the said John Adams and Katherine Adams, his wife, by deed from the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, dated July 11, 1960, and recorded in Liber R.L.D. No. 228, folio 520 &c., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, a certified copy of said deed being filed herewith marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 1" and prayed to be taken as a part hereof; that your orators have endeavored to convey said coal and other minerals together with all mining rights for mining, removal and marketing of said minerals, but prospective purchasers therefor have denied and disputed the title of your orators; that the coal and other minerals underlying Military Lot No. 1324 and Military Lot No. 1325 was conveyed by the Rees Company, George S. Rees and Eugenia F. Rees, his wife, to Fay H. McCoy, by deed dated October 28, 1929, and recorded in Liber E.Z.T. No. 100, folio 120, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, a certified copy of said deed being filed herewith marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 2" and prayed to be taken as a part hereof; that the 100 acres of coal and other minerals underlying Military Lots Nos. 1324 and 1325, together with all mining rights for the mining, removal and marketing of said minerals was sold for the non-payment of State and County taxes by Jesse J. Ashby, Jr., Treasurer of Garrett County, Maryland, in a proceeding filed by him against the Reese Coal Company, as will appear by reference to No. 1302 Miscellaneous Docket, in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, and was sold by the said Treasurer to the County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, on December 29, 1941, and the sale ratified by this Honorable Court on March 6, 1942; that there is no action at law nor any proceeding in Equity pending to enforce or test the validity of the title to said coal and other minerals underlying Military Lots Nos. 1324 and 1325, together with all mining rights for the mining, removal and marketing of said minerals; that the contentions of prospective buyers of said coal and other minerals underlying Military Lots Nos. 1324 and 1325, together with all mining rights for the mining, removal and marketing of said minerals are without merit and constitute a cloud upon the title of your orators; that it is not known whether the said Fay H. McCoy is now living and the Records in the Orphans' Court for Garrett County, Maryland, does not disclose any information in regard thereto.

It is thereupon ORDERED this 17th day of November, 1964, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 11th day of December, 1964, giving notice to Fay H. Notice of Enactment of Charter Amendment Resolution For The Town of Mt. Lake Park

Charter Amendment Resolution No. 1 of the Mayor and Council of the Town of Mt. Lake Park, titled "A Resolution to repeal and re-enact Sections 410 through 427 of the Code of the Public Local Laws of Garrett County (Everstine's 1957 edition being Chapter 507 of the Code of Public Local Laws of Maryland), titled "Mt. Lake Park', the said Sections being the Charter of the Town of Mt. Lake Park", was passed on November 5, 1964, pursuant to the authority of Article XI-E of the Constitution of the State of Maryland and Article 23A and Article 23B of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1957 edition, as amended), to repeal the present Charter of the Town of Mt. Lake Park as contained in Sections 410 through 427 of the Code of Public Local Laws of Garrett County, (Everstine's 1957 edition) and to enact in lieu thereof the municipal corporation charter contained in Article 23B of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1957 edition, as amended), title "Municipal Corporation Charter", with the following exceptions:

Whereas the Model Charter provides for a Mayor and five Councilmen elected for four year terms, and a veto power for the Mayor, the new Mt. Lake Park Charter provides for a Mayor and four Councilmen elected for two year terms and the Mayor has the right to vote in lieu of a veto power.

Whereas the Model Charter provides for the publishing of the text of each ordinance and the mechanics for a referendum thereon, the new Mt. Lake Park Charter provides for the publishing of a summary of each ordinance and omits the provisions of a referendum by petition.

Whereas the Model Charter provides for conventions or primary elections the new Mt. Lake Park Charter provides for a convention.

Whereas the Model Charter does not specifically provide for the issuance of bonds, the new Mt. Lake Park Charter provides for the issuance of bonds in accordance with Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland.

Whereas the Model Charter contains detailed provisions concerning a merit system for municipal personnel, the new Mt. Lake Park Charter does not provide for a merit system.

Whereas the Model Charter provides for the salary of the Mayor and Council to be established by ordinance, the new Mt. Lake Park Charter established the salary in the Charter.

Whereas the Model Charter provides that a person need reside in the Town for 6 months in order to become a qualified voter, the new Charter for Mt. Lake Park requires a one year residency in town.

Whereas the Model Charter requires a public hearing on the budget, the new Mt. Lake Park Charter states that the Council may hold a public hearing on the budget.

Whereas the Model Charter provides for specific ordinance governing the welfare of the municipal community, the Mt. Lake Park Charter amends some of these provisions and adds others which have been carried over from already existing town ordinances.

Charter Amendment Resolution No. 1 adopted November 5, 1964, shall become effective on December 15, 1964, unless a proper petition for referendum is filed before December 15, 1964, in accordance with the provision of Section 13, Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1957 edition, as amended).

As used in these regulations, certificate of deposit shall include a time deposit and any other deposit, by whatever name it may be called, on which the association shall directly or indirectly receive any compensation whatsoever therefor in excess of the deposit itself, by way of interest, dividend or otherwise. Demand deposits shall include all other deposits, except certificates of deposit as defined above.

109.72 Deposits Generally

An association shall make its deposits only in a bank or banks whose deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and which bank has its principal office in the State of Maryland or the District of Columbia.

The association shall retain in its portfolio, with respect to each investment in a certificate of deposit, evidence that the certificate is registered. Eighteen Are Killed On State Highways

Eighteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police.

Nine of those killed were drivers; seven were passengers; and one a pedestrian.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in six of the deaths; speed in eight; and "driver error" was present in sixteen of the fatalities.

In commenting on last week's highway toll, Colonel Carey Jarman, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police said: "There was a time when eighteen deaths in one week would have shaken the sensibilities of everyone who could read. If they were caused by an epidemic of contagious disease, all resources would be mobilized to track down and eliminate the culprit.

"This is not the case, apparently, when it comes to highway fatalities", continued Colonel Jarman. "It would appear that we are rapidly building up an immunity to such news items. Certainly the regularity of their publication is extremely monotonous. In 1962 the death toll on Maryland highways was 590; in 1963 it was 596; and so far this year it is 527".

We ask Simca owners:
Why did you trade in your VW for a Simca 1000?

William Botkin, Columbus, Ohio: "On impulse, I took one out for a spin. Was delighted with the way it handled. Much better all around, especially on the turnpikes. My wife liked the all-synchro gearbox. Last week, for the 30th time, I taught a VW humility in the traffic light Grand Prix. Simca's heater—which really heats—is a godsend..."

George Stevens, Martinez, Calif.: "The VW didn't seem to fill the bill for my wife and me. The 1000 is roomier, easier getting in and out of. The day after we bought it, we took a long trip and couldn't have been more delighted with the comfort or the economy..."

Mrs. Audrey Stein—Maplewood, N.J.: "My VW needed a lot of repairs, so naturally the 5-year Simca warranty* looked awfully good to me..."

Larry Drake, Pineville, West Va.: "Extra room, better visibility. It handled better. I've been well satisfied with the change to the 1000..."

Jack White, Albany, Ohio: "I had two VWs. Now I have one, plus your Simca 1000. The 1000 rides smoother. And I get better gas mileage from it. With your warranty* I'm not afraid of an engine bill using up all the money I've saved on gas..."

THE REPUBLICAN

Unifying the Party . . . .

Republican governors, GOP members of the House and Senate, and other party leaders have been worried about the job of unifying the party and making it strong again for future national elections. Some of these persons want to cast aside those who represented the party in November. They want to completely reorganize the national committee.

The task should not be difficult if the ones who term themselves moderates and liberals would stop the talk that the conservative wing of the party is dead, and would come to some kind of an agreement and admit that Senator Goldwater was not an extremist, that he was not a Fascist nor a Hitler, as people tried to portray him; that he was not one who hated old people and sick people; that he was not one who would let hungry people starve; that he was not trigger happy, but that he was a man dedicated to conservative and constitutional government.

Many of these portrayals of him were first advanced by Republicans themselves who were endeavoring to be named as the GOP standard bearer in the last election. When they did not win, they kept up the charges which the Democrats quickly picked up and used most advantageously throughout the campaign.

Figures now show that 39 percent of the popular vote went to Barry Goldwater, a man who was without a moral blemish, who was a contributor to the work of his church, who was a good employer, a man of conscience and responsibility; that he was outspoken and wanted people to realize that the future

Annual Inspection Of Guard Unit Is Held On Monday

Results Will Not Be Known For Several Weeks, According To Capt. Yost

The annual General Inspection of Company "C", 1st battalion, 115th Armor, National Guard, was held Monday, December 7, at the armory in Oakland. Conducting the inspection was Major Walter V. Kolon, representative of the Inspector General's office, Second Army headquarters, Fort George G. Meade.

Capt. Mahlon Yost explained that the inspection was divided into two phases, an afternoon phase and an evening phase.

During the afternoon phase, administrative, training and maintenance records were inspected, armory was checked and individual lockers were checked for uniformity, cleanliness and serviceability of individual equipment.

During the evening phase first hour an inspection in ranks was conducted during which the inspector checked appearance of individuals, their weapons, and asked questions about assigned duties. The inspector then designated individuals to conduct close order drill with a platoon. Individuals selected were not the ones who usually conduct the drill but were specialists and privates first class. A ten-minute break was then given to permit individuals to talk over any complaints in private. There were no complaints.

The second hour was devoted to instruction. A class on radio communications was presented by PSG Robert M. Landon, and evaluated by the inspector. Key non-commissioned officers then were called into conference to hear the critique of the inspection. Included in the conference were Capt. Yost, company commander; First Sergeant

Theo. Fike Hearing Is Set For Friday

A hearing to determine whether or not Theodore Raymond Fike is a "defective deliquent", will be held in the Circuit Court in Oakland on Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock before a jury. Associate Judge Harold E. Naughton will preside.

Fike was found guilty in the circuit court in December, 1963, of charges of forgery and was sentenced to three years in the Maryland penitentiary. There were six indictments against the man and the sentence of three years in each case was to run concurrently.

He was later sent to the Patuxent Institution for a psychiatric examination and the report was to the effect that the institution believed the man to be a "defective delinquent", and should be committed to the Patuxent Institution. The hearing is now necessary to determine whether the court here agrees with the opinion. Fike has requested a jury trial.

Judge Dismisses Petition In Post Conviction Case

Ernest Wayne Coleman Ordered Returned To Penitentiary

The petition of Ernest Wayne Coleman for a hearing under the post conviction procedures act, was granted and the hearing held on Wednesday, December 2, but Associate Judge Harold E. Naughton, Cumberland, dismissed the petition in an opinion filed in the Circuit court in Oakland on Tuesday, December 8.

Coleman and his brother Ralph E. Coleman had been sentenced last December to serve five years in the Maryland penitentiary on charges of robbery and assault with intent to rob. The two brothers had been picked up by Burley Farmer and were being driven to their home near Kitzmiller, and while in the vicinity of Eagle Rock the brothers robbed and beat Mr. Farmer who was subsequently hospitalized due to injuries. This was last October.

Ralph Coleman was returned to the court the day after sentencing where Judge Stuart Hamill gave him an additional year in the penitentiary for contempt of court, for threatening the prosecuting witness.

It was recommended at the time that the man be transferred to the Patuxent institution for psychiatric examination and evaluation to determine whether or not he was a defective delinquent.

He was returned to Garrett county last July for a hearing to determine whether or not he was a "defective delinquent" and at that time became involved in a disturbance in the county jail which resulted in the prisoner along with two others being charged with the crime of sodomy.

A hearing then confirmed the report that Ralph Edgel Coleman was a defective delinquent and was returned to the Patuxent Institution. It had been incorrectly stated last week that it was Ralph E. Coleman who had filed the petition under the post conviction

Check Endorsement By Local Attorney Aired in Baker Probe

Called To Testify

Mr. Thayer, who was called to testify before the Senate Rules committee in Washington yesterday morning, did not get his hearing until about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was questioned for about five minutes about the endorsement on the check which Reynolds gave him in payment for some Garrett county property. Mr. Thayer returned to his home in Oakland last evening.

The name of Fred Thayer, state's attorney, came up last Thursday during questioning of Don B. Reynolds by the Senate rules committee in connection with the Bobby Baker hearing.

Mr. Thayer, who also has a private law practice, had endorsed a check for $2,000 given him by Mr. Reynolds. Mr. Reynolds had received the check from Rep. John L. McMillan, D-S. C., in partial payment for a Cadillac car. The check endorsed by Mr. Thayer was dated April 14, 1961. The check also had been endorsed by Mr. Reynolds and was drawn on the account of the sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives. Mr. Thayer said the check represented a down payment on some real estate Mr. Reynolds was purchasing in this county. Mr. Thayer said he accepted the check, endorsed it and deposited it in his own personal account in an Oakland bank. The property owner Mr. Thayer was representing in the transaction was then given a $2,000 personal check, according to Mr. Thayer.

Mr. Reynolds, Silver Spring insurance man and county real estate promoter, told the investigating committee he received the check and another one for $3,000 from Rep. McMillan in payment for a car he had purchased for the Congressman. Mr. Reynolds also told the committee that $5,000 he received from McMillan was given to Bobby Baker.

Two Cars Collide

Two cars collided last Friday afternoon near the Mt. Lake Park postoffice, causing extensive damage to the automobiles but no one was seriously hurt.

Lake Park, was heading east on route 135 in a 1962 Volkswagen, while Vincent Schroyer, route 2, Oakland, was traveling west in a 1964 Chevrolet. He said Yeager attempted to turn into the postoffice when he was struck by the other car.

Yeager had a bruise but was not otherwise injured. Trooper Lewis charged him with failing to grant right of way.

620 Deer Killed In 8-Day Season

Change In Hours Listed For Obtaining Permits

Six hundred twenty deer were killed in this county during the state's eight-day open season on bucks, which ended last Saturday evening, according to records compiled at the checking stations. This is 11 above last year's record, but later figures changed last year's total to 637.

This is an unofficial figure and may change when all records are checked. The total compared to 609 last year and 577 in 1962. Garrett county's record kill was 804, reached during the 1960 season which was for a complete six-day season. For the seasons in 1961 and 1962 an extra Saturday was allowed, and last year for the first time the season was extended to nine days. It was reduced to eight this year, along with moving the season to begin the day after Thanksgiving.

For the third straight year more deer were killed in Allegany county than in this county. Allegany's total this year was 770, with a record of 782, set in 1962.

Eastern Shore hunters accounted for more than half of the record 6,188 deer killed during the firearms season. Total kill in the nine Shore counties was 3,312. Dorchester had 1,939 kills but here the shooting of one doe per hunter was permitted in addition to the regular limit of one buck.

Hunters who did not get a deer will have another opportunity if they choose to use it during the special two-day antlerless season which is set for December 18--19 in all counties except Dorchester.

Hours Given For Permits

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, announced that permits for the antlerless season would be issued on Saturday, December 12, from 10 o'clock a. m., through 6 o'clock p. m., instead of 10 a. m. through 9 p. m. as previously stated. This is due to use by the Armory on that date for other purposes. However, permits will be issued on Sunday, December 13, from 10 a. m. through 9 p. m.

Report Station By Station

Here is the report for the four deer checking stations in this county and Westernport, in Allegany county, for Garrett county kills.

Decorations Provide Cheer for Holidays

The annual Christmas decorations for downtown Oakland have been in place for several days and are providing some Christmas cheer for the holiday shoppers.

Oakland merchants and other interested persons have contributed over $1,000 for new ornaments to replace and add to existing decorations. An advertisement in today's issue tells who these contributors are.

The Merchants' committee of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce, with Homer L. Bennett as chairman, began soliciting funds in October. Thirty garlands of ground pine and ornaments were prepared by town employes and were strung by Ace Radio and Electric Service employes.

A nativity scene was scheduled to be erected on the court house lawn to remind people of the true significance of the holiday season.

Solos As Flyer

Marine Aviation Cadet John H. Updyke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. McComas of Fourth and Omar Streets, Oakland, recently flew his first solo flight in the "Mentor" trainer aircraft at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

During primary flight training, he is receiving academic training in communications, navigation, engineering, athletics, aerology and civil air regulations.

Upon completion of this instruction, he will advance to another stage of aviation training.

Garrett National Branch Opening Is Set For December 14

The Garrett National Bank will open its new drive-in branch at the corner of Third and Green in Oakland on Monday, December 14th. The new facility which will feature two drive-in windows and customer parking will supplement the activities of the main office in Oakland. The octagonal shaped structure of cut stone, glass, and redwood was designed by Earl Zepp and built by William A. Shirer, contractors. It is located on the site occupied for many years by City Roller Mills. This newest addition to the Garrett National system brings to four the number of banking outlets operated by the Oakland institution. In July 1963 Garrett National opened a branch in Accident, and in November of the same year opened another in Bloomington.

Spokesmen for the bank said the expansion program was sparked by the continuing upsurge in the county economy, and by confidence in the area's future growth potential. During the two years expansion period the Garrett National assets have increased by nearly four million dollars.

The new Oakland office will provide conventional drive-in services and offer approximately 20 car customer parking in the downtown area. Miss Janey Malcomb, who has been associated with the bank the past four years, will manage the branch.

The continued dumping of garbage at the former city dump along the Youghiogheny river, a mile west of town, was giving the Mayor and City council some problems, even though the place was officially closed last month and arrangements made to use the county dump, some six miles north of Oakland on the Sang Run highway.

The council authorized an advertisement in this week's issue telling the people that the former city dump is closed and that no one is supposed to dump any garbage or trash in that spot.

The city council agreed to pay the county commissioners $500 annually for use of the county dump, and the commissioners agreed to maintain the dump and roadway and keep the road free of snow on days when the dump is used by the city, Thursday and Friday of each week.

There was little additional to discuss at the council's monthly meeting on Monday night. Collections for November were listed at $3,672.13 with $1,408.45 from water accounts, $1,106.49 for taxes and $1,157.19 for miscellaneous. Expenditures amounted to $18,348.16, leaving a balance in the treasury of $10,339.54.

Thomas K. Vance was granted permission to erect a sign 4 by 6, at his store, corner of Third and Green streets.

A letter was noted from two Takeuchi brothers of Japan who planned a two-year motor trip in the United States, which would include a visit to Oakland. It is a friendship exchange project which will start in March, 1965. The brothers plan to visit 1,000 cities.

The contract for construction of the addition to Southern High school was awarded on Tuesday to Lawrence E. Hardesty, Oakland contractor. The bid price was $272,502.

This is for the addition of ten classrooms and a girl's gymnasium, to be built near the northwest edge of the present building. It will be made of brick and paneling, and is scheduled to be ready for occupancy in September.

There were three other bidders. William A. Shirer, Oakland contractor submitted a bid of $309,350; the John I. Vandergrift company, Cumberland, submitted a bid of $351,500, while the George Construction company, also of Cumberland, bid $367,000.

There were four bids for the additional heating plant for the new section and this contract was awarded to the L and Y company of Pinto. The price was $9,400. The George Construction company, the John I. Vandergrift company and Lewis and Burge were the other bidders, running as high as $14,895.

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said the financing would be done through the State School Construction fund and that the money was available. The annex will contain three modern science laboratories plus a language laboratory. Some rooms will be equipped with folding partitions in order to give flexibility in use. Some rooms also will be used for seminar type study.

There are to be four rooms on the second floor of the addition and six rooms plus the girls' gym on the first floor.

Plans for the annex were drawn up by Altman and Altman, architects of Uniontown, Pa. .

Police Probing Mt. Storm Man's Death

West Virginia State police have practically discounted the possibility of foul play in the death of a 47-year-old Mt. Storm man over the week-end.

The body of Joseph Ross was found in his car last Saturday when his wife pulled into the vicinity of a service station near Red House. An autopsy revealed the man died of lacerations of the liver, at first believed to have been inflicted by external blows.

Authorities said the man had been released from Grant county jail only four hours before his death was discovered. He had been arrested on a drunk charge Friday night, at Petersburg, authorities said.

The following day the man was reported to have been involved in an auto accident on U. S. route 50 above Gormania and was thrown from the vehicle, driven by his wife, after it struck a tree.

Authorities said the man somehow had been placed back in the car and his wife drove about 15 miles to the service station in Preston county. Later police were notified that a man was dead in the back seat of the car, and an investigation began. Authorities ordered his autopsy and investigation when the man's wife was unable to remember what had happened in the four hours between his release from jail and his death.

Cpl. R. L. Mozingo of the Kingwood detachment of the West Virginia State police said the investigation was being continued.

Va., was indicted by the grand jury and charged with taking $103 from Mrs. William C. Smith, wife of the proprietor of the restaurant.

Rules Committee Plans More Hearings

The Senate Rules Committee yesterday voted to hold new hearings on Bobby Baker in January and to question resigned White House aid Walter W. Jenkins. But the senators decided to drop the party girl issue raised earlier.

It was not known whether Jenkins would testify in public or in closed session. Jenkins still is under care of doctors.

Early in the Baker inquiry the committee's Democratic majority voted down demands by Republican members to call Jenkins for questioning about testimony relating to the sale of advertising time on an Austin, Tex., television station owned by the Johnson family.

The Republicans wanted to question Jenkins about testimony by Don B. Reynolds, a key witness, that at Jenkins' request he bought advertising time on the television station although he had no use for it. This, Reynolds said, was after he sold life insurance policies to Johnson before Johnson became president. Jenkins has said he had no knowledge of arrangements for purchasing the television time.

The hearings were delayed on Wednesday because it was meeting in a lengthy closed session to discuss fresh evidence ranging from "party girls" to campaign collections. Listed for later public hearings are staff investigator Edward Hugler, Comptroller of the Currency James Saxon and former public relations man Fred Black.

President Is Named For Frostburg State

The Board of Trustees of the Maryland State Colleges today announced the appointment of Dr. John H. Morey of Clinton, New York, as President of Frostburg State College, effective July 1, 1965.

Dr. Morey, 42, is currently a member of the English Department of Hamilton College, Clinton, New York, and has been both teacher and administrator at the College of Wooster, Ohio Wesleyan University, Cornell University, and Hamilton College. His A.M. and Ph.D. were earned at Cornell University, his A.B. at the College of Wooster. Dr. Morey is currently preparing for publication of a revision of his doctoral dissertation, Joseph Conrad and Ford Madox Ford: A Study in Collaboration. Dr. Morey, an Episcopalian, edited The Christian Scholar in the summer of 1960. He is a member of the Modern Language Association, the American Association of University Professors and the National Society for Religion in Higher Education. In 1953, Dr. Morey was elected a Danforth Fellow.

Citing Dr. Morey's broad experience and his distinguished record in the field of higher education, the Board expressed its pleasure in making the appointment and its confidence in Dr. Morey's capacity to lead Frostburg State College through a challenging period of growth and change. William L. Wilson of Cumberland, President of the Board of Trustees, indicated that the choice of Dr. Morey was the culmination of more than a year of searching. "The problem", Mr. Wilson said, "was to find a leader who could win the support of a distinguished faculty, who combined strength with flexibility, who would promote both professional education and the liberal arts, and who would be sensitive to the interdependence of an institution and the community in which it is located. The experience and credentials of Dr. Morey indicate that he can do such a job".

Projections show that Frostburg enrollment will be in excess of 1,600 when Dr. Morey assumes the Presidency and that it will exceed 3,600 by 1975. The nature of its program was broadened by law in 1963 to include development of liberal arts majors, a development which is still under way.

Dr. Morey will succeed Dr. Rudolph S. Bremen, Acting President since 1963.

Dr. Morey's wife is the former Arlene Thompson of Rochester, New York. They have three sons - John, Mark and James, 13, 9, and 3 years of age.

Wrong Road . . .

It is cynically charged that those who oppose fastening Medicare on to the social security system are indifferent to the medical problems of the aged.

That is a cruel and malicious distortion of the fact. The arguments against marrying social security and Medicare—even though in a compromised form—are powerful and are based both on principle and on the irrefutable facts of life.

To begin with, the cost would make it necessary to very greatly increase the social security tax. This would largely offset whatever benefits may come from tax reductions in other areas. And that tax, without Medicare, is periodically being raised now.

The governing principle in any medical aid to the aged program should be need. Medicare via social security would violate that principle—people of large means draw social security payments so long as they don't work at a job.

Another basic principle is that such aid should be administrated locally by local agencies which understand and are close to local problems. That is being done now under a federal-state plan providing a wide range of medical services to the elderly who can't pay for them, which is gaining wider and wider use and acceptance.

Furthermore, surveys have shown that the medical problems of the aged have been greatly exaggerated. Very large numbers of them are now protected by the various voluntary insurance systems. And the medical profession, with the American Medical Association as its spokesman, has pledged that no one need lack medical attention for lack of means.

We want still better medical care for the elderly, and we are getting it. The social security approach is just the wrong road to a desirable goal.

It seems inexcusable to confuse the objectives of the social security law with the medical needs of the aged.—Industrial News Review.

ASK YOUR PHARMACIST

Question

What can an electric toothbrush do that I can't do with my own toothbrush?

Answer

Because of the enormously-increased number of brush strokes, the electric toothbrush cleans your teeth much better than the use of your own toothbrush possibly could. If you're still in doubt, why not ask your dentist about this effective new health and beauty aid. And, don't forget that one power unit serves all your family's brushes.

Recognition Misplaced

Recognition to successful buck hunters was misplaced in two instances, and this newspaper was asked to make corrections.

One error came in the report from Storey's. A three-point, 112-pound buck was reported killed last week by Roland DeWitt, but the name should have been Richard DeWitt of Oakland.

In another instance Gary Bray, of Swanton killed an 8-pt. 135-lb. buck, but his name appeared as Gray Bray.

For first time a Negro was elected head of Tammany Hall, Manhattan's Democratic organization.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
PRESIDENT—NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

Almost like a man out of his time, one not to be forgotten so easily, Herbert Hoover on October 20 left to the nation and the people he served a very great heritage: the example of his life and character, the integrity of moral strength, the value of virtues unchanging amid widespread change, uncertainty, and disquietude. Perhaps no public figure of this generation was reviled more, but like the Perfect Example he reviled not again..

What seemed in 1932 like stolidity and sternness of mien was so easily misread by many, particularly those wanting to misjudge and mislead. Measured against the smiling glamour guys of the New Deal, who were always well-assisted by press agentry, sloganeers and peddlers of pure bunk, he didn't have the vote power. They made it stick that it was a Hoover Depression, and men running for office ever since have promised prosperity, jobs, and more "security" with each passing year. The lessons from history are already tremendous to those willing to learn.

Too few modern leaders on the American scene, unfortunately, are blessed with his Lincolnesque background, self-made experiences and strong religious upbringing. These requisites once helped prepare men suitable for leadership, as well as for posterity. Hoover was the son of an Iowa village blacksmith. Left an orphan at 8 years, at 40 he was a millionaire through his engineering skill and managerial ability. It was enough to permit permanent entry into public service. His conduct of relief operations when World War I broke out made him a world hero. He directed vast rehabilitation programs after World War II at the behest of President Truman.

Nobody in American was better prepared by force of character or strength of ideals or sheer ability to deal with a shattering depression. He was an acknowledged genius at large scale enterprises. But he wanted no direct relief, viewing this as damaging to the whole American concept of government-individual relations. He believed in the prime responsibility of states and communities.

Herbert Hoover's great administrative skill and organizational power, so well complimented by Presidents Truman and Eisenhower in calling him back into public duty, were tremendous. Many of his ideas for reorganizing the federal structure were put to use, although the nation has not yet made full use of his work, as it veered off toward greater federal proliferation. But the quality of the man himself will be remembered longest, as his biographer Louis Lyons has remarked. Those inner and moral qualities: love and compassion for humanity; gentle modesty, honest directness, devotion to principle — all will increase his stature in time.

Dedicating his library at West Branch, Iowa, a little more than two years ago, Mr. Hoover remained the Optimist he was in 1928. There were voices, he said, who proclaim the American Way of life on the decline and fall. "I do not believe it". Citing the "mightiest assurances" of America's future service to mankind as those inner spiritual and intellectual forces that lift us and guide us, he noted that we could continue advancing and adjusting without any help from Karl Marx. "Today the durability of freedom is more secure in America than any place in the world. May God bring you even more great blessings." What a legacy he left us!

Unifying The Party . . .

of this country depended upon getting back to the fundamental principles of our forefathers, which were not particularly horse and buggy principles but merely basic principles based on moral integrity. Those principles do not change through the years.

It was a ridiculous thing for thousands of voters to be hoodwinked into believing that Hubert Humphrey, a former chairman of the Americans for Democratic Action, was more of a conservative than Goldwater and that Goldwater was the radical. People were led astray into believing that a genuine choice for conservatism was not before them.

But the conservative element in the Republican party is still with us, thank heaven, and within the next two years if the number is kept intact and twelve percent more votes obtained, we can still win an election.

But let's clear the air of all the misrepresentations of the last election, each side give a little; then select a dynamic candidate, and decide to back him wholeheartedly in the next election. Then the party will be unified once more. The problem should not be too difficult.

Annual Inspection

Robert Brown, Platoon sergeants Kenneth Metheny and Donald Smith; tank commanders, SSG Harry Miller, SSG George Bishoff and SSG Robert DeWitt; administrative supply technician, SSG Donald Hinebaugh; motor sergeant, SSG Theodore Stocksalger; mess steward, SSG James Weeks; and training NCO, SSG Chester W. Teets.

Capt. Yost said the inspector noted much improvement in the unit since the last IG inspection held last December. He said this would influence the rating which will be revealed when the report is returned from headquarters in four to six weeks. One of three ratings may be received: satisfactory, excellent, or superior. Last year's rating was "satisfactory".

Attending the inspection in official capacity from 1st battalion staff, Cumberland, were Major Morris Paulsgrove, Capt. Norman Messman and Capt. Hobert Andres. Also from the Army advisor's office in Cumberland were Major Paul Osborne and SFC Bernard Henderson.

Yost said there were three recent enlistments in the unit, Kenneth R. Bachtel, Roger P. Rodeheaver and Edward A. Bateman. Enlistments are for six years, 6 months of which will be spent on active duty at a regular army base. They will begin active duty sometime after the first of the year.

Yost also noted that a rating of "excellent" was received on the recent command inspection held at the armory.

Letter to The Editor

To the Editor:

I think it would be wonderful if a good history of Garrett County were written and published.

Possibly the County Commissioners would be willing to underwrite it. You have a fine historical society, and Felix Robinson is eminently qualified to write a history.

The Burton Historical Collection of the Detroit Public Library has an enormous number of county histories, but none of Garrett County.

Parenthetically, I was born in Hutton, lived there 1897-1909 and in Oakland 1909-1911, and attended the old Garrett County High School.

Your truly,

Judge Dismisses

act. It was his brother, Ernest Wayne Coleman. He was represented in court last Wednesday by Jack Turney, who was court appointed.

Judge Naughton recounted the case and pointed out that after having filed a petition for an immediate trial and waiving the right to an indictment, that "Ernest Wayne Coleman was charged on information filed in this court November 27, 1963, on three counts, robbery, assault with intent to rob and assault and battery. Trial was held before the court without jury December 2, 1963. The petitioner was represented by Clarence A. Penman, court appointed counsel".

The petitioner raised three issues: 1, that he was not accorded due process of law and that the court was without jurisdiction to impose a sentence as entered; 2, that although testimony of the complaining witness and of the alleged accomplice exonerated the petitioner of the crime charged, the court proceeded to a verdict against the petitioner and imposed a sentence of five years on each count, to run concurrently; 3, that although the petitioner gave timely notice of his appeal to be tried before a jury he was tried before the court without a jury. Coleman contended the verdict was against the weight of the evidence and testimony; that he was convicted on uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice; that the witness, Ralph E. Coleman, was an incompetent witness and; that there was a variance in the terms of the criminal information which would nullify the said information.

In answering the contentions Judge Naughton said the allegations of the petitioner, without support of any facts, was too general and without merit; his contention that the court was without jurisdiction was unfounded; that the state produced conclusive testimony and documentary evidence which showed that he was represented by competent counsel at the original trial and properly advised of his right to a jury trial and that he freely chose to be tried by the court instead of a jury. He said the allegations remaining were available to the petitioner on appeal and that the post conviction procedure act was not a substitute for remedy available on appeal.

Upon dismissing the petition he ordered the prisoner to be remanded to the Maryland penitentiary.

Many Attend Reception

A large number of friends attended a reception Sunday afternoon in Fellowship hall of St. Paul's Methodist church honoring Mrs. C. N. McIntire, on her 90th birthday anniversary.

Members of the family most of whom now reside in Kensington, who greeted their friends on this occasion, in addition to Mrs. McIntire, were her daughters, Mrs. William Warfield and Mrs. Harold M. Dawson; her two sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl McIntire, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntire, Mrs. Ronald McIntire, Mrs. Vonda McIntire; grandchildren and great grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McIntire and family, Belair; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry McIntire, Mrs. Nancy Bolden and two children, and Robert McIntire, the latter of Crellin. Miss Audrey McIntire, a niece, Elkins, W. Va., also attended.

The reception was in charge of one of the circles of the church. Mrs. McIntire still maintains a home in Oakland but spends part of her time with her children in the Kensington area.

Peck-O'Brien Wedding Solemnized

Miss Carole Ann O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. O'Brien, Swanton, became the bride of Robert A. Peck son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Peck, Oakland Sunday, October 25th at 2:30 in the St. John's Lutheran Church, Meadow Mountain.

The Rev. William E. Carlson of Accident, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar arranged with lighted candles, mums and palms.

Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty presented nuptial selections on the organ and played the traditional wedding marches. She accompanied Mrs. George O'Brien, who sang "Each For The Other" and "O Perfect Love".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of bow-knot Chantilly lace with tapered long sleeves and a scoop neckline. The floor length skirt had a pouied back interest and an acetate peau bow. The bouffant triple tiered ballerina veil of imported illusion fell from a band of sequins and pearls. She carried a white Bible covered with lace and a cascade of pink and white rosebuds centered with a cymbidium orchid. Her only jewelry was a single pearl necklace, a gift of the groom.

Miss Mary Jane Peck, sister of the groom was maid of honor. She was attired in a lavender ballerina length gown, with matching veil. She carried a cascade of white and pink rosebuds.

Gary O'Brien, brother of the bride, served as best man. Thomas O'Brien, brother of the bride, served as acolyte and usher.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. O'Brien chose a Rose L'Aiglon dress with black accessories. The groom's mother chose a blue wool dress with black accessories. Both mothers wore a corsage of a white cymbidium orchid.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at 124 N. Third Street, Oakland. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. The wedding cake was served by Mrs. Elizabeth Shaffer, Deer Park, aunt of the bride, while Mrs. Eleanor Robinson of Silver Spring, sister of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Dorothy Carr, Sang Run, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Peck left for a short trip to Silver Spring.

Mrs. Peck is a 1963 graduate of Southern High School, and is employed at Proudfoot's Oakland Pharmacy. Mr. Peck was graduated from Southern High School in 1958 and served four years in the United States Air Force. He is employed at the Garrett National Bank, Oakland.

The couple is residing at 124. N. Third Street, Oakland.

13 Persons Killed On State Highways

Thirteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police.

Seven of those killed were drivers; four were passengers; and two were pedestrians.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in seven of the deaths; speed in eight; and "driver error" was present in ten of the fatalities.

Commenting on last week's toll Colonel Carey Jarman, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police, said: "The record consistently shows that 'driver error' is a contributing factor in about 80 percent of the fatal accidents on Maryland highways. Day in and day out we see the presence of all kinds of errors - failure to conform to the ordinary rules of the road; failure to observe signs, signals, and markings; and failure to adjust in keeping with changing conditions due to fog, rain, snow, ice, darkness, and road inadequacies."

Harry T. Phoebus, Jr., Crisfield attorney, was named to succeed his father as state senator for Somerset county.

A CALL FOR CATHY

Cathy loves to answer the phone, even though the calls aren't for her.

You can imagine how thrilling this moment was. There was really a call for Cathy.

We watched her shining smile . . . and listened to her shy, awkward replies.

"That was Miss Ferring," she informed us with a slight air of sophistication.

"And who in the world is Miss Ferring?" we asked.

"Oh, she's my Sunday School teacher. I thought you knew—"

A dedicated Christian volunteer was devoting her time and talents to the religious growth of our Cathy—and we didn't even know her name!

We'll remember that call. It brought us to our senses—and to our Church!

Three Friends

Lesson for December 13, 1964

Background Scripture: Philemon.
Devotional Reading: Galatians 3:23-29.

WHO KNOWS how to find the book of Philemon in the Bible? It is one of the shortest "books," less than a page long. Who can name two Bible books that are shorter? Without looking it up, who knows who wrote it, and what it's all about? Well, it's about three men and their strange friendship. Strange because as most people would look at it, they didn't have much in common. One was a slave, one a prisoner (on false charges; the prison was real enough), and one a free man. What was it these three men had in common?

Dr. Foreman

The Thief and the Victim

One of these three was a man of property. He was at least rich enough to own a slave. The rich man was named Philemon, the slave Onesimus. The name was a kind of joke, perhaps, for the word Onesimus in Greek means useful or beneficial. Perhaps Philemon hoped Onesimus lived up to his name. Perhaps he thought — like a modern man who has gone to the wrong used-car dealer — that he had been gypped in the used-slave deal and been stuck with a slave who would never in the world be of any real use. Anyhow, this Onesimus had decided to go to Rome. Naturally he did not consult his master about this. Rome was a long way from Colossae where he lived, so he borrowed the money (again without mentioning it to Philemon). So he became a wanted man; wanted as a runaway slave, wanted as a runaway thief. Somehow or other he got into jail at Rome, probably because he had committed some other illegal act. But in jail, besides all the usual jailbirds, he met a most unusual man named Paul, who "by chance" knew Philemon and perhaps had seen Onesimus loafing about the house. Now the strange thing here is that Paul and the thief Onesimus actually became friends. No less than Paul tried to bring together and reconcile the thief and his victim. What was it that made Paul think he could possibly persuade the two men to live together as brothers?

Take another look at those three men. One of them, to judge from Paul's attitude to him, lived well within the law. You would have been surprised to hear of Philemon in jail. Onesimus was another sort of bird. Finding him in jail was a shock to nobody. He lived outside the law. Neither Philemon nor Onesimus, when you come to think of it, paid much attention to the law. Philemon didn't because he didn't need to. He was already a better man than the law required.

Christ is the answer

At the risk of insulting the readers' intelligence, let us suggest the answer — it is all the same one — to the questions that have been asked. What did these three men have in common? At first, perhaps little. In the end, Christ. They were all three slaves (as Paul would put it) of Christ, they were Christ's men. He is the answer to the question: how can we get over the barriers between man and man, class and class? Again, what made Paul think he could reconcile a thief and his victim? The answer is, Christ had come into the life of Onesimus. He intended to live up to his name. Christ had made a new man of him. Or again: what law is higher than the highest human court of justice? It is the law of Christ, which means the law of love. In this short letter Paul mentions Onesimus about four times, but Christ eleven times. Our human problems would not be wiped out, but we would be on the way to solving them, if Christ were invited into every tense and angry situation.

Another Gift Suggestion From Your Approved "Live Better Electrically" Dealer

Give A FLAMELESS ELECTRIC

For a Christmas gift that will be remembered fondly — but used appreciatively almost every day of the year — think of a Flameless Electric Dishwasher. An average homemaker can save over 190 hours a year by letting Flameless Electricity do the dishwashing. This leaves more time to spend with the family and friends.

And aside from the time and work savings, a dishwasher also permits the sanitation of hotter water than hands can stand. And even if you rent, you can still have your own electric dishwasher. The portable models are easy to use, easy to move, and easy to take with you.

Testimony On Party Girls Included In Senate Probing

Testimony on party girls and payment of fees to ex-senate aide highlighted the testimony in the Senate hearing on the activities of Bobby Baker during hearings after last week's issue of The Republican.

Also there had been some secret testimony given to the Senate Rules committee by Don B. Reynolds that has been turned over to the FBI, to check out any leads.

Reynolds has been a key witness in the current committee investigation of an alleged secret political payoff to the Kennedy-Johnson campaign in 1960.

Baker, 36, is now under investigation by a Federal Grand jury as well as being the central figure in the committee's renewed inquiry into his affairs. Testimony about party girls, pleasure trips and a $5,000 payment to Baker for legal services never used were among highlights of last week's hearings.

Senator Jordan refused to talk about statements Reynolds made before his public testimony. Jordan would say only that there was "new information," and that the committee would proceed after it had been checked.

A New Jersey attorney testified he had paid Baker $5,000 for "legal fees" two days after a maritime bill in which he was interested passed Congress, but he insisted he had "nothing to hide". He denied implications that the funds were payment for Baker's legislative influence.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., after several clashes, walked out on the investigation. Williams had been accused by committee counsel of telling an "unalterable untruth." Williams had said he had given McLendon a lead in the Baker case last week. McLendon denied it.

McLendon was accused by Sen. Curtis, D-Neb., of "impertinence" in questioning Williams' word.

The clash with McLendon came when Williams suggested that the staff of the Rules committee look into other contracts held by the Philadelphia building firm headed by Matthew McCloskey.

McCloskey's firm built the D. C. athletic stadium. Reynolds had testified earlier he was the "bagman" in an alleged deal in which McCloskey overpaid for a performance bond and $25,000 of this was funneled to Baker for the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign.

There also were accounts of several days of "partying" in New Orleans by Bobby Baker, a Puerto Rico businessman and two beauties, blonde Carole Tyler and brunette Ellen Rometsch. A committee investigator, Samuel J. Scott, testified that Paul Aguirre told him that Baker brought his former capitol hill secretary, Miss Tyler, and Mrs. Rometsch to New Orleans on a trip in May, 1963, and that Aguirre acknowledged last February that "he spent several days partying with them in New Orleans but denied going with them to Dallas and Miami".

Scott also quoted Aguirre as saying he loaned Baker $60,000 and took combined pleasure-business trips to California and Las Vegas with him.

Further disclosures were expected in hearings which got under way Tuesday.

Too Much Drive . . .

The Area Redevelopment Administration is an exception to the classic criticism of federal agencies for lacking initiative. ARA has demonstrated that it has plenty of the proverbial drive. The big trouble is that its very push has caused it to overstep its bounds—to the detriment of the taxpayer.

This was disclosed by the General Accounting Office which charged that ARA, seemingly not content to carry out its assigned function of helping economically depressed areas, had spent $7,400,000 in providing aid to "non-depressed" communities.

U. S. Comptroller General Joseph Campbell reported to Congress that $586,000 in ARA funds and $2,734,0000 in accelerated public works funds were evpended in Hawaii County, Hawaii, when that area had a jobless rate of less than 5 per cent and a median family income of $4,866. This was done despite the fact that the aid criteria for unemployment has a floor of 6 per cent and for median family income a ceiling of $3,000. Other violations of the agency's jurisdiction, Mr. Campbell said, included the award of $1,996,000 to three counties in New Hampshire; $1,469,000 to three counties in Vermont and $613,000 to two counties in Delaware.

Could it be that ARA has been unable to find enough troubled areas that qualify for assistance and has decided to reach out for new distribution territory to justify its existence? It seems to us that the Congress should investigate that possibility.—Industrial Press Service.

No. 5342 Equity In The Circuit Court For Garrett County, Maryland

Order of Publication

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree declaring absolute ownership of the coal and other minerals underlying Military Lots Nos. 1324 and 1325 together with all mining rights for mining, removal and marketing of said minerals, to be vested in the complainants and that Fay H. McCoy and/or the unknown Heirs, Devisees and Personal Representatives of Fay H. McCoy be enjoined from asserting any claim to said coal, other minerals and said mining rghts. The Bill states:

That they are in constructive and peaceable possession under color of title of the coal and other minerals underlying Military Lots Nos. 1324 and 1325 together with all mining rights for mining, removal and marketing of said minerals, situate, lying and being in Election District No. 8, Garrett County, Maryland, which was conveyed to the said John Adams and Katherine Adams, his wife, by deed from the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, dated July 11, 1960, and recorded in Liber R.L.D. No. 228, folio 520 &c., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, a certified copy of said deed being filed herewith marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 1" and prayed to be taken as a part hereof; that your orators have endeavored to convey said coal and other minerals together with all mining rights for mining, removal and marketing of said minerals, but prospective purchasers therefor have denied and disputed the title of your orators; that the coal and other minerals underlying Military Lot No. 1324 and Military Lot No. 1325 was conveyed by the Rees Company, George S. Rees and Eugenia F. Rees, his wife, to Fay H. McCoy, by deed dated October 28, 1929, and recorded in Liber E.Z.T. No. 100, folio 120, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, a certified copy of said deed being filed herewith marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 2" and prayed to be taken as a part hereof; that the 100 acres of coal and other minerals underlying Military Lots Nos. 1324 and 1325, together with all mining rights for the mining, removal and marketing of said minerals was sold for the non-payment of State and County taxes by Jesse J. Ashby, Jr., Treasurer of Garrett County, Maryland, in a proceeding filed by him against the Reese Coal Company, as will appear by reference to No. 1302 Miscellaneous Docket, in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, and was sold by the said Treasurer to the County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, on December 29, 1941, and the sale ratified by this Honorable Court on March 6, 1942; that there is no action at law nor any proceeding in Equity pending to enforce or test the validity of the title to said coal and other minerals underlying Military Lots Nos. 1324 and 1325, together with all mining rights for the mining, removal and marketing of said minerals; that the contentions of prospective buyers of said coal and other minerals underlying Military Lots Nos. 1324 and 1325, together with all mining rights for the mining, removal and marketing of said minerals are without merit and constitute a cloud upon the title of your orators; that it is not known whether the said Fay H. McCoy is now living and the Records in the Orphans' Court for Garrett County, Maryland does not disclose any information in regard thereto.

It is thereupon ORDERED this 17th day of November, 1964, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 11th day of December, 1964, giving notice to Fay H. McCoy and/or the unknown Heirs, Devisees and Personal Representatives of Fay H. McCoy, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint and warning them to be and appear in this Court either in person or by solicitor on or before the 12th day of January, 1965, to show cause, if any they may have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

RICHARD L. DAVIS, Clerk

Rice led the Highlanders with 15, Sharps had 13 and Friend notched 10. Each team had a player leave the game on personal fouls, Lancaster for Valley and Shillingburg for Southern. Minnick got five points for Southern while Shillingburg got six.

Valley led throughout the game and hit 27 field goals to 18 for Southern. The Highlanders had the edge in foul shots, making 13 of 22, while Valley had 9 for 19. Valley led at halftime 27 to 16.

Starting lineup for Southern included Friend, Minnick, Shillingburg, Sharps and Rice. Non-scoring substitutes included Briddell, Fike, Lantz, Ruff, Dettmer and Teets. It was the first game for Coach William Watson, who assumed the reins when Carl Schoonover resigned.

Speaking of Labels . . . .

Many well-known writers, professors and commentators would have us believe there are no Communists in America to speak of and no Socialists worth bothering about. There are only "liberals", as opposed to "conservatives."

But what makes a Socialist? Norman Thomas, a sincere socialists, says: "The advocacy of public power does not of itself make a Socialist. . .But, of course, the principle behind public development of power is socialist, and it is rather childish to deny it."

But a great many people do deny it. Likewise they would deny it is socialistic for government to fix wages and prices, or to place controls over business profits. But it is just as childish to deny that these are socialistic as to deny public power is socialistic, and Mr. Thomas, who ought to know, makes that much clear.

Socialism generally has failed to work. That is one reason "liberals" deny that any of their programs are socialistic. Another reason is that Americans do not like socialism, although they can be misled as to what is and what is not socialism.

Government currently is delving into the labeling of consumer products. It ought to be equally concerned about labeling of legislative programs; it ought to call them socialistic when they are—and see whether the American people will go for them when they are correctly labeled.—From a publication of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Robt. Buckel Is Named Top Young Farmer Of Area

Charles Mason, Jr., Oakland, Named Runner-Up In Jaycee Contest

Two young Garrett County farmers were named winner and runner up for "Outstanding Young Farmer," a contest conducted by the Frostburg Jaycees, at an awards affair at Maplehurst Country club on Tuesday evening.

Winner was Robert Buckel, of Bittinger, while Charles Mason, Jr., of Oakland, was named runner-up.

The "Outstanding Young Farmer" program, co-sponsored nationally by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce and the National L-P Gas association, was conducted locally by three sponsoring organizations: Frostburg Jaycees, Cumberland Pargas, Inc., and the Garrett National Bank in Oakland.

The award was presented to a man between 21 and 35 "who displays outstanding achievement and progress on a farm enterprise."

Mr. Buckel and his wife, Phyllis, reside with their two children on a 600 acre farm at Bittinger. The farm operation includes 31 head of dairy cattle with all the crops that Mr. Buckel grows being used to feed his cattle. He recently purchased 500 acres of woodland which has 30,000 pine trees planted on it. He intends to develop this area as a recreational facility with camping and tenting areas for public use.

Mr. Buckel is vice-president of the Garrett County Farm Bureau, a member of the Dairy Herd Improvement association, and a mem-

Firemen Called Twice

Oakland firemen answered two alarms during the week, one Saturday afternoon and one Monday morning.

The Saturday call, about 6:40 p. m., was an assist call from Gorman and the department was dismissed before it arrived at the fire, which was an old barn on the Table Rock-Kempton road.

The firefighters were called to Crellin Monday morning about 10:30 where a mattress was on fire in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bowman, at the old Crellin school building. Firemen pulled the burning mattress from the building. They said the blaze was caused by children playing with matches. There was some smoke damage.

Theodore Fike Ruled Delinquent By Jury

At a appeal hearing last Friday for Theodore Raymond Fike in the Circuit Court in Oakland, a jury found the man to be a defective delinquent and ordered his return to the Patuxent Institution.

Associate Judge Harold E. Naughton presided at the appeal by Fike who had been found guilty last December on charges of forgery on six indictments, and sentenced to three years in the Maryland penitentiary by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill. The sentences were for three years in each of the six cases, the sentences to run concurrently.

He later was sent to Patuxent Institution for a psychiatric examination. A report of the examination was to the effect that Fike was considered a defective delinquent and should be committed to the institution. His appeal was on the basis of the report from the institution and it was necessary that the court or a jury concur in the recommendation before it could become effective.

State's Attorney Fred A. Thayer presented the state's case, calling Dr. Harold Boslow, director of Patuxent Institution as his principal witness. Testifying on behalf of Fike was his own psychiatrist, Dr. David T. Whitcomb, of Hagerstown.

Man With Similar Name Is Unjustly Accused

A man who carries a name similar to one convicted of passing a worthless check last month, was receiving unwarranted castigation along with members of his family in recent days.

There was a Ray C. Elliott, of Kitzmiller, who at a trial before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney on November 17, was found guilty of passing a worthless check. He was sentenced to serve three months in the county jail but was suspended upon the man making restitution.

Now it is being erroneously circulated around town and also at school that the man was Roy Frank Elliott, of Hutton. This Mr. Elliott is employed by Del Builders, and has always been a reliable person, and he is being unjustly pointed out as the person who was convicted.

He came to The Republican office last evening, asking if something could be done to set the record straight. So here it is.

A patrol plane hit a mountain in Kodiak, Alaska, killing 12.

GET YOUR PENCIL SHARPENED—The new drive-in branch of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland, has had a steady stream of visitors since its official opening on Monday, December 14. The photo shows several customers stepping up to the window. Part of the reason may be on account of the opportunity to receive an automatic coffeemaker free. Some 4,000 or more persons in the area were mailed pencil sharpeners. By presenting themselves at the drive-in window any time after the opening hour customers would be furnished a pencil which they would sharpen with the pencil sharpener they received. In a number of pencils there was a rolled up paper instead of lead, in which case the person would receive the coffeemaker. Some 2,000 persons already have appeared and thus far prizes have been awarded to Martha Rexrode, Swanton; Elizabeth Propst, Kitzmiller; Cletus Beckman, Oakland; Leroy A. Friend, Sang Run; Francis Sanders, Mt. Lake Park; Ross Sines, Oakland; Geraldine O'Haver, Mt. Lake Park; La Esta Savage, Mt. Lake Park; Mrs. Robert Weeks, Oakland.

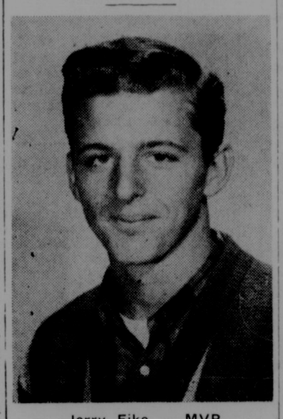
Jerry Fike Named "MVP" on Northern Hi Football Team



Jerry Fike — MVP

Jerry Fike, senior student at Northern High school, was named the most valuable player on this year's undefeated Huskies football team. The selection was made by the newspaper staff of "The Viking".

Fike played four year on the Huskie squad.

As a freshman and sophomore Jerry trained behind Mike Glotfelty for the quarterback position. As a junior he stepped into that position on the first string and became one of the greatest assets of the team.

This year Fike was elected captain of the squad by his fellow teammates. The title alone warrants him the esteem he received throughout the 1964 season from the squad.

This season, however, found Jerry in a different position, once again being a valuable field asset. Turning the quarterbacking over to George Edwards, Jerry became a defensive specialist, playing safety or linebacker as needed.

Coach Jack Lear said of Fike, "He's definitely the team leader. He kept the boys fired up."

29th Division Slated Hi Priority Brigade

The 29th National Guard division of Maryland and Virginia is to be converted into a high priority brigade under the reorganization of reserve forces, it was reported Tuesday in Washington newspapers.

The Washinngton Post said its information came from a confidential memo sent to reserve commanders by Secretary of the Army Stephen Ailes, giving some details of the controversial cutback in the army reserves. Ailes declined to make public his message to reserve commanders, but the Post said it had obtained a copy from other sources. It said the message sought to convince reservists of the necessity for the cutback.

Twenty other low priority divisions of the Guard and reserves also will be converted to high priority brigades, the newspaper said.

The Oakland National Guard unit has received no word about the changes, since the announcement by Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, of the slash in national guard strength.

Under the pentagon plans the 21 Guard and reserve divisions being reduced to brigade status will in effect replace the 16 brigades of the high-priority guard divisions that will be dropped and provide five new independent brigades.

Divisions have an authorized

Little Interest Is Manifested In New Legislation

No More Than Eighteen At Any Meeting Held By Legislators

From the evidence shown at the sparsely attended legislative meetings called by the county's representatives in the General Assembly, citizens appear to be pretty well satisfied with the laws of the land.

There was never more than 18 at any one of the three meetings called by State Senator Spencer W. Graham, to discuss possible legislation with the voters. Meetings were held at Grantsville, Accident and Oakland.

Among the discussions were the desire of some for a county-wide whiskey bill, enforcement of the present liquor laws, the repeal of the doe season and the question of financing an education program.

Mr. Braskey, of Hill Top inn, suggested that liquor licenses be reduced from $800 to $400 and stressed the need for greater enforcement of liquor laws, particularly as related to the sale of liquor to minors. He recommended that licenses be taken immediately from individuals caught selling to minors.

H. D. Swartzentruber mentioned the possibility of raising the fine to compare to cost of licenses.

William Platter discussed the possibility of the county exploring the economic opportunity act.

At the Oakland meeting Harry Lesher, Deer Park, requested a county-wide whiskey law. There was discussion on licenses for junk dealers.

Some discussion also centered on exempting the county from the doe season next year. A letter was read from Gov. Tawes whereby George Shields, state game warden, justified the doe season on the basis of an aerial survey and browse survey, showing that 7,000 deer were in the area with feed for only 6,000, and hoping that doe permits would result in 900 does being killed. The sentiment definitely

Jr. and Sr. Chorus Of Southern High To Present Program

Tuesday, December 22 the Junior and Senior Choruses of Southern will present their annual Christmas program at 8:00 p. m., in the school catetorium.

The Senior Chorus will present solo parts from "The Messiah" by Handel. Also in the program will be choral arrangements of Christmas songs, and several numbers by the Bell Ringers.

The junior chorus presents the first performance in Southern High School of Tschaikovsky's music, a Christmas favorite, "The Nutcracker Suite."

Matinees will be given to students on Wednesday, the last day of school, before Christmas vacation.

The Nutcracker Suite by juniors is the story of a little girl whose favorite toy was a nutcracker carved in the shape of a little man. She dreams that he changes into a handsome prince and takes her to his magic kingdom where all her dolls and toys come to life and dance for her.

The music opens with the overture picturing what is to follow. First is the light dance of the "Sugar Plum Fairies", performed LINE-UP FOR DOE PERMITS—Hunters and property owners lined up early for doe permits which were distributed last Saturday and Sunday at the National Guard armory in Oakland. During the two days exactly 2,000 permits were issued. It was impossible to know just how many were getting permits who did not intend to hunt, but were endeavoring to reduce the number who would be hunting the does.

Game Warden Clears Button Buck Statute

Any button buck with an antler less than three inches will be legal game during the two-day antlerless deer hunting season in Maryland Friday and Saturday, December 18 and 19, according to Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden.

This classification of antlerless deer was stressed by Minke after he had received a number of inquiries during the issuance of permits last Saturday and Sunday for the special hunting days.

Hunters took exactly 2,000 of the 4,000 permits assigned to Garrett county last Saturday and Sunday, according to Leo Friend, game warden here. The 3,500 permits allotted to Allegany county were exhausted by Saturday evening, eleven hours after the issuance began.

The 2,000 permits left over were taken to Allegany county and issued there on Tuesday, Wednesday and today. Persons obtaining the permits, however, will be required to hunt in this county as all permits are stamped with the name of the county in which they are issued.

Mr. Friend said the 2,000th Garrett county permits was issued Sunday evening at 8:59 p. m., just one minute before closing time at the armory in Oakland. Game department officials were on duty there from 10 a. m., to 6 p. m. Saturday, and 10 a. m., to 9 p. m., on Sunday.

Game officials reminded hunters that it would be necessary for hunters killing does must get them checked at the same stations used during the regular buck season. This applied also to property owners who were successful.

Appalachia Counties To Discuss Program

Anticipating early action by the new Congress on legislation offering government aid to economically depressed Appalachia, business, agricultural, civic, labor and government leaders in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties are to meet in Cumberland on Monday, December 21, to formulate and coordinate a program for Western Maryland under the proposed legislation.

Delegate R. Samuel Dillon, Jr., House of Delegates, reported that 250 invitations had been mailed. The meeting will be held at 11 o'clock at the Ali Ghan Shrine club. Dillon said all county and municipal elected officials of the three counties had been invited as were officials of the several state departments which will play major roles in the Appalachia program.

Flying in for the meeting will be Edward Mester, aide to Gov. Tawes; Harry Boswell, chairman of the Economic Development committee; and John L. Sweeney, executive director of the President's Appalachian Regional committee.

Firemen Elect

Alva G. Gortner was re-elected president of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, Inc., at the annual election held Wednesday evening, December 9.

Others named included James Rook, vice-president; Nordeck Shaffer, secretary; Fred A. Thayer, treasurer; Harold Schell, chief; John Sharps, first assistant chief; Eugene Helbig, second assistant chief; Harry Beeghley, captain.

Elected to the standing committee were Grover C. Stemple, Allen Naylor and Allan Murray.

Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, who had been vice president, and Percy Thayer, who had served as secretary, in previous years, asked that they be retired.

Christmas Issue Will Be Out Early

The Republican's Christmas issue will be published early. The issue will be dated Thursday, December 24, but will be published on Wednesday, December 23, in order that the Christmas greetings of our numerous advertisers may be distributed prior to Christmas Eve.

Because of the early date all correspondents are urged to send in their material one day earlier than usual, by Monday, if possible, or not later than Tuesday morning, to insure their publication in the week's issue.

Those desiring to have articles or advertisements published should use the same calendar schedule.

The New Year's issue, however, will be published on Thursday, December 31, and will not require any special date. The usual procedure will prevail in regard to sending in weekly news letters or special articles.

Jail Sentence Totals 75 Days on 5 Charges

A resident of near Grantsville received jail sentences totaling 75 days, in default of $145 in fines, levied against him on five violations, three of them motor vehicle violations and the other two on criminal charges.

He was listed as David Lawrence McKenzie, route 2, Frostburg, who pleaded guilty to all five charges.

On a charge of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor he was fined $100 and costs and in default of payment was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. He was fined $15 and costs for operating a motor vehicle in a reckless manner and got 15 more days in jail in default of payment. On a charge of resisting arrest he received another fine of $15 with 15 days in default of payment. On still another charge, that of assault upon a uniformed officer of the law, he was fined an additional $15, and 15 more days in default of payment.

The officer bringing the charges was Tfc. C. R. Harbaugh. Magistrate Maroney ordered the sentences to run consecutively.

The man also was charged with failing to dim headlights when approaching traffic. He was fined $10 and costs for this but the fine and costs were suspended.

The hearing was conducted Tuesday, the 15th. The violations occurred on December 14.

Injunction Denied But Court Asks Decrease In Noise

Says Stock Yards Should Be Operated As Quietly As Possible

An injunction against Friend Stock Yard sought by Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Weinel, of Accident, was denied, in an opinion filed yesterday in the Circuit Court by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill. The hearing was held December 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Weinel had asked through the court that the Friend Stock Yard business be operated in such a way that it "would not be a nuisance", thus allowing them to get their proper rest and sleep. The Weinels had claimed that odors, dust and the noise of cattle were disturbing and asked that it be abated.

However, Judge Hamill did state that he felt the complainants were entitled to have the stock yard operated in as normal and quiet a manner as possible, and ordered the owners of the stock yard to use "every means within their power to conduct their business as quietly as possible, including instructions to the truckers, farmers, employes and persons in attendance who are at any time outside the building, to refrain from any loud and unnecessary noise; also to undertake any possible structural changes on the barn that would confine the noise inside the barn, and further that all cattle that have not been picked up by 12 o'clock noon the day following the day of sale shall be removed therefrom until such time as they are picked up by respective purchasers, and shall take any and all other steps possible to confine and

Seal Sale Figures Now Total $11,162

Contributions to the annual Christmas Seal sale by the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis association reached $11,162.65 up to last week-end, slightly less than the returns for the same period last year.

Mrs. Dorothy McKenty, executive secretary, said the returns are running $11.34 behind last year's. A breakdown of returns shows that Garrett county residents have contributed $1,386.60 and that Allegany county residents have contributed $9,773.05. The association mailed out reminders this week to persons who have not yet made their returns. Some 23,879 letters with seals were mailed out by the association last month.

Cancellations Increase At Oakland Post Office

A comparison with figures for last year and this show that cancellations at the Oakland post office are increasing substantially.

For the first fifteen days of December cancellations have totaled 114,080 compared to 82,396 for the same period last year, an increase of 31,684. The high day thus far was Tuesday, the fifteenth when 15,040 were totaled. The highest day last year was the 17th when 15,838 were run through the machine.

Guy W. Hinebaugh, postmaster, said incoming mail was also quite large but there was no way of knowing the number of pieces of mail. He said everything was moving smoothly with no back log of letters or packages.

HANDING THEM OUT—Here is an interior view of the National Guard armory where eight officials were engaged for two days in handing out doe permits to hunters who were applying for them. Around the tables, although all cannot be seen, were Leo Friend, game warden; Harland Ream, deputy sheriff; Robert Brown, game warden; Harold Harmon, game reserve manager; Bill Harmon, Game and Inland Fish commission; Cecil Edwards, game commission; James Wilburn, game commission; Francis Ruge, district game warden. Only six were admitted through the door at one time, as a large line had formed outside the armory, all seeking permits.

The American Way

DO WE HAVE THE WILL TO SURVIVE

By Tom Anderson

This letter from a young Communist is an authentic document:

"What seems of 1st importance to you is to me either not desirable or impossible of realization. But there is one thing about which I am in dead earnest—and that is the socialist cause. It is my life, my business, my religion, my hobby, my sweetheart, wife, and mistress, my bread and meat. I work at it in the daytime and dream of it at night. Its hold on me grows, not lessens, as time goes on. I'll be in it the rest of my life. It is my alter-ego. When you think of me, it is necessary to think of socialism as well, because I'm inseparably bound to it.

"Therefore I can't carry on a friendship, a love affair, or even a conversation without relating it to this force which both drives and guides my life. I evaluate people, books, ideas, and notions according to how they affect the socialist cause and by their attitude toward it.

Martyrdom

"I have already been in jail because of my ideas, and if necessary I am ready to go before a firing squad. A certain percentage of us get killed or imprisoned. Even for those who escape harsher ends, life is no bed of roses. A genuine radical lives in virtual poverty. He turns back to the party every penny he makes above what is absolutely necessary to keep him alive. We constantly look for places where the class struggle is the sharpest, exploiting these situations to the limit of their possibilities. We lead strikes. We organize demonstrations. We speak on street corners. We fight cops. We go through trying experiences many times each year which the ordinary man has to face only once or twice in a lifetime.

"And when we're not doing these more exciting things, all our spare time is taken up with dull routine chores, endless leg work, errands, etc., which are inescapably connected with running a live organization.

"Racicals don't have the time or the money for many movies or concerts or T-bone steaks or decent homes and new cars. We've been described as fanatics. We are. Our lives are dominated by one great overshadowing factor—the struggle for socialism.

Cause

"Well, that's what my life is going to be. That's the black side of it. Then there is the other side of it. We Communists have a philosophy of life which no amount of money could buy. We have a cause to fight for, a definite purpose in life. We subordinate our petty personal selves into a great movement of humanity. We have a morale, an esprit de corps such as no capitalist army ever had; we have a code of conduct, a way of life, a devotion to our cause that no religious order can touch. And we are guided not by blind, fanatical faith but by logic and reason, by a never-ending education of study and practice.

"And if our personal lives seem hard or our egos appear to suffer through subordination to the party, then we are adequately compensated by the thought that each of us in his small way helping to contribute something new and true, something better to mankind".

The war for the world is a war between good and evil, freedom and slavery. Whether we win or whether we are enslaved by the criminal Communist conspiracy will be determined by which side has the courage, the morality, and the fanatical zeal necessary to prevail and survive.

Luther Simulated Christmas Scene

Most everyone has heard the story of Martin Luther and the Christmas tree. Luther lived from 1483 to 1546 and, so the story goes, was one night so impressed by the sight of snow-covered evergreens sparkling in the moonlight that he returned to his home and tried to reproduce the memorable scene for his family.

He chose a small evergreen tree and, to simulate the reflections of the starlit heavens, he attached a number of lighted candles.

Christmas trees, of course, did not become popular until years later.

Death Of Joe Ross Under Investigation

Investigation into the death of Joseph Ross, 47, of Mt. Storm, over the week-end of Dec. 5-6, was still continuing by West Virginia police in Preston county where the death occurred, but no results were forthcoming.

Prosecuting Attorney James T. Dailey, Jr., had announced that an autopsy of the body disclosed that Mr. Ross died from a laceration of the liver, apparently resulting from an external blow of some nature, inflicted in a manner presently unknown to investigating officers.

The death of Ross was made known to Preston county law enforcement officers at approximately 2 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 5, when Eva Ross, wife, stopped at White's Truck stop along U. S. route 50 near the Maryland state line, and informed by-standers that her husband, who was the only other occupant of the automobile, was apparently dead.

Initial investigation by the Sheriff's department in Kingwood detachment of state police and coroner Paul Ryan revealed the body was in the back seat of the car operated by his wife and that there was no apparent unnatural cause of death.

The autopsy was performed at WVU medical center at Morgantown. Other findings from the autopsy as to the time which elapsed between the blow or blows resulting in death may be made when laboratory tests and microscopic examinations are completed. There was no report on these examinations up to this morning.

Further investigation by Cpl. R. L. Mozingo and Trooper A. D. Linville, of the state police, following the autopsy findings has revealed that Ross was arrested by Grant county officers near Mt. Storm last Friday night and lodged in the county jail at Petersburg until Saturday morning when his wife posted bail for his release.

Mrs. Ross was unable to tell investigating officers the route followed from Petersburg to Preston county or to account for the activities of the decedent and herself from the time they left Petersburg Saturday morning until the death was discovered that afternoon.

Prosecutor Dailey was continuing his investigation. Dailey said the "time between Ross receiving the injury and his death was estimated to be between one and two hours."

The man was reported around this area to have been involved in an automobile accident on U. S. route 50 above Gormania and was thrown from the vehicle after it struck a tree. Ross suffered a blow at the small of his back, and abrasions of both knees.

Early Cards Bore Familiar Message

Christmas cards were not very popular for some two decades after they first appeared in England, in the 1840's.

Very little is known of the earliest cards, except for two primitive prototypes found in the British Museum. These two bear the same message of peace and good will, which hasn't been improved upon, even in the modern cards we favor today.

Firemen Called Again

There was small damage.

Early Paintings Tell Of Christmas

From earliest times, artists found, in the story of the Nativity and the events surrounding it, a source of inspiration and a challenge to their talents. The Madonna and Child, the Holy Family, the Magi, the manger scene — these are the subjects that have engendered some of the world's most famous paintings.

And, as students of both art and history know, such paintings not only portray a scene, they also tell something of the times in which they were painted.

As the Middle Ages drew to a close and the Renaissance dawned, new light was spreading over the world.

Mid-15th-century artists were turning from theories of painting which depicted more stylized poses and ornate detail, liberally touched with gilt, to an approach which emphasized more realistic, lifelike figures and landscapes, as seen in paintings of humble peasants adoring the Christ Child, true-to-life stable animals and even blacksmiths working in the background of the manger.

In "Adoration of the Magi", a painting by Giovanni de Paolo which is now in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C., the Three Kings are depicted in an elaborate, decorative style. The background of the painting, however, shows a more lifelike interpretation. The landscape of fields dotted with crops, crisscrossed with roads and bathed in sunlight is refreshing—and a treatment new to the times.

Another "The Adoration of the Magi" at the National Gallery is even more indicative of a world in transition. This tondo (circular) painting was begun by one artist, Fra Angelico, and finished by another, Fra Filippi Lippi. The principal part of the painting, attributed to Fra Angelico, has an idealized, other-worldly atmosphere.

Realism appears in the solid, substantial figures of the foreground — typical Renaissance forms, the work of Fra Filippo.

Both of these "Adorations" were painted in tempera on wood. Tempera, a mixture of pigments and dyes with egg yolk to produce a dull finish on a surface prepared with egg white for adhesion, was a common medium for medieval Italian artists.

In "The Nativity", also in the National Gallery, the Flemish artist Petrus Christus used oil paints on wood, thus marking another advance of the early Renaissance. Flemist artists were the first to use oil extensively in painting; formerly, it had been used only in glazes for tempera paintings.

A study of "The Nativity" shows that the figures of Petrus' painting are very natural and realistic. Joseph is an ordinary Flemish peasant, the Christ Child a lifelike newborn Baby. Space perspective, too, begins to show a more realistic treatment.

To achieve greater realism, these 15th century artists became the technicians and scientists of their age. They ground and mixed their own pigments to achieve the colors they wanted. And they carefully observed nature, even undertaking anatomical studies.

Thus, as the darkness of the Middle Ages faded, artists, in more than one way, spread the light of the Renaissance.

AEROSOL AIDS

A variety of aerosol products are available to help with the Christmas decorations. Push-button artificial snow sprays make it easy to put the holiday touch on Christmas trees, windows, wreaths, and table settings.

A clear lacquer spray is also useful. Spray tree ornaments with this type spray and they will acquire a higher gloss and be better protected against breakage.

GIFT TIP

For a new, unique lady's gift, buy a large plastic-covered dish and fill it with cotton powder puffs. Decorate the cover of the dish with a pattern of shells or fish scales dyed pastel colors.

ASK YOUR PHARMACIST

Question

What is this eye disease called "glaucoma"?

Answer

Glaucoma is the condition which results from a greater than normal pressure inside the eyeball. If you are suffering from constant disabling headaches which you assume to be attacks of migraine, please do have your eyes examined by a doctor, and immediately. Blurred vision and intense pain near the eye are symptoms of glaucoma. The pain is always on the same side as the eye which is giving you trouble.

Ideas Vary On Customs Of Yule

Some people enjoy a White Christmas, while some people go swimming or picnicking on December 25. Some people say it's traditional to serve turkey at the holiday feast, while some people favor a Christmas goose and still others contend that carp or fried eel is the very thing for a tasty Yuletide dish.

Around the world, Christmas customs vary, but on one point nearly all are agreed. It's a season to celebrate.

In the United States and Canada, the "melting pot" origins of the population result in a medley of Christmas traditions from all over. Americans and Canadians from Central Europe still prepare their traditional Yuletide foods with carp, while those from Italy might hanker for some Christmas capitoni, made with fried eels.

Especially during a severe winter, residents of the Northern U. S. and Canada would be glad to change places, or at least change weather, with those Australians, South Americans and others who enjoy summer activities at Christmas.

On the other hand, North Americans have made their own contributions to Christmas around the world. For instance, there's Santa, white-bearded and red-suited, who is now replacing St. Nicholas and other Yule gift givers in many countries.

In Greece

Young people of Greece foretell their romantic future at Christmas by tossing olive leaves on the burning Yule log. Tradition decrees that if the leaves, symbolizing the girl and man, curl toward each other, the lovers can expect their happiness to be long-lived.

If the leaves burn apart, their romance may be fraught with difficulties. The best result, however, is if the leaves burn to a crisp. This means their love is deep and all-enduring.

In Japan

December 25 is not a national holiday in Japan, but you'd never know it from the colorful store decorations and the happy squeals of youngsters gifted by "Santa Claus San".

Department stores may have as many as 100 Santas.

Stable Scene Was Idea Of St. Francis

It is said that the Christmas Crib goes back to the year 1223 when, in the small village of Greccio, Italy, St. Francis of Assisi attempted to bring alive the true meaning of Christmas by constructing a crude representation of the stable at Bethlehem, using live animals and real people.

At first confined only to churches, the custom later spread to palaces and homes. Today, Italian families take great pride in preparation of their Christmas Crib.

A Moral Obligation . . .

A Senator recently severely criticized electric utility companies for financially aiding groups which oppose the socialized power movement. He asked, "since when was it the business of an electric light and power company to educate the public?"

This brought an answer from the Indianapolis Star. As an example of what the utilities are up against, it cited the Rural Electrification Administration saying: "There is the little matter for instance, of the REA borrowing money from the government at an interest rate that is two per cent lower than the government must pay for the money, itself. This, over the years, runs into hundreds of millions of dollars that come right straight out of the taxpayer's pockets.

"At the same time, the REA with approximately 1,000 employes and an annual budget in the hundreds of millions of dollars, spends a considerable portion of its time, effort and money propagandizing the glories of government-ownership of power facilities....

"Against the sort of odds that exist today, Senator, the electric light and power companies not only have the right, but a moral obligation, 'to educate the public'."

The taxpaying, investor-owned utilities are constantly engaged in a battle for existence, not only because of the REA program but because of all the other political schemes for putting the government into the commercial power business on a tax-favored, tax-subsidized basis. They present the record—a story of dramatically advancing technology, of ever-improving standards of service, of vast spending of private capital for expansion and betterment, of huge tax payments to government at all levels. And it is a story that all the people of this country are entited to know in these days when hundreds of millions of dollars of tax money are being spent needlessly to provide tax-exempt projects that destroy taxpaying private enterprise.—Industrial News Review.

Judge Hamill at the outset said that "testimony with regard to odors and dust is totally insufficient to justify the court in granting relief for those reasons: however, there is convincing testimony to the effect that there is a certain amount of unnecessary noise that should be eliminated."

He also stated that since there were no zoning laws in the county, that the operation of the stock yard was lawful so long as a public nuisance was not created and provided that the operation was conducted in normal manner for such a business.

Judge Hamill pointed out that in addition to a number of employes and truckers, a large number of farmers from Garrett County and other localities were dependent upon this business for marketing, sale and purchase of live stock and that no such injunction would be granted.

There was testimony during the hearing that there was a lot of loud talking, yelling and racing of motors, in addition to the fact that cattle were left for long periods of time within the stock yard barn and as a result the cattle did a considerable amount of bawling. Blaine Friend had testified that sometimes purchasers bought more than one truckload of cattle and had to make two or more trips to the barn to haul all of them away, which caused some of them to remain there longer than normal.

Clarence Penman represented the Weinels, while Dwight Stover, Oakland, and Gorman Getty, Cumberland, represented the Stock Yard owners.

Judge Hamill ordered that the respondent pay the costs of the proceedings.

was against a doe season.

There was also a unanimous vote in Oakland meeting asking for a buck season to start on Monday.

The formation of a land owners association for legislative procedures was suggested. Also suggested was the idea that the bill be re-introduced giving the county a larger share of forest revenue.

The placing of a county man on the game commission and forest and parks board also was suggested.

John Beachy wanted to know how the county could raise $350,000 for educational improvement by borrowing without raising taxes. There was discussion on vocational shops at the two high schools with more investigation from Montgomery and other counties. It was suggested a study be made on the apprentice training program.

Charley Miller suggested the anti-poverty funds for vocational training be investigated. Elbert Buckel suggested doing away with the Senate altogether and make a unicameral legislature.

Mr. Miller wanted legislation to require the assessment department to notify health department of building permits and that the license not be issued until the health department approved.

Mr. Graham, and the House of Delegates members, Mrs. Martha Glotfelty, Elwood Groves and Elza Bray, expressed their interest in all the discussions. There were no commitments on any of the proposed legislation.

Mt. Top Escapes Extremes In Weather

The Mt. Top in general has escaped the heavy snowfall and extreme cold weather that has been in evidence in many areas of the United States, but was not altogether free.

There was a temperature drop to four above zero yesterday morning, and there was light snow Sunday night and also Tuesday morning. In general however, the week's weather has been comparatively mild with rain, snow and clear skies.

A brief rundown showed rain last Friday with temperatures in the 40's with more rain at night. Rain continued Saturday with the mercury at 49 degrees at noon. Sunday was clear and cold with cloud cover appearing around 4 p. m., and rain turning to snow Sunday evening.

Monday began in the low 20's with the weather clearing and moderating to around 34 degrees. It was 13 above on Tuesday morning with snow. Tuesday night was clear with the thermometer dropping to 4 above early Wednesday. The day was clear with moderating temperatures to 44 degrees. Wednesday night became cloudy and there was rain Thursday morning with temperature at 44 degrees at 11 o'clock today.

GIFT IDEAS

When the Christmas gift list seems to grow and grow, then it becomes necessary to curtail the amount spent for each present. Where children are concerned, a small gift can be made more appealing by decorating the outside of the package with a variety of bright candies and other sweets. Grownups appreciate a package wrapped with special care. And, in the final analysis, it's the idea of being remembered, more than the cost of the gift that is important.

Strip Mine on State Land Gets Approval

The first permit for strip mining on state property in ten years was approved Monday by the Board of Public Works with the condition that the State Forest and Parks commission also approve.

The proposed mining operation is in the Savage River State forest in this county.

William C. Walsh, who represented the applicants for the permit in Annapolis, termed Garrett county an economically distressed area "and this is an effort to try to help the situation." He said the mine would employ about 50 persons in the beginning and could employ more if the operation was expanded.

A discussion of possible effects the strip mining operation would have on the state-owned land precipitated a sharp exchange between Walsh and State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein, one of the three members of the board. At one point Walsh accused Goldstein of taking "an antagonistic view" of the application.

"I came in here with an open mind on this", Goldstein retorted. "I'm just trying to get the facts".

"And we are trying to give them to you", Walsh said. Goldstein said he was wary of the operation because he had seen "the blight that has been left on mother earth by strip mining operations."

He pointed out that there was no active strip mining on state-owned property. "And I think that is a good policy", he said.

Walsh told the board that the land was "not too pleasant looking now" and that the "timber growth is negligible". He said that the Bortz Coal company, which is seeking the permit, had agreed to go farther than the state law requires in filling the cut and replanting the land. State mining officials supported his contentions that the land would actually be improved after the mining operation is completed.

strength of over 14,000 men and brigades 3,000 men. All units now are under strength.

Under the new plan the newspaper said, all of the eight divisions and 16 brigades to be kept would be beefed up in trained manpower and new equipment would be ordered for them.

Lt. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, Maryland's adjutant general, criticized the Department of Defense for announcing the proposed elimination of army reserve forces without consulting others. The 29th division has some 6,000 Marylanders and 3,000 Virginians involved. Its headquarters are at Staunton, Va., home of its commanding officer Maj. Gen. Archibald A. Sproul. Gen. Sproul said he believed there was a good chance the 29th division would not be broken up.

$600 Damage To Pop Truck In Strange Mishap

Some $600 damage was caused to an Orange Crush truck in an unusual accident on Monday.

While parked at the corner of Third and Oak streets the soft drink truck was caught by a heavy equipment truck from Somerset, Pa., as it attempted to turn the corner, smashing the windshield and part of the cab. Fortunately there was no occupant at the time.

Trooper Ronald Lewis, who investigated, charged the driver with operating an over-length vehicle.

Corporal Robert Henline and Sheriff James E. Frantz also investigated a breaking and entering case which occurred last Thursday night at Frantz and Merle, Inc., at Hutton. Entrance to the building was made by breaking down a door, taking the safe outside where it was opened and some $200 in cash stolen. There have been no arrests as yet.

French Observance Features Manger Scene

Many French homes have not only the Christmas tree but as well the traditional Creche, or manger scene, populated with terra cotta figures called santons. Midnight Mass is a tradition with French Catholics and when they return home they take part in the Reveillon, an elaborate feast of many courses. Before retiring, French children place their shoes near the fireplace in anticipation of a visit from "Pere Noel."

It's a good idea to prepare a variety of tasty sandwiches and place them conveniently near the supply of sweets. Adding a variety of fruit is also a good idea.

"Always Finding More Ways To Serve You Better"

Preston Family Is Regional Winner In F. F. B. L. Program

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Lebnick, of Bruceton Mills, Preston county, W. Va., were named the regional winners of the Farming for Better Living program. The award was announced at a regional meeting in Morgantown last Friday noon at a meeting of the Morgantown Chamber of Commerce.

The story of the Lebnick family is an example of how farming brings a better living. Fifteen years ago the family started from scratch in the farming business. At present they have a growing dairy farm with excellent production and a list of satisfying community achievements.

Mr. Lebnick grew up on a dairy farm, carried dairying as a project in FFA, and upon returning from military service he purchased 203 acres of unproductive land in the Glade Farms section near Bruceton Mills.

A new conservation plan was established and they began a program of fertilizing and liming to build fertility. Artificial breeding and culling of non-productive cows were used to bring up the quality of the herd. Now the dairy herd of 34 cows produces an average of over 10,000 pounds of milk per year. Hay production has doubled in the past five years.

Supplemental crops include a 1,000 hen flock producing market eggs, which are sold on retail routes in Morgantown and Uniontown. Five thousand Christmas trees have been set out and are being sheared in preparation for the market.

The dairy herd is being increased to 45. An addition to the barn will provide space for the additional number of milk cows. Added recently were barn gutter cleaners and a silo unloader.

Lebnick, for eleven years a Monongahela Soil Conservation District supervisor, is now chairman. Family activities include membership in North Preston grange, 4-H club, Bruceton P.-T. A. They have three children. Patricia Ann, 17, is class president and reigned this year as Queen Ceres XXIII over the Preston County Buckwheat Festival. They were the Preston county winners in the 1950 contest.

Past regional winners from this county have been Mr. and Mrs. Clark Schlossnagle, Lenwood Bittingers, Ross Crowes, Stanley H. Bakers, Claude Wagners, Jr., while former sweepstakes winners have been Mr. and Mrs. Clark Schlossnagle, Mr. and Mrs. Lenwood Bittinger.

Several members of the FFBL council and the 1964 winners, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn G. Durst, were guests at the banquet in Morgantown.

Palm Tree Favorite In Southern Lands

The palm is a favorite for yuletide decorating in southern climates. In this respect many Southerners are quick to point out that palm was the common tree, not the pine, in Bethlehem where Christ was born

Palm trees are lighted and decorated in much the same manner that Northerners light their outdoor spruces and pines. To avoid damage and accidents lights are usually strung under the midrib of each palm frond, and stars and other ornaments are not attached to new tips or unopened center buds.

149 Woods Fires Burn 1,011 Acres

The four-county Western Maryland district had 149 forest and brush fires thus far this year and they have burned over 1,011 acres, it was reported by W. A. C. Irwin, district director of forests and parks.

The three-month fall controlled burning season ended Tuesday.

During the first half of 1964 there were 63 fires which burned over 260 acres in Garrett, Allegany, Washington and Frederick counties. The record got worse in the last half of the year with 86 fires burning 750 acres.

Two blazes which occurred on successive days, November 13 and 14, were responsible for 616 of the burned acres. The worst was the November 13 fire on Martin Mountain, Allegany county. In that fire 364 acres were burned. The Sidling Hill fire on November 14 burned 252 acres.

Careless smoking was the most frequent cause of the Western Maryland fires this year. Fifty-two blazes which burned 543 acres, were attributed to careless smokers. Railroads were responsible for 34 of the fires but they burned only 69 acres. Debris burning was blamed for 17 fires but they burned only 10 acres. Another 17 were charged to incendiaries and they burned 313 acres. Campers were blamed for three fires but they burned only one acre. Another 26 fires which burned 75 acres were lumped together under a miscellaneous heading.

General Grant Tree Among Most Famous

One of the most most famous Christmas trees is the General Grant tree, located in General Grant National Park, 64 miles east of Fresno, California. This tree was designated the official national Christmas tree for Christmas Day, 1925.

The General Grant tree is estimated to be about 270 feet high and services are held under the tree each year. Due to severe weather conditions usually prevalent in the area, however, the number of visitors is somewhat limited.

No Ruling Given On Appeals Case

The Maryland Court of Appeals took under advisement last Wednesday the case of Dale Junior Knotts, of Benbush, W. Va., who had appealed from a sentence of Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill in the Circuit court in Oakland. No ruling has been announced.

Knotts was arrested last winter shortly after the Chimney Corner restaurant owned by Russell Smith, was held up and robbed of over $100 in cash.

The defendant was taken into custody by State Trooper Ronald Lewis, who stopped Knotts for driving his car with an expired temporary permit. The officer also was on the lookout for a car answering the description of the one driven by Knotts.

Noticing a shotgun in the rear of the auto Trooper Lewis stated in Oakland court last May that he then filed the robbery charge against Knotts.

Mrs. Olive Teets Smith, daughter-in-law of Mr. Smith, and two waitresses were held up by a shotgun-wielding man and ordered to stretch out on the floor. The cash register was cleaned out by the man and he then made his escape.

The case for the state was argued by Robert L. Karwacki, assistant attorney general. Counsel for Knotts was W. Dwight Stover, Oakland attorney, who was appointed by the court to represent the convicted man.

Judge Hamill had sentenced the man to six years in the Maryland penitentiary, on May 6, in the Circuit court. Knotts is 29 years of age.

Engineers Boost Dam On Cheat River

An engineering study which recommends construction of an $86 million dam and reservoir on Cheat river, at Rowlesburg, has been sent to several federal government agencies for their analysis.

The Chief of Army Engineers advanced the study to its next stage by sending copies of the West Virginia Department of Natural Resources, the U. S. Department of the Interior and the Public Health Service.

"I am hopeful that these agencies, which are all concerned with the problems of flood control, water quality, recreation and electrical power, will give their early approval," Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., said.

Byrd said it would be "extremely beneficial" if the plans were ready early next year for submission to Congress, which must give its approval before further steps are taken.

Byrd noted that the Chief of Engineers' report on the plan said:

"The District and Division Engineers find that the Cheat river between Rowlesburg and Parsons should be developed for flood control, hydroelectric power production, water quality control and recreation purposes and that such development is economically justified. The benefit-cost ratio is 2.5 to 1".

Byrd said the engineers place the cost of the structure at $86,604,000, including recreational facilities to cost over $2 million. The cost would be charged entirely to the United States, Byrd said.

Engineers also estimate that another $369,000 would be used annually to maintain and operate the facility.

Of special note was the recommendation that private interests have the opportunity to develop the hydroelectric potential at the dam. It has been estimated that the facility could produce 350,000 kilowatts of power at an initial capital expenditure of $46,646,000 and at an annual maintenance and operation cost of $995,000.

Construction of the dam has been proposed for the Cheat river, one mile south of Rowlesburg. The 9,140-acre reservoir would be located in both Preston and Tucker counties. It would protect a flood basin estimated at 500,000 acres in size and extending downstream from the dam and Monongahela river valley between Point Marion, Pa., and the Ohio river.

Special benefits in the form of flood protection would be experienced by the Rowlesburg area which would have an estimated savings of $24,000 a year in flood damages.

The rock-fill structure would stand 267 feet above the stream bed and measure 1,600 feet in length across the river, the report indicates. It would have a water storage capacity of 831,700 acre-feet of water and a water surface of 9,140 acres to be used for recreational purposes.

Switzerland officially reported 237 people in their nation lacked jobs.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fike, route 2, Oakland, announced the engagement of their daughter, Deanna Lynn, to Edward A. Nacke, of Louisville, Kentucky. He is the son of First Sergeant and Mrs. Albert Nacke who are now stationed in Germany.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Hopemont Hospital Use May Be Altered

Elimination of Hopemont Sanitarium as a tubercular hospital is in the making in West Virginia with patients at the Preston county facility being transferred to Pinecrest Sanitarium in Beckley.

The proposal will be submitted to the West Virginia legislature by the Board of Public Works.

The change would allow the establishment of a personal care type institution or hospital for chronically ill at Hopemont, according to Chauncey Browning, Jr., public works official.

Browning pointed out that the change would be recommended due to the fact that both institutions are now operating with only about a fifty percent capacity.

Hopemont is located just about four miles west of the Maryland-West Virginia state boundary.

Maryland's guard unit, 29th division, was set to be abolished.

Those sentimental serials which accompany many a housewife's daily chores have made an important contribution to our culture. They keep us mindful of the complications of living.

You can't follow a fictional family over an obstacle course of crises without realizing that your own family, too, has its ups and downs.

Elementary in this century is the fact that life can be—but ordinarily is not —beautiful!

We live in a time that requires serious planning of our todays and tomorrows. We ought especially to be concerned for our family's spiritual fibre . . . for the unfolding character of our children . . . for the religious resources with which coming crises will be met.

The Church offers opportunity and inspiration in our quest of the lofty ideals of the Christian faith. The most important decision a family can make is to seek its finest aspirations through worship, religious study, and sacrificial service.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

"God With Us"

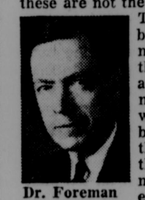
Background Reading: Matthew 1.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 40:1-5.

WHAT DO WE SEE most at Christmas? A fat "saint" who probably never lived; babies; manger scenes; sleighs (who sees real ones any more?), wreaths and poinsettias. But these are not the real Christmas.



Dr. Foreman

The day is a birthday. Never mind the fact that the date is almost certainly not the date on which Jesus was born; granted that the date and the festival were not specially noted until about three hundred years later. The fact is, this is the day now marked off by the church as an annual celebration of the birth of our Lord. It is not meant to be a day for glamorizing motherhood or babyhood; not a day best celebrated in department stores. Santa Claus will do as a happy make-believe; but Santa is not the meaning of the day. If we celebrate it as the Lord's birthday, we may well say we are at the same time celebrating the birthday of the world.

The two names of Jesus

We can put together two sentences about the name of Jesus. When a baby is born, visitors who come to admire ask as a first question: What do you think you'll name her (or him)? The baby born at Bethlehem, whatever the year, whatever the weather, had been named before he was born. It's a very interesting thing Matthew says here. The child is to be called Jesus, the angel told Joseph; and Matthew comments that this fulfills a prophecy which says plainly that his name shall be called Emmanuel. So far as the New Testament goes, no one actually called Jesus Emmanuel. The family did not, his mother did not, the writers of the New Testament generally use other ways of speaking of him. Every reader is entitled to his own guess as to why this was, and why Matthew sees in "Jesus" the fulfilling of the prophecy that his name would be called Emmanuel. (Immanuel is, of course, just another spelling, meaning the same thing exactly, God with us.) The guess ventured here is this: Jesus was so to speak his public name; Emmanuel was a private name (even Jesus never used it) — one might say God's name for his son; we might say that the private name explains the public name.

Name of an Army man

Nobody in Jesus' time could have been surprised by the name he bore. No doubt many boys had the same. Just as boys to this day are named for George Washington and Robert E. Lee, so boys in those days were named now and then for Joshua, the famous army man, one of Israel's heroes in her hall of fame. The name Jesus and the name Joshua are just the same in Hebrew, Jesus' own language. The name means deliverer, rescuer, one who comes to the help of those in distress. The name has also a tinge of triumph about it. It means a conquering hero, one who delivers by beating down the enemy. The name would suggest something like a gallant knight of feudal times, his sword unsheathed for the defense of the weak and helpless, rescuing prisoners from dungeons. In olden times men had given the name "Messiah" to the hoped-for Deliverer; and the language of many of the prophets used had led people to think the Coming One would be a great military man, saving the Jews from the Greeks or the Romans as the case might be. But the name Jesus was never taken by Jesus in a military way. He raised no army, would not accept even an army of angels if it were offered him. Jesus' enemy was not the Roman empire, not Pilate, not Herod. It was Evil in every form, it was most of all Sin. Sin is the worst tyrant that ever choked the life out of men who should be free. Every time we hear the name Jesus, we are meant to think of him as the deliverer from sin.

Excerpts From "THE TRUTH CRUSADER"

All animal fats when heated contain much cholestrol that hardens the arteries and causes gall stones, heart diseases, blood clots and paralysis. Heart disease increases in exact ratio to increased consumption of animal fats. We Americans consume more saturated fats than any other nation on earth. And we have more heart trouble than any other nation. Japan's diet is 8% fat. Our diet is 40% fat. Our death rate from heart disease per thousand is exactly ten times that of Japan. Italy's food is 20% fat. Ours is 40% fat. Our heart fatalities per thousand are four times that of Italy.

FACTS ABOUT ENZYMES: The body needs about 700 enzymes. A lack of enzymes interferes with vital body metabolism and may cause illness or death. Each enzyme has its own peculiar function and sphere of action. If the body always had sufficient of the necessary enzymes there would probably be very little if any illness. No processed or refined or cooked food contains any enzymes. We get enzymes from raw fruits, vegetables, salads, brewer's yeast and raw wheat germ. The toasted wheat germ has no enzymes. And please always remember that you cannot have healthy functioning enzymes unless you have in your body a sufficient amount of all the vitamins outlined in the last issue of The Truth Crusader...No chain is any stronger than its weakest link.

A tablespoon of HONEY in a cup of hot water is the quickest known restorer and reviver and strength-giver for a weak, faint, exhausted, famished, fatigued person. Honey is an excellent source of valuable minerals and vitamins. It is a wonderful laxative and body cleanser. Most cough medicines are injurious, but honey and lemon juice mixed, makes a safe, highly effective, inexpensive cough medicine.

THE TRUTH CRUSADER is an independent, quarterly, Christian health publication. No church or denomination is in any way involved in or responsible for its publication. It is dedicated to the harmonization and dissemination of Biblical and scientific truth and the deliverance of mankind from the shackles of sin, sickness, injurious habits, poisoned foods and the mass consciousness created by misleading advertising propaganda and commercial exploitation. Is Your Name MARONEY?

Do You Know That:

Maroney, an old and honored surname, is of Irish origin. It is the equivalent of Moroney and Mulroney and, according to authorities, is obtained from the Gaelic "maol" and "ruanaac" which mean respectively "chief" and "hairy". The Maroney and associated families lived in Fermanagh, Galway, Clare and Limerick Counties, Ireland prior to the 13th century and their coat-of-arms bore the motto "Always Faithful To My Friends".

Philip Maroney (1736-1830) was captain of Maryland troops during the Revolutionary War. He was born in Ireland and died in Greenville, South Carolina.

According to the Fifth Series of the Pennsylvania Archives, James Maroney and Thomas Maroney served in the Pennsylvania militia at the time of the Revolutionary War.

John Maroney (1894-1959) of Darien, Connecticut was a distinguished actor who appeared on Broadway in a number of plays. He was a graduate of Cornell University Law School but soon turned from the legal profession to that of acting.

Frederick W. Maroney (1885-1958) was professor and chairman of the Department of Health and Physical Education for Men at Brooklyn (N. Y.) College and also served for a number of years as Dean of Students of the college. He achieved national recognition in his field and was president, American Physical Education Association from 1928 to 1930. He was the recipient of the degree of Doctor of Medicine from Tufts University and served as lieutenant, U. S. Army Medical Corps during the First World War. Dr. Maroney was the author of numerous books on physical education and lectured extensively on the subject.

Thomas Maroney (1905-1960) was captain of police, Elizabeth, New Jersey.

William Maroney joined the faculty of the University of San Francisco in 1936 as an instructor of chemistry, advanced steadily through the teaching ranks of the university, and is now professor and chairman of the department of chemistry.

Samuel Patterson Maroney, Jr., is associate professor of biology at the University of Virginia.

OUR DECEMBER "STOCK-OF-THE-MONTH"
This company is the largest of the three small plane manufacturers and has completed its best year since 1959. Sales for the year ending September 30, 1964, are over 20% ahead of 1963; while earnings per share have advanced more than 45%. Results in the current fiscal year indicate another 20% increase in per share earnings may be achieved. This aggressive company now has over 600 dealers here and abroad and plans to add at least another 125 in this fiscal year.
Considering its strong industry position, excellent management and strong finances, the company, at under 12 times estimated 1965 earnings, appears to be an attractive commitment for capital gains. With earnings in a strong uptrend, some liberalization of the dividend would seem a reasonable expectation.

The twenty-first annual Candlelight Service will be presented Sunday evening. Again this year the Candlelight Service will be presented twice: at 5:30 p. m. and at 8:00 p. m., because the Service has proved popular, and has outgrown the size of the sanctuary.

Christmas will be observed at St. Peter's in Oakland with a sung mass beginning 12 o'clock midnight, Thursday, December 24, the first time a sung mass will be celebrated with the Proper and Ordinary parts of the Mass in English instead of traditional Latin. It also will be the first time that the congregation will participate in the singing of the mass. The choir of the church will present a program of Christmas carols prior to the beginning of the mass.

Low masses will be offered on Christmas day, 7, 8, 9 and 10 a. m. Confessions will be heard from 5 to 6 p. m., and also at 7:30 and 11. Confessions also will be heard before the masses on Christmas day.

The Rev. Fr. Joseph Gaubinger, Holy Cross Father, will assist with confessions and other services.

At the Immaculate Conception church in Kitzmiller there will be a low mass with congregational participation, at midnight, December 24. Confessions will be heard before the mass.

The annual Christmas Service of the Church of the Nazarene, at Eight and Alder, will be held at 7:00 p. m., Sunday, December 20th. Call Them What They Are

By Thurman Sensing
Executive Vice President
Southern States Industrial Council

It was reported a few years ago that Norman Thomas, veteran socialist leader who ran in six presidential elections as the Socialist Party candidate, had stated that he would no longer make the race. He gave as his reason the fact that the Democratic Party had included in its platform the entire socialist welfare program that the Socialist Party had espoused over the years and that there was, therefore, no need for him to make the race.

It is to be imagined, too, that the cooperation extended by many of the so-called Modern Republicans in the passage of much of the welfare state program pushed by the Democrats had considerable influence in helping Mr. Thomas reach such a decision.

What this country has desperately needed for many years is a strong two-party system, not two parties in name only, as has been the case for so long, but two parties that give the people a real choice. The first big step toward that objective was taken this fall, when the Democratic Party presented, as usual, a liberal platform and the Republican Party presented, not a me-too platform but a real conservative platform. We must maintain that choice if we want to remain a free people in a free nation, because otherwise we would devolve into a one-party nation—and nothing would more quickly destroy our freedom.

Moreover, when we attain this realignment of parties, with their entirely differing philosophies, we should call the parties by their real names — Socialist and Conservative. We ought to be at least as honest on that score as are the British. While not agreeing with them in any respect, one can have a certain amount of respect for people who believe in socialism and who openly advocate socialism as the best form of government for a nation. On the other hand, one can have no respect for those who believe in socialism but will not admit openly that they believe in it, who try to hide their socialist philosophy behind a false facade.

Khrushchev is reported to have said in a speech shortly before he came over here as a guest of this country, "Americans will not accept socialism under that name, but they will accept it and are accepting it under different guises, until they will some day wake up and find they have socialism." How true, how true!

But now many of these socialist wolves disguised in liberal clothing had just as well come out in the open, and admit that what they are working for is a socialist nation. Something has now happened that very clearly portrays this.

An 80th birthday party was held December 6, for Norman Thomas in the Astor Hotel, New York City, where nearly 2,000 persons packed the ballroom, according to an AP dispatch, "paying $2.50 each for coffee, a Danish Pastry, and a handshake from Norman Thomas."

The AP story further stated, "The occasion was marked by a warm message from vice president-elect Hubert Humphrey . . ." His message said, "No fundamental problem of politics, no issue of social justice escaped his critical eye and cogent comment."

Prior to this occasion, a letter was sent out in October, under the heading "Norman Thomas 80th Birthday Committee" and signed by A. Philip Randoph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, stating "...because Norman Thomas continues to carry on his fight for a better world, we want to help him serve with maximum effectiveness those causes he untiringly supports. We are collecting a fund to present to him, for him to spend as he wills..." It should be noted that the "better world" referred to in this letter is a socialist world.

On the back of this letter were printed the names of several hundred sponsors, including 5 U. S. Senators and 3 U. S. Representatives, and other well-known figures such as Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., Paul G. Hoffmann, Walter Reuther, James G. Patton, and Martin Luther King, to mention a few.

All these sponsors and contributors and well-wishers, including vice president-elect Humphrey, would have vigorously denied over the years, and would still deny, that they are socialists. That won't work any longer; they have clearly defined themselves as believers in the socialist philosophy. So hereafter, why gloss over the description of such people by using the term "liberal"; why not call them wha they are - socialists?

Maybe we shall before long realize that the struggle in this country is not between Democrats and Republicans, as such, but that it is between socialists and conservatives. The sooner we do realize it, the better.

Features of Farm Bureau Federation Meeting Recounted

The Garrett County Farm Bureau was represented at the 46th annual meeting of the Farm Bureau Federation held in Philadelphia, Pa., December 6 to 10.

Attending the sessions were B. O. Aiken, president of the local bureau; Mrs. Aiken, president of the county's farm bureau women; and Mrs. Orval C. Glotfelty, vice-president of the Maryland farm bureau women. They were among the nearly 5,000 people who participated from every state in the union.

A complete report of the convention activities was outlined by Mr. Aiken, for the benefit of the farm bureau members in this county and for others interested in their program.

Theme of the meeting was a statement by Benjamin Franklin in answer to a lady's question about America's kind of government. He said, "A Republic, if you can keep it." All activities centered around this theme.

Opening the convention was a Vesper service Sunday afternoon at 3 with an address, "Heritage Hopes", by Dr. Robert Varley, followed by a candlelighting service in which each state and Puerto Rico were represented.

In the Monday morning address of Charles B. Shuman, president of the Farm Bureau, it was pointed out that government tinkering with agriculture had hurt more than it had helped. He advocated a return to the free market system and emphasized that if we wished to keep our republic "we must preserve our freedoms." He warned of dangers of the Supreme Court decision ordering state legislatures to base representation in both houses on a population basis.

Governor William Scranton on Tuesday morning welcomed the group to Pennsylvania and praised the good work of the Farm Bureau Federation. U. S. Senator Allen J. Ellender from Louisiana spoke chiefly on cotton and tobacco problems.

Roger B. Fleming, secretary-treasurer of the federation, gave his report Tuesday afternoon and presented service awards to four outstanding farm families. Mr. Fleming was the 1963 speaker at the county farm bureau meeting.

At the close of his remarks a historical pageant, "The Spirit of Farm Bureau," was presented, in the form of a sound movie.

There were two speakers Wednesday. Lewis Powell, Jr., president of the American Bar association spoke on the increase in the crime rate in America and the tendency toward mob violence. He pointed out that even in rural areas crime was increasing at a 7 percent rate. He felt farm families and all farm organizations should play a part in helping to prevent this growth of crime in rural America.

U. S. Senator George D. Aiken, Vermont, spoke on the recent division of the Supreme Court concerning reapportionment and changes in representation of state legislatures. He showed how rural America would suffer if states were forced to apportion their senates on a population basis. He pointed out how taxes would tend to fall more heavily upon rural areas; that money for roads would go more and more to suburban areas and state aid to rural schools greatly reduced.

In addition to the various addresses the delegates also were entertained by professional singers, by boys and girls from various states who had participated in talent contests sponsored by the Farm Bureau. There was also a tour of historical spots in the Philadelphia area.

Mr. Aiken said the number of farm families belonging to the American Farm Bureau Federation was 1,647,455, and that the organization was growing rapidly in spite of the decline in number of persons engaged in farming. The gain in membership in 1964 was 19,160.

Thirteen Are Killed On State Highways

Thirteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police.

Three of those killed were drivers; five were passengers; and five were pedestrians.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in five of the deaths; speed in six; and "driver error" was present in ten of the fatalities.

"All but two of last week's thirteen highway fatalities occurred during hours of darkness," commented Colonel Carey Jarman, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police. "Nighttime driving under the best conditions is a hazardous operation. When those conditions include a heavy fog, such as we have experienced lately, the stage is set for difficulty and it points clearly to the responsibility of the driver to adjust adequately to the existing weather conditions."

Huskies End Losing Streak; Win 67-61

It had to happen sooner or later and Tuesday night it did. Northern High school's Huskies ended its 22-game losing streak by defeating Salisbury High at the latter place. The final score was 67-61.

The Huskies, in their third start of the season, led from the beginning of the contest, piling up 14-11, 33-26 and 49-41 at the quarters.

Roy Sexton led the Northern attack with 17 points while Denny George had 14, George Edwards had 11 and Ohlen gathered in 10 points.

For the losers, who had beaten Northern just last week-end Gene Wengard tallied 28, Barry Schrock came through with 12 and Terry Grew had ten.

McGraw had 9 points and Frickey 6, to round out the Northern High scoring. Hawks and Friend did not score. For Salisbury D. Robertson had 6, Cook 3 and Gaumer 2. The Huskies had a 29-22 edge in field goals, while Salisbury led in foul shooting with 17 of 26 attempts Northern got 9 of 18.

Bayard Tops Bruce Bulldogs 67 to 58

Scoring 29 points on 14 field goals and one for two from the foul line, Ted Moreland led Bayard High in its third win without a loss Tuesday night as his team edged previously unbeaten Bruce High 67 to 58. The game was played at Bayard.

For Bayard it was the second Potomac Valley conference win, while Bruce evened its PVC slate at 1-1 and dropped its overall mark to 2-1.

Tom Moran's ten field goals gave Bruce 20 of its points while Jack McIntyre had 16 and Biggs added 11. Tom Kessel and Jim Collette each had a dozen for Bayard with Ed Shaffer throwing through another ten points.

Bayard led at the end of every quarter as its 17-10 first quarter lead held up for the victory.

The home team out-gunned Bruce 30-22 from the floor but was on the short end of a 14-7 foul goal comparison.

Bayard held a 17-point advantage at the end of the third period but was outpointed in the final frame 21 to 13. It still left Bruce nine points short.

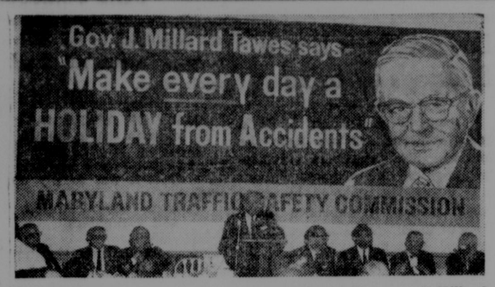
The GARRETT NATIONAL BANK IN OAKLAND

OAKLAND — ACCIDENT — BLOOMINGTON

"The Bank with an EYE to YOUR Future"



"Make every day a holiday from accidents," Governor J. Millard Tawes urges the citizens of Maryland. "Safety is a way of life, not only on holidays or weekends, but every day of the year."

One of the most tragic aspects of traffic deaths is the fact that practically every one of the accidents could have been avoided. In each case a little more leeway for possible trouble, a little more consideration, a little more sober, sensible driving could prevent accidents. Stay out of the headlines at all times by using the extra care and caution you know are needed to drive and walk safely on our streets and highways.

Motorists and pedestrians could help remove death and injuries which result from needless traffic accidents if every person who puts his foot on the accelerator of a car or sets foot on the streets would adopt one simple rule. The rule to remember is this —always be alert when driving and walking. It is better to get home late than never to get home at all.

Remember, also, the major causes of most traffic accidents— speed too fast for conditions—failure to yield right-of-way—following too closely—drinking and driving.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
PRESIDENT—NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

The uncertainties about us, when one looks at the changes and prospective changes in the world power structures, are staggering. Turnovers among the ruling personalities have been tremendous in the past year. A list of erstwhile decision makers of barely more than a year ago includes names no longer significant in global affairs nor even the national affairs of those respective nations. Our destinies were shaped by men now pushed aside by death or other change: President Kennedy, Prime Minister Macmillan, Chancellor Adenaur, Prime Minister Nehru. Other names, like Diefenbaker, Goulart, Betancourt, Diem, and Khann, etc., are no longer headlines.

When in mid-October on a single day the ruling power in two of the world's great nations changed hands, one could feel that the tumbling events of history were destroying his picture like a child jumbling a jig-saw picture puzzle. New and untried men were in charge in Britain and Russia, and if one should look further he would find the list grown to include more than a half-dozen other important nations.

One of the most engaging pictures of the Soviet changeover was that of the crowds waiting outside the Kremlin before Lenin's tomb during a celebration, to see who would emerge on the balcony above the tomb to greet the Soviet people. In Britain, it was a tally of seats in the House of Commons, and the losing party would become Her Majesty's "loyal opposition" officially recognized as the leader of organized criticism toward the new regime. In Russia there would be no criticism. There was mostly dishonor for the deposed leader, regardless of his contributions to his country.

All this suggests to us that such deeds of darkness truly are anachronistic in this era of knowledge and reverence for science. When men must await in fear what is done behind the grim walls of state, where is the freedom of humanity? How is it that some of us who enjoy unprecedented liberty along with the next man can be so careless as to suggest various "rapprochements" with such governments as this? How is it too, that we can increasingly tolerate the advance of these anti-freedom ideas?

If in this world of conflicting ideologies, men must in fear stand awaiting deeds done in darkness, such a loss of humanity affects us all. If anywhere there is the dogma that men exist to serve the state, the danger is very real that such darkness could spread to engulf us all. The effectiveness of secrecy, the surprise of sudden change, the limits placed upon minority opinion — all may appear "scientific" and utilitarian" in reaching national goals or safe-guarding an ideology. But these tactics, even when we practice them, are anti-freedom.

America, too, had a public accounting. While the roly-poly Khrushchev was being toppled as suddenly as he came to power, we were having an election. Some aspects of our choosing process could stand improvement, to be sure: the band-wagon effect of extensive polling, the carnival atmosphere of some campaigning, the lack of dignity in the conduct of candidates, the bitter bias of commentators and their communications media, etc. But there are constants here despite the turmoil of change. America must remain an open society, regardless of the world drift to darkness.

You're in the BIGGEST CHRISTMAS SAVINGS PLAN OF ALL because you use natural gas

Christmas knocks the family budget for a loop. There's a way to help soften the blow. Join a Christmas savings plan.

Of course, almost everyone already belongs to the biggest savings plan of all. That's because they use natural gas, rather than electricity. This means they automatically have more money at Christmastime and all through the year.

Natural gas gives you these big savings today, despite some progress by power companies in reducing the high cost of electricity.

These big savings with gas will continue in the future. Wholesale gas rates have been stabilized. Gas industry technology is advancing.

You're in the biggest savings plan of all—both today and for the future—because you use natural gas.

March of Dimes Volunteers Help Parents of Birth Defects Children

Picture a child crippled by a severe birth defect.

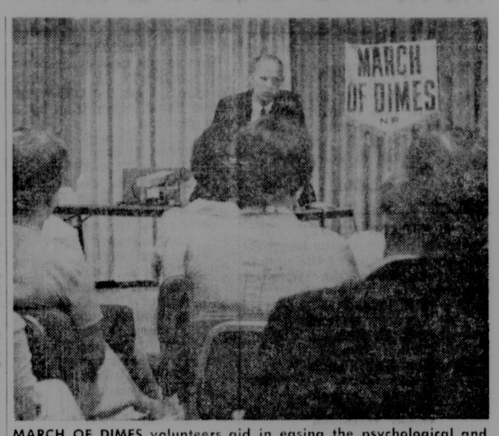
A tragedy? Unmistakably.

But how severe are the effects on the parents of this child? What is the extent of their shock and suffering?

Dr. Hans Zellweger, a well-known professor of pediatrics and genetics at the State University of Iowa College of Medicine and medical director of the March of Dimes-supported Birth Defects Center there, reports that in his experience 80 per cent of the parents of defective babies harbor unwarranted feelings of guilt.

He believes that they, like their afflicted child, need help. For that reason he is about to organize group therapy "classes" in which troubled parents can talk among themselves and with medical experts to discuss the problems created by this family tragedy.

Dr. Zellweger points out that more than a quarter of a million babies are born every year in the United States with birth defects—among them blindness, deafness, missing extremities, imperfect spines and nervous systems, and many other crippling disorders. Feelings of guilt and humiliation in the parents of these children are commonplace and have been for centuries. He explains that unfortunately this sense of shame persists even in the "enlightened" 20th century, although the individual pediatrician today does all he or she can to combat it.



MARCH OF DIMES volunteers aid in easing the psychological and other problems confronting parents of children with birth defects. Above, at Mankato, Minn., parents and members of March of Dimes chapter listen to lecture on birth defects by Dr. Warren Warwick, pediatrician, of University of Minnesota Medical School.

Help Is Expanding

Help for those grief- and guilt-stricken parents is being provided by March of Dimes chapters on a growing scale in several sections of the country.

"Actually, most of these parents aren't in need of medical treatment, but they are in need of some psychiatric help and the opportunity to talk over their problems with others similarly afflicted," according to Dr. Virginia Apgar, director of the division of congenital malformations of The National Foundation-March of Dimes.

"Also, they are in need of a healthy dose of truth about birth defects," she adds. "That truth is that so far as medical science knows, by far the majority of parents of a defective baby have no reason to reproach themselves, or to point the finger of suspicion at the other partner in marriage."

March of Dimes chapters in five Minnesota counties now hold meetings of parents each month to discuss means of ridding themselves of their unjustified feelings of self-reproach. Usually they are also addressed by a pediatrician and are informed about the progress of March of Dimes research grants in birth defects at leading university-affiliated medical centers and laboratories across the nation.

At Houston, Tex., the Harris County Chapter has established a Spina Bifida Educational Association which meets monthly in a seminar room at Texas Children's Hospital. Fifteen to 20 sets of parents attend the evening lecture, exchange "traumatic" experiences, and discuss such practical problems as getting their handicapped small children into the elementary schools.

Volunteers Well-Informed

Up to 75 parents attend the monthly gatherings of the Child Development Center Parents Group, at Children's Hospital, San Francisco. Half of the necessary financial support comes from the funds of the March of Dimes-financed Birth Defects Center at the hospital.

All the sponsoring chapters find enthusiastic and well-informed volunteers at these meetings on whom to call for help during the March of Dimes campaign each January when funds are raised nationally.

Other March of Dimes chapters around the country are planning similar projects to banish needless feelings of guilt among parents of children with defects.

Request Is Granted For "Yes Virginia"

By special request from a Friendsville mother of five children where Christmas means a great deal, The Republican is reprinting once again an editor's reply to a question, "Is there a Santa Claus?"

Sixtyfour years ago, an eight-year old girl wrote to the New York Sun to ask quite simply: "Is there a Santa Claus?" The newspaper's reply was in part, as follows:

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas, how dreary the world would be if there were no Santa Claus!

"It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We would have no enjoyment then, except in sight and sound. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished....

"Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see....

"No Santa Claus? Thank God; He lives and lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

Brown Commands Varsity Huskies

Being given the supreme title of "Coach" by the 1964-65 basketball team at Northern High School, Cove, will be Mr. Lilburn Brown.

Assuming team leadership from last year's coach, Matthew Stieringer, Br. Brown is at home coaching.

Starting at Northern in 1951 when the school opened, Mr. Brown was head basketball coach for seven years.

Mr. Brown graduated and obtained his B.S. degree from Morris Harvey College, Charleston, W. Va., and his master's from West Virginia University. He didn't play basketball in college because of his ineligibility due to age.

Coach Brown coached previously at Northern for seven years and a resultant record of 67 wins and 72 losses.

Run! Run! Run!

At present, Coach Brown is laying down the law to the players. One "law" is that anyone who misses a practice runs a distance equivalent to one mile. That's twenty laps around the gym. The idea behind this: "You can't win without running."

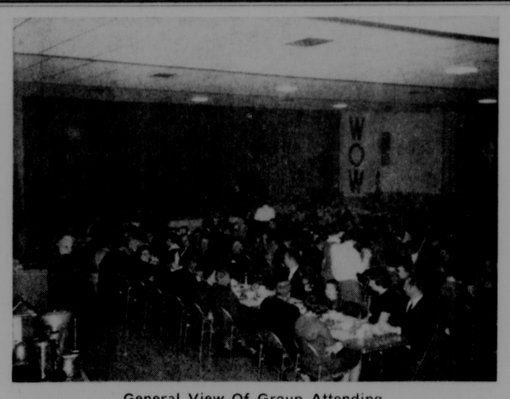
WOODMEN OF THE WORLD
"THE FAMILY FRATERNITY"



General View Of Group Attending

Over 500 Attend Annual WOW Party

More than five hundred persons were in attendance at the annual Christmas party and dinner sponsored by Camp 11 and court 110, of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance society. It was held in the cafetorium at Southern High school. Turkey was the menu.

Merritt Feather served as master of ceremonies with Rev. Thomas Staup, St. John's Episcopal church, Deer Park, giving the invocation. Musical entertainment was furnished by the senior chorus at Southern High school, directed by Miss Carolyn Lambert, and the Bell Ringers, a recently organized group.

Main speaker was John C. Robison, national director of WOW, of Fairfield, Ill., whose talk centered around the home of its relation to America and to society. Also speaking briefly was Henry J. Shepherd, State manager. Shepherd announced that the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle would be merged with the WOW January 1, and at that time the society would initiate a new health and accident program.

Guests included visitors from other camps and various head camp officers. Table decorations of candles and pine arrangements were furnished by ladies of court 110.

Pupils To Take Park In Telephone Number Posting

Students in the 3rd, 4th and 5th grades of the elementary schools of the northern area of the county who are members of the junior fire marshal program, will take part in a community-wide campaign to encourage posting emergency telephone numbers at every phone in a house.

The project will be carried on during the holiday season as a safety measure, sponsored by The Hartford Insurance group, represented by Dan Hershberger, Grantsville, and others.

A delay in finding telephone numbers in case of emergencies loses precious minutes, the students are being told. In this campaign families will be urged to keep at least three numbers posted, the police, fire department and family doctor. Each boy or girl in the program will receive four stickers. The junior fire marshals will post the stickers near the telephones in their own homes and distribute extra ones to friends and neighbors.

In addition to the emergency stickers the program is stressing two other aspects of fire prevention and safety, and they are: reminding parents to make sure the family car is ready for winter driving and keeping the Christmas tree safe from fire.

Those partcipating in the program are students in route 40, Grantsville, Accident, Friendsville and Yoder schools.

Mr. Hershberger presented a banner to the Accident school on Monday night for winning the letter contest conducted recently. The Accident school had the greatest number of participants in percentage to enrollment of any other school in the area.

Northern Sr. Chorus To Present Program

The music department at Northern High School under the direction of Mrs. Lucille Sines and Melvin Schwing will present the annual Christmas program, Wednesday, December 23, in the school gym. This year the theme is directed toward the change in the ideas of Christmas. The Program will be called The Two Faces of Christmas.

Beginning the program, the band will perform the modern arrangements of the best of Christmas music.

The chorus program will follow the band's performance. In the form of a narrative, the play will feature the best of Northern vocalists as well as group presentations. Dwelling on the theme, the chorus will include carols, pop tunes, and hymns in the production.

To be featured in keynote tunes are Craig Dunton, Ed McClintock, the Quartet Club, and 7-A chorus. "White Christmas", "Winter Wonderland", "Drummer Boy", "O Holy Night", "O Little Town of Bethlehem", and the "Hallelujah Chorus" as just a few of the Christmas favorites the audience will hear during the program.

A narrator for the show will be announced later. He will speak of the more real side of Christmas, which involves shopping, decorating, and mailing presents and Christmas cards, contrasted with the presence of God in our hearts and his joyful message.

'Insurance' for Survival

Industries Take Steps to Meet Nuclear Threat

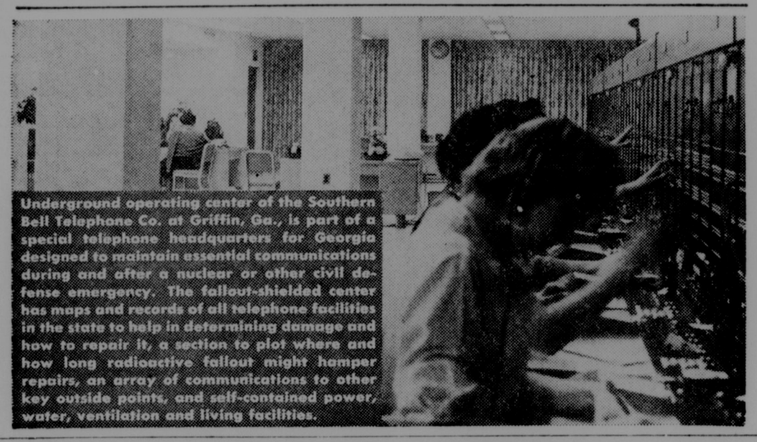
American industry continues to beef up its facilities and training programs to be prepared to survive and recover from the worst an enemy could throw at this Nation.

Accustomed to insuring against ordinary hazards, the managers of many industrial and commercial enterprises in this country have taken measures to assure that their company and its employees could also survive even a nuclear attack and recover from the disaster. Most unions have enthusiastically supported such emergency preparations.

These measures are as varied as the American economy itself. Mostly, however, they fall into several categories:

- Fire fighting and disaster control to meet peacetime disasters and wartime damage on the fringe of a target area or in a zone affected by fallout.
- Shelters from fallout and sometimes blast for employees while at work. Frequently, civil defense survival information for employees' home use is provided.
- Secure locations, usually underground or in remote areas, for key personnel and records to assure that the company could continue after an attack and not suffer "corporate amnesia" caused by destruction of vital records.

Banks and insurance companies have been especially active among businesses in modernizing their records preservation procedures because of their utter dependence on records. An outstanding example is the Industrial Bank of Rhode Island, which built outside Providence an underground, self-contained, nuclear blast-resistant center to house its vital records and the computer for its centralized accounting system.



Underground operating center of the Southern Bell Telephone Co. at Griffin, Ga., is part of a special telephone headquarters for Georgia designed to maintain essential communications during and after a nuclear or other civil defense emergency. The fallout-shielded center has maps and records of all telephone facilities in the state to help in determining damage and how to repair it, a section to plot where and how long radioactive fallout might hamper repairs, an array of communications to other key outside points, and self-contained power, water, ventilation and living facilities.

Big Lie Campaign . . .

By Thurman Sensing
Executive Vice President
Southern States Industrial Council

Very frequently in the months ahead conservatives are going to hear the line that conservatism is a dead force in American politics. The argument of the liberal is that the relatively small number of votes that went to Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, makes plain that never again will a presidential candidate be an all-out conservative.

This is an utterly fallacious argument and should be countered immediately. In the first place, while his electoral vote total was not high, 39 per cent of the popular vote went to Barry Goldwater. In the climate of abuse heaped on Senator Goldwater, it is certainly clear that anyone who voted for the Arizonian was a down-the-line, convinced conservative.

To have almost two-fifths of the Americans solidly persuaded of the full range of the rightness of the conservative philosophy is a remarkable achievement, especially in view of the years and years of Dealer government and liberal propagandizing in the United States.

For a conservative candidate to win the next presidential election, it would only be necessary for him to win an additional 12 percent support from the electorate. This is a task that should be accomplished, providing there is real hard work in the next four years. In the meantime, there are more than 26 million people who surely will not waver in their conservative convictions. Such a foundation of good government is encouraging rather than dismaying.

In addition, this power base for conservatism is not, as some pundits are saying, confined to one section of the country. More than 2.5 million Californians, for example, gave their votes to Senator Goldwater.

It is very likely that the Goldwater cause would have triumphed had it not been for a Big Lie campaign unprecedented in American politics. A certain amount of name-calling is an unpleasant feature of all presidential contests. But this year's contest hit a new low in ugliness, truth distortion and vindictiveness. For many months before Mr. Goldwater won the Republican presidential nomination, he was a target of filthy charges. He was presented as a fascist, a Hitler type, a man who hated old people and sick people, a man who would let hungry people starve. The truth is that Senator Goldwater was a man without a moral blemish, a contributor to the work of his church, a good employer when he was in private business, and a man of conscience and responsibility in his home community as well as in his life of public service.

If ever there was a man in politics against whom false witness was given it is Barry M. Goldwater. He was the victim of a conspiracy of lying, and millions of Americans were duped by the conspirators. Fooled and tricked by the smears directed at Senator Goldwater, many normally conservative-voting citizens were bewildered and declined to vote for him. The country even witnessed the strange and illogical spectacle of Senator Hubert Humphrey, former chairman of the radical Americans for Democratic Action, saying that he was more of a conservative than that "radical" Barry Goldwater. Josef Goebbels, Hitler's propaganda chief, who originated the Big Lie Technique— the incessant repetition of a blatant untruth — must have smiled from whatever hell he occupies.

Make no mistake: the American people did not vote against conservatism in the 1964 presidential election; they were simply led astray into believing that genuine choice for conservatism was not before them.

Informed citizens know who perpetrated the Big Lie in the election. The Big Lie was chiefly the work of television commenators who, masquerading as impartial analysts of political news, actually used their time on television to knife conservatism at every opportunity. Again and again they referred to conservatives as "radicals" and called genuine radicals "moderates". Equally vicious were magazines that continually sought to make out the conservative cause as the cause of political wildmen. And it must be said that the conspirators of the Big Lie technique against conservatism were very successful in their brainwashing attempts.

The important thing now is to realize that the defeats suffered by conservatism were not at the hands of the American people but at the hands of the Big Lie artists. They denied the voters a chance to see the issues clearly and honestly. And in the years ahead conservatives must search out new ways of getting the message of truth past the Iron Curtain of deceit that biased commenators have imposed between conservative spokesmen and the millions of voters who are yet to fully understand the message of the advocates of constitutional government.

Message Of Christmas Lives Anew

"And lo, the Star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young Child was." Matthew 2:9.

"And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the Babe lying in a manger". Luke 2:16.

From two who became His disciples come the words that tell the story of that Holy Night, the first Christmas. Matthew the tax collector wrote of the Star that shone on the east, and of wise men who followed it to find and worship Him.

Luke the physician wrote of shepherds watching in the fields and herald angels singing in the heavens.

At church services during this Christmas season the words of the tax collector and the physician will be read and studied once again, with ever-deepening meaning.

And as the story is told anew, it is reflected in the many observances of Christmas, both in churches and in homes.

The joyful sound of carols harks back to the first of all carols, the words of the heavenly host, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men".

The glow of candles symbolizes the birth of Christ as the Light of the World, and it also mirrors the eternal gleam of the Star of Bethlehem.

The spirit of giving takes guidance from the gifts of the Wise Men, who brought gold, frankincense and myrrh to Him.

Above all, at Christmas, mankind experiences once again the reverence, wonder and rejoicing of the wise men, of whom Matthew says,

"And when they were come into the house, they saw the young Child with Mary His mother, and fell down and worshipped Him."

Why A Tree?

Why a tree at Christmas? One early legend says that all the trees burst into bloom on the night Christ was born.

Folk tales of ancient times tell of a huge tree in a forest, lighted with many candles, some of which were straight and some bent. At the top was an Infant with a halo.

The tree was meant to represent humanity, the candles, people good and bad; and the Infant, the Baby Jesus.

Another explanation links today's Christmas tree to ancient feast of the winter equinox, when trees were adorned with trinkets.

St. Boniface, an English missionary to Germany, is said to have told converts that the fir should be their holy tree, replacing the oak, sacred in Druid tree worship, and thus beginning the custom of a decorated fir.

Many are the legends, but one thing is certain. Nowadays Christmas wouldn't be Christmas without the tree.

FBI director Hoover termed the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., "the most notorious liar in the country", on a civil rights action.

We ask Simca owners:

Why did you trade in your VW for a Simca 1000?

William Botkin, Columbus, Ohio: "On impulse, I took one out for a spin. Was delighted with the way it handled. Much better all around, especially on the turnpikes. My wife liked the all-synchro gearbox. Last week, for the 30th time, I taught a VW humility in the traffic light Grand Prix. Simca's heater—which really heats—is a godsend..."

George Stevens, Martinez, Calif.: "The VW didn't seem to fill the bill for my wife and me. The 1000 is roomier, easier getting in and out of. The day after we bought it, we took a long trip and couldn't have been more delighted with the comfort or the economy..."

Mrs. Audrey Stein—Maplewood, N.J.: "My VW needed a lot of repairs, so naturally the 5-year Simca warranty* looked awfully good to me..."

Larry Drake, Pineville, West Va.: "Extra room, better visibility. It handled better. I've been well satisfied with the change to the 1000..."

Jack White, Albany, Ohio: "I had two VWs. Now I have one, plus your Simca 1000. The 1000 rides smoother. And I get better gas mileage from it. With your warranty* I'm not afraid of an engine bill using up all the money I've saved on gas..."

Glory! Peace! Goodwill!. . .

AS THE CHRISTMAS season arrives, one sees much evidence of tension, anxiety and suffering on the faces of many people. Some are ill, many have money problems, many are unhappy in their family relationships. Poor, suffering humanity, even in our country—the most favored of all, is at all times carrying a heavy load. No wonder Jesus wept as He looked upon the multitude and had compassion for them.

Most men and women endure their suffering bravely and no matter how buffeted by the winds of misfortune continue smiling and working to improve their lot. Even the bravest and most fortunate, however, experience much hardship and heartache.

We are now about to celebrate the most fortunate event in human history—the birth of our Lord. At that time the brightest hope that has ever animated mankind became very real. The heavens parted and celestial glories were revealed to men. The voice of the angels with their message of peace on earth and good will toward men has been obscured many times since then but has never been silenced and will never be forgotten.

The balm for all our wounds and the gladness that will wipe away our tears lies in the acceptance of Christ as our Saviour which means living by the principles He taught. Earth has no sorrow which heaven cannot cure.

When men learn to be honest, truthful, generous, kind and loving to one another and when they refrain from coveting, stealing and selfish pride our woes will disappear like magic. The coming of Jesus gave more stimulus to that type of living than any other event in human history. It points the way not only to the relief of poverty, ill health, backbreaking toil and human misery, but also to the release of the human

Commissioners And Legislators Seek Mine O.K.

Letters To Governor Ask Strip Mine Operation Be Given Final Approval

Letters designed to help the commission on State Forests and Parks to give its final approval for the strip mine operation on state land were mailed this week to Gov. J. Millard Tawes, by the county legislators and the County Commissioners.

The permit was approved last week by the Board of Public Works but was on condition that the State Forest and Parks commission also approve.

The final approval would open up a lot of activity in the coal industry, according to Carl Schell, state director of the Bureau of Mines. He said some 1,500 acres of coal land would be worked, which would have a production of some two and one-fourth million tons of coal, in the three seams that would be opened, the Bakerstown, the Harlem and the Freeport.

He said this would lead also to deep mining operations affecting some 8,000 to 9,000 acres.

Mr. Schell said there had been some objections raised for fear strip mining would pollute the Savage river but he said this operation would be in the Savage mountain forest but would not affect Savage river at all. He said those who had studied the program didn't contemplate any pollution problems whatsoever.

The Legislators, State Senator Spencer W. Graham, Delegates Elza Bray, Mrs. Martha Glotfelty and Elwood Groves, in their letter to the governor, said "we heartily

Cash and Property Willed To Hospital

The Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland is the recipient of a bequest in the will of Sara V. Wilt, of Swanton, it was announced this week by Irvin Feld, president of the Board of Governors of the hospital.

The bequest amounts to cash in the amount of $5,102.96, and a one-half interest in two tracts of real estate—28.56 acres in district No. 1, Swanton; and 140 acres in district No. 4, Bloomington.

Mr. Feld said, "The cash will be used for capital improvements and the real estate in trust." He declared that "Many of the improvements made within the hospital have been realized through such generous gifts."

Bloodmobile Visit For Oakland Set January 6

The regular visit of the Johnstown bloodmobile unit of the American Red Cross, will be made at Oakland on Wednesday, January 6, it was announced by Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, blood recruitment chairman for the Garrett County Red Cross chapter.

The bloodmobile will be set up at the Oakland fire hall and will be conducted from 12 o'clock noon until six p. m.

Further details are to be announced.

Doe Kill In County Less Than Expected

Despite the unafavorable weather for the first day of the two-day antlerless deer season last weekend, there were 386 does reported to have been slain during that time in Garrett county.

It was the lowest of the three western Maryland counties, with Allegany reporting 482 kills and Washington county 411.

This made a total of 1,279 in region one. The deer checking stations here reported the following: Oakland, 30 on Friday, 104 on Saturday for 134; Storey's at McHenry, 14 and 63 for 77; Friendsville, 11 and 17, for a total of 28; Grantsville, 32 and 88 for a total of 120; Westernport, 4 and 23, for a total of 27; grand total, 386.

The state commission pre-season estimates of 800 kills in this county were above the number actually slain. Many Garrett county residents were opposed to the special two-day season and as a result many properties were posted against hunting deer. Only 2,000 of the 4,000 permits allotted to this county were taken by hunters, and many of these were taken to keep others from getting them.

A check one the ones reported at the Oakland station showed that 72 were killed by county hunters and 60 by down state hunters.

Another check showed that the deer killed in the Swallow Falls region were on an average 30 pounds lighter for the same age as those killed on Backbone mountain. Only a few old deer were killed, most of those reported being young. A very few were classed at 5 and one-half years old.

The treat committee for the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce distributed Christmas candy to 1,950 children, at the annual affair last Saturday afternoon near the Episcopal church lawn, corner of Second and Liberty streets.

Charles L. Briner, chairman, said that contributions totaling $776 had been received. Contributors in addition to those listed during the past two issues of The Republican included F. A. Smouse, Thomas Big Key market, Loomis Limited, Ralph Pritts and Sons, WMSG radio station, Pizza Haven, Fred A. Thayer, Carnation company, Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club, Dr. A. Dangerous Fire Averted By Prompt Discovery

What could have turned into a disastrous fire was fortunately discovered at the outset last Friday evening in the court house, and extinguished with a minimum amount of damage.

An overheated flue was beginning to spread to some nearby plywood where the flue had been boxed in, in the men's rest room in the basement. The fire was discovered by Corporal Robert Henline of the state police, who notified Sheriff James E. Frantz.

Oakland firemen were called at 7:20 p. m., but released a short time later. Damage was estimated at $25.

Appalachian Plan Heard By Leaders

Is Outlined At Meeting Monday Near Cumberland

Some 170 business and civic leaders of the area attended the meeting to discuss the Appalachia program possibilities held at the Ali Ghan Shrine country club near Cumberland on Monday.

A two-part program was outlined by John J. Sweeney, executive director of President Johnson's Appalachian Regional committee. Mr. Sweeney said that actually Gov. Tawes was the "father" of the Appalachia bill. He noted that two years ago Gov. Tawes called a conference of the 11 governors involved in the area to discuss their problem.

Mr. Sweeney listed the several gram under which the federal government would provide 70 percent of the cost and the state 30 percent. He noted that at present $840,000,000 of federal funds are available for this project and that the states would determine the routes of the roads.

2. Hospital construction which will be an aid in human resources. This section will provide medical care and help to promote new industries for the areas.

3. Vocational education, mostly for new buildings.

Plane, Two Bodies Discovered Tuesday

The bodies of two Moorefield, W. Va., men were taken from the twisted wreckage of a single-engine plane near Philippi, W. Va., Tuesday night, five days after it disappeared on a routine flight from Clarksburg to Moorefield.

Dead were the pilot, Elvin C. Riggleman, 46, prominent contractor; and a passenger, Carl S. Barnhardt, 54, also of Moorefield.

State police were led to the wreckage by an unidentified man who said he came upon it in the rugged snow-covered woods late Tuesday.

The plane crashed on a hillside in the northeastern corner of Barbour county, about 20 miles from Philippi, and off route 92.

An intensive search had been underway since Friday morning with more than 20 planes and numerous ground volunteers. The air force sent four rescue planes to assist the Civil Air patrol.

One body was found pinned inside the wreckage, the other half out of the plane.

Survivors of Mr. Riggleman include a wife and son. Mr. Barnhardt had a wife and daughter.

Non-farm employment in November was 59.3 million.

MERRY CHRISTMAS GREETINGS TO ALL

Holiday Hours Set

Business places and a number of county and state offices have announced hours during the holiday season. Some are remaining closed both Friday, December 25 and Saturday, December 26, giving a long week-end to many of the employes.

The banks of the county will be closed 25 and 26, as will all offices in the court house. However, on the following week-end places will be closed on January 1, but will be open for business on Saturday, January 2.

All offices of the Department of Employment Security throughout the state will be closed Friday, December 25, Christmas day, and Friday, January 1, New Year's Day.

Merchants belonging to the merchants committee of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce decided several months ago they would be closed on both December 25 and 26, and would remain closed on New Year's Day, but would be open for business on Saturday, January 2.

The post office announced it would be closed all day on Christmas and also all day Saturday, the 26th. Special delivery mail, perishable articles and gift parcels are to be delivered both days. There will be no city delivery service for Oakland or Mt. Lake Park. Rural routes will operate as usual on Saturday the 26th, it was announced by Guy William Hinebaugh, postmaster.

Some of the food stores will remain open both Saturdays.

Tawes Says State Finances Are Good

Gov. Tawes looked over rosy new estimates of how much money will flow into Maryland's treasury in the next 18 months and said the state "is in good shape."

The report was given at a meeting of the Board of Revenue Estimates.

The report estimates that total state revenue will be $675,840,378 for the fiscal year ending next June and $728,622,670 for the following year. By comparsion actual receipts for the previous fiscal year were $591,738,203. Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said both sales and income tax collections were running a little ahead of the estimates made in October.

The Maryland economy is moving so fast, the comptroller said, that it is likely that the board will meet again at the end of February to provide the latest possible figures for use by the governor and legislature in completing the budget and supplementary budget.

Four Births Occur

Four births occurred at the Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland during the week up to Wednesday morning, December 23, all four of them girls.

On the 18th a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Richardson Skipper, route 1, Swanton.

On the 22nd a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Kitzmiller, Water street, Oakland; a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wayne Shreve, route 1, Oakland.

On the 23rd a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Oliver Reall, Gormania.

During the week the hospital admitted 32 patients and discharged 41. Census this morning was 48.

The Story Is New Once More

There were no headlines to record the greatest news event of all time, but the Christmas Story remains, and offers hope today as it did nearly two thousand years ago.

We wish you the blessings and joys of the Christmas season, and only good news in 1965.

Electronics Plant To Be Established In Oakland Area

The establishment of an electronics type plant will be effected here the first of the year, it was announced this week. Known as the Glenn Engineering company, the plant will operate a key punch machine to record accounting and statistical data on tab cards.

Some 20 to 30 persons will be employed, and applications already are being received at the office of the U. S. Employment service. The necessary machinery is to be set up in the building formerly occupied by the knitting mill, just west of town.

The new plant will be an additional facility for the company, since there is already one in operation at Rockville. The company will do work for the federal government and other agencies.

The owner, Thomas Glenn, a summer resident of Deep Creek Lake, at present is occupying a trailer in that area. Charles L. Briner, manager of the U. S. Employment agency, said a Mr. Fierke would be the manager of the new plant.

Thumb is Amputated Following Accident

Kenneth H. Peck, 26, who resides at 415 Oak street, Oakland, underwent a traumatic amputation of his left thumb following an accident at the Luke paper mill on Monday afternoon about 4 o'clock. He sustained a laceration and contusion of the left hand.

Company officials said a pile of large paper rolls were being moved by a crane and one roll shifted unexpectedly, catching the man's hand. He was taken to Sacred Heart hospital in Cumberland.

The accident occurred in the Langston rewinder section 8 and 9 paper machine department. The mishap took place just twelve hours after the company had won honors for safety conditions durng the past million man hours of work.

Arrival of Winter Brings No Surprises

Winter arrived officially on Monday afternoon, December 21, around 3 o'clock, but it was not surprising to residents of the Mt. Top.

Although the snow has been at a minimum up to the present time there has been no lack of cold spells and an arctic blast over the week-end took the temperature tumbling to six below zero last Saturday. It had been 7 above the day previous and quite blustery.

Also in the weather picture for the week was a total eclipse of the moon last Friday night, around 9 and 10 o'clock.

A brief rundown of the weather shows the following: Friday, 7 above zero with blustery conditions throughout the day. Saturday was clear with temperature at 6 below but moderating during the day. Some sleet fell Sunday but the mercury remained at freezing and slightly above. Snow and sleet fell Monday with temperature getting up to 28 degrees by early afternoon. There was cloud cover throughtout the day. Cloud cover continued Tuesday with temperature at 32. There was some clearing by noon. Wednesday continued cloudy with morning temperature above the freezing mark.

New City Scales Now In Operation

The new city scales for Oakland are now in operation at the old site on Liberty street. However, the new scales are located off the street, in a small piece of property leased from the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for a nominal sum.

The new scales will take loads up to 30 tons compared to 10 tons of the previous scales. The actual cost of the scales amounted to $3,116, with the cost of constructing the pit and other work amounting to more than $2,000.

One of the important advantages was removing the scales from the street. The scales are operated by James Carney.

Special Events For Christmas Are Continuing

Candlelight Services, Plays And Other Activities Still To Be Held

Special events for the observance of Christmas are still to be presented during these next few days. Some events already have been held in the various churches of the area.

St. Mark's Lutheran

The traditional Christmas eve service will begin at 11 o'clock Thursday evening. In addition to the regular worship program a cantata, "The Song of Christmas", will be presented by the choirs. St. Matthew's, Oakland

Declare Dividend

The First National Bank's board of directors has declared a 30 cents regular dividend and an additional 10 cents dividend on every share of stock, payable as of December 31, it was announced this week by the bank officers.

This is the same amount that was paid last June, and the same as declared in December of 1963. The dividend this December made the total for the year 80 cents per share. Checks will be mailed on January 1 to all stockholders of record, it was stated.

Three Escapees Returned To Jail

Caught Saturday After Sawing Way Out Early That Day

Two young members from the forestry camp near Lonaconing were lodged in the county jail on charges of theft of an automobile and escape from the camp, teamed up temporarily with another jail inmate, charged with breaking and entering, burglary and larceny, to break out of the county jail last Friday night or early Saturday morning. But they were back in the hands of the law that same day.

The three were listed as Richard D. Paugh, 24, of Kitzmiller, held on breaking and entering charges; John E. Saunders, 15, of Hagerstown and Thomas E. Haley, 17, of Deale.

The three persons sawed two bars of one of the windows on the south side of the jail either late Friday night or early Saturday morning, and made their get-away in the automobile owned by the Rev. Fr. Michael K. Carney, which was parked across Fourth street from the lock-up.

The three were captured by State Police in Westminster on Saturday and were returned Sunday to the jail.

Saunders and Haley had been held in the county jail since December 5 when they were arrested in Hagerstown and charged with stealing an automobile from the Grantsville area.

Paugh was lodged in the county jail on December 8 to await action of the Garrett County grand jury on nine charges placed against him for breaking and entering, burglary and larceny, all committed in the Kitzmiller area. He was under bond totaling $4,500.

At a preliminary hearing Monday morning for the trio they were placed on $1,000 bond each on charges of escape from jail and larceny of the automobile, a 1960 Pontiac owned by Father Carney, and held for action of the March term jury.

Scouts Re-Register For 1965 Season

Oakland Boy Scout troop No. 31, sent in its registration for the 1965 season during the week, with twenty-three boys on the list plus ten adults. The present charter expires on December 31.

The troop, presently sponsored by the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club, is the oldest troop in existence in the area, having been re-activated each year since 1924, when the organization was completed with the late Rev. A. J. Torrey, an Episcopal rector, as scoutmaster.

Listed as leaders for this year were Earl J. Clark, institutional representative and chairman of the troop committee; LeRoy E. Bolding, Thomas L. Kuhn, Dr. Jack A. Roth, Robert J. Stanton, and George H. Hanst as members of the troop committee. The latter has been on the troop for a number of years prior to sponsorship of the Lions club and is the only one not a member of the Lions club.

Ralph Fauber is scoutmaster with Anderson B. Cosby III and Bernard I. Gonder, Jr., and Marshall Johnson as assistants. Gonder was a member of the 1924 troop and was one of the first group of ten Eagle scouts from the troop. He has been on the active roll since the first year.

Scouts who registered for the year include Michael R. Proudfoot, Kimber L. Frederick, W. Dwight Stover, Harrison B. Stewart, George N. Sukow II, Robert D. Biser, Ernest J. Wolf, Ross L. Knotts, George B. F. Friend, Jr., William Buchanan.

We can make our Christmas much happier if we make it a point to try to make the Christmas spirit a real thing in our lives.

We can begin our search for the Christmas spirit by noting the real happiness in the eyes of children. We can find it in the simple act of doing something for the less fortunate than ourselves—the sick, the shut-ins, the lonely and the poor.

We are most certain to find it if we turn our thoughts and our steps toward the church by the side of the road. Here, we will find the unescapable meaning of Christmas and the entire Yuletide season—the birth of Jesus—a message of hope and peace for all the world.

Answers From Clinton W. Englander

Question

I know this will probably sound like a silly question, but just what is a drug?

Answer

It's a good question and thanks for asking! A drug is any substance (with the exception of food) used to improve the condition of the body. You know, for instance, that penicillin is a drug, but it might surprise you to know that Vaseline is also a drug because it, too, improves the condition of the body (soothes the skin, in this case.)

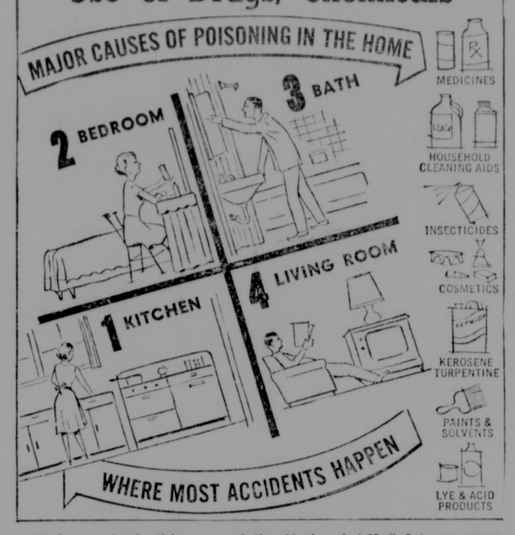
4-H'ers Campaign for SAFER Use of Drugs, Chemicals



Main emphasis this year of the National 4-H Safety program has been safe use of household chemicals and drugs, reports the National 4-H Safety Development Committee.

Throughout the state, 4-H Club members and leaders have alerted families and communities to the dangers that misuse of common household products can cause.

There are at least 250,000 chemicals and drugs for home use that would be harmful if improperly used, they warn. These include everyday items such as cleaning aids, cosmetics, medicines, paints and insecticides.

They point out that in one year more than 1,300 deaths resulted from accidental home poisoning, of which 30 per cent were children under 5 years of age. Another 200,000 persons suffered disabling illnesses.

This year marks the 20th anniversary of the 4-H safety program sponsored by General Motors in cooperation with the Extension Service and the National 4-H Service Committee. Safety program membership is around one-half million.

During this time hundreds of clubs have been cited for conducting life-saving community projects, and thousands of boys and girls have been individually recognized for doing an excellent job in promoting safety, the committee reports.

The 4-H'er with the best project in the state will be the 1964 safety delegate to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Medals will be presented to four county champions, while eight members from across the nation will receive $500 college scholarships. Clubs also will be honored for outstanding local safety programs.

Enrollment for the 1965 program begins this fall. Traffic safety will predominate. However, numerous projects will be carried out in the home and on the farm involving other vital areas of safety.

Additional information can be obtained from the county extension office.

THE DIFFERENCE
By Rosalie M. Gordon
Editor, America's Future

A puzzled college student wants to know if there is any way to distinguish between a modern liberal and a modern conservative, regardless of what each calls himself. On the domestic scene here at home, perhaps the best distinction is where each stands on government interference in our lives—a central question because our uniquely American form of government is based on the truism that while civilized man cannot live without government, government is also the greatest potential oppressor of free men.

Modern Liberal

A modern liberal usually is dedicated to always more government intervention in citizens' lives—from which flows naturally his belief in high taxes, debt, deficit financing; generally, government monetary and credit control and manipulation in order to plan for and intervene in the economic life of the people. He also believes that enterprise cannot be left free to operate according to the natural laws of the free market and competition; he considers the rights of states a thing of the past, since since such rights interfere with an ever more powerful central government—a government which he thinks must also look after the welfare of the people in all its forms. Thus a liberal necessarily believes the Constitution must be stretched, interpreted or ignored in order to bring all these things about.

Modern Conservative

A modern conservative believes in certain basic principles of human life and conduct and thinks they should guide all conditions no matter how conditions themselves may change. Liberals usually make a fetish of change. The conservative does not oppose change but believes changes should be measured as good or bad according to basic principles; not accepted merely for the sake of change. He believes in the sanctity of the individual and his inherent freedoms—freedoms which government can neither grant nor take away; its only duty is to protect them. Thus he is dedicated to constitutional restraints on government from which naturally flows his belief in less, not more, government, resulting lower taxes, leaving enterprise and people as free as possible to make their own way, provide their own security under their own steam in a free, competitive market which he considers the greatest guarantee of abundance. He respects the constitutional rights of the states as a curb on a too powerful and oppressive central government.

Demarcation

On the international scene, there can be confusion in telling a liberal from a conservative as regards the international communist conspiracy. Most liberals do not see communism as a conspiracy. They think it can be dealt with through accommodation, negotiation, appeasement. Conservatives believe communism is a conspiracy. They recognize its stated purpose of destroying capitalism and freedom everywhere, including America. Therefore, they believe communism should be opposed with every means at our disposal and with a will to win out against it—that anything less gives to our avowed enemy the means with which to destroy us. However, there is a handful of liberals—only a handful, unfortunately—who also see the communist conspiracy for what it really is. A true conservative, of course, with his beliefs about limited government and individual freedom, cannot be other than adamantly anti-communist.

PROPSERITY THROUGH PROFIT
By Harry Browne
Editor, Freedom Magazine

"If the government didn't regulate the economy General Motors would double its prices".

How often that cliche — or one like it — is heard!

It displays an ignorance of the basic characteristics of human beings. The logical extension of such a statement would be that all individuals live to inflict suffering upon themselves. Let's start from the beginning and take it apart:

Suppose there were no government regulation of the economy. Suppose all individuals and companies were free to ask any price they choose — without any regulatory control.

What would General Motors do about its car prices? They could double their prices if they wanted. But would they?

Would you find it in your best interest to pay $6,000 for a Chevrolet? Of course not. If that were the price, you'd find it very easy to make the old car get by for another year. And so would most other potential new car buyers. The end result would be a terrible year in sales for GM.

Self-Interest

And General Motors is in business to make a profit. It does them no good to charge high prices if no one will pay them. So, in their own self-interest, they must keep their prices as low as possible — consistent with the profit they seek.

Why? Because no one has to buy. And as long as no one is coerced into buying, the only way GM can make a sale is by offering a good product at a practical price. If they do anything else, they won't make any sales or profits.

It is the profit motive that brings prices down to their lowest practical limits. For profit-seeking companies are always striving to outdo their competitors or potential competitors.

Profit Seekers

Everyone seeks profit — of one kind or another. Each of us is attempting to improve his own happiness. This is actually the basis of all economic understanding. The profit motive — inherent in every one of us — is the driving force that brings progress and prosperity.

Because I seek profit, I must find a way to produce a product or service someone really wants. For only in that way will that person be willing to exchange his money or services with me.

In a free economy (unlike the government-controlled economy we have today) people will be free to pursue profits without restriction. That means that each will be looking for ways to be of service to others — in order to make the profit involved. Our standard of living automatically goes up as a result.

The profit motive cannot be abolished by political edict. But when politicians attempt to inhibit the making of profits, they are actually limiting the ability of a company to provide a desired service to its customers.

Take the chains off profit, however, and more good things will be produced for more people.

Why?

Because that's the only way you can make a profit.

One Citizen Terms Controversy on Doe Season Good Case For Self Government

The storm of protest over the recent doe season resulted in "a splendid example of self government", by one citizen of the area who had been definitely opposed to opening the season on does. This individual, Fulcher P. Smith, of Deep Creek Lake, presented the following thoughts on the subject:

"When the state game department decreed a doe season for Garrett county many local citizens advised that this was poor judgment. Meetings, hearings and petitions indicated strong opposition to such a season, yet the game department ignored the sentiment and declared a doe season regardless.

"They offered 4,000 free permits asking citizens of the county to come to the slaughter on December 18 and 19. Citizens picked up 2,000 of these permits and it appears that most of them were destroyed. The game department took the remaining 2,000 permits to Allegany and other western area counties, inviting their citizens to come and kill Garrett county doe. But those residents picked up only 127. As a result of the controversy landowners who raise most of the deer in the county posted their land. Others expressed opposition and disgust by not hunting doe.

"Fortunately only 386 antlerless deer were killed during the two day season and it was estimated 60 percent of these were button bucks, that would have become legal game two or three years hence.

"In short, public sentiment in the county refused to have a doe season rammed down their throats. Such an expression of self government should not be overlooked. It would be well if all the citizens of the United States could profit from it. For we are drifting into an era where we are governed by Commissions and Bureaus that have little regard for the opinions of the citizens whose lives they are authorized to control. A privilege that is abused should be withdrawn. Here is a sample where the privilege was grossly abused by the game department. Facts show that the majority of sentiment was against the department's position, yet it refused to listen to the wishes of our citizens.

"WHY DO OUR LEGISLATORS GRANT SUCH POWER? Why do they follow the fish department to add a dollar to our trout license just so it can count the number of fishermen? It is a glorious feeling to know that here in the mountains of Western Maryland citizens of Garrett County have the backbone to express their desire for representative government".

Fulcher P. Smith

Dear Editor:

On the last day of deer season 1963 a forest "Ranger" took two hunters to the vicinity of Meadow Mountain fire tower and left them in unfamiliar terrain, promising to come for them if their car was not gone from its parking place by four o'clock. These men survived the night in near zero temperature and tried to find their way out but were completely lost. After noon on Sunday our dog heard their cry for help and answered. They followed his barking to our home and were safe. The forest Ranger, the only person who knew the whereabouts of these men had not looked for them at four o'clock on Sunday.

Last Saturday this same dog barked at a doe hunting Sportsman who passed behind my home. This time he was answered with a bullet.

In past deer seasons many hundreds of deer hunters have passed behind our home with respect. It took our first doe season to bring out a person who would viciously destroy a child's pet who just a year ago had undoubtedly prevented two hunters from perishing on Meadow Mountain.

It would seem that man has changed very little in the past nineteen hundred years.

My family and I would like to wish all a Merry Christmas and especially the Sportsman who destroyed our pet.

Sincerely,
Russell Teets

Christmas Prayer . . .

Let us pray that strength and courage abundant be given to all who work for a world of reason and understanding—that the good that lies in every man's heart may day by day be magnified—that men will come to see more clearly not that which divides them, but that which unites them—that each hour may bring us closer to a final victory, not of nation over nation, but of man over his own evils and weaknesses—that the true spirit of this Christmas season—its joy, its beauty, its hope, and above all its abiding faith—may live among us—that the blessings of peace be ours—the peace to build and grow, to live in harmony and sympathy with others, and to plan for the future with confidence—New York Life Insurance company.

HOLIDAY HOLLY

Most of the holly cuttings used in American homes today are of the English variety, grown for the most part in the northwest where climatic conditions are most favorable. Research has produced several strains of American holly said to be much hardier and superior in color, foliage and fruit. These bear such beguiling names as Merry Christmas, Santa Claus, Old Heavy Berry and Cronenberry.

FOR THE BIRDS

You don't need an elaborate feeder to share Christmas with the birds. You can trim an outdoor tree and decorate it with such things as pine cones dipped in suet, popcorn, bits of apple and grated carrot, even pie crust. Blue jays, woodpeckers, nuthatches, chicadees, warblers and brown creepers are "meat" eaters. Cardinals, juncos, sparrows and finches like vegetable seeds.

May we wish you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

THE FIRST GIFTS

Gold, frankincense, and myrrh, the first Christmas gifts, represented the most precious items of the day. Only the best was considered a suitable gift for a king, and the Wise Men had traveled far to pay their respect to the newborn infant.

The Wise Men were kings themselves—and they could afford expensive gifts. In modern-day gift giving, we should not place emphasis on the cost of the gifts we give. It is the spirit of giving that is important and that is appreciated. This can be readily understood when we note that the simple presents of the shepherds were appreciated as much as the valuable gifts of the three kings.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
PRESIDENT—NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

Profiteering on the various ills of mankind, without constructively offering solutions which reach down to basic causes, seems to be all the vogue in modern public life. To some extent this occurs because of the use of promises that overreach any possible performance, but we wink at this practice of getting the vote. What is sought is power. Power-hungry politicians know, for example, that people will look for the easy answers to difficult problems, will expect the magic antidote.

Halt recessions. End poverty. Provide jobs. Equalize opportunity. Outlaw discrimination. Some things are not easy. The leadership of this nation turned reckless when it opened racial conflicts, encouraging overt protest and sparking unrest. These approaches, even granting the existence of some denial of rights, were wrong from every practical and philosophical viewpoint. You just don't go about creating love by fiat, demanding respect and equality by demonstrations. We're aware that force begets force, but we forget that respect follows respect.

In their zeal to go at things backward, our national leadership has been smiling upon marches on Washington, lionizing incendiary demagogues bent on revolt, winking at lawlessness and destruction, and lending support to so-called demonstrations. Killing or fighting police, who are symbols of authority, seems the accepted way to follow up what the leadership is saying.

Citizens who are informed have not been surprised at reports of Communist participation in the war against police. The Reds know these tactics. They have studied them since the Russian conflagration of 1917 and have planned their use. "Manning the barricades" in street fighting was the procedure the old timers learned in Europe. Today it is broken bottles, Molotov cocktails, and bicycle chains. The switchblade they have acquired from gangs and delinquents. Police brutality is a propaganda cry they have been using for years.

Revelations from J. Edgar Hoover, and reluctantly from President Johnson, that Communists lurked in the background of the riots in northern cities could hardly surprise those acquainted with the Communist record. Recall San Francisco in 1960? These and other revolutionary manipulators will use any pretext to incite riot and bloodshed. What they want to produce, in time, is a breakdown of all law and order, the abrogation of property rights, intimidation of authority, and terrorization of the citizenry. Decent and responsible citizens of the Negro race are not with them. Why should any of our leaders be?

Take away the riot and demonstration and there remains the lawful freedom of assembly. Millions of Americans of various races assemble each week. Some eat together. Many worship. Others study and listen to lectures. Very few assemble to plan riot or insurrection. Take away the threats of rabble rousers, the clenched fist, the inflammatory words, and responsible freedom of speech still remains. But without the careless policies connected with it all, we should have a more sober, secure America. Add responsibility to our freedoms, and we shall have a more circumspect citizenry.

Glory! Peace! Goodwill! . . .

spirit. Men who will live as Jesus taught us may not only soar above material difficulties but may find the answers to their spiritual problems and learn to live lives of fulfillment and happiness with their married partners, their children and their friends.

We need not live in spiritual mud huts for mansions are available to us. We are joint heirs with Christ and our destiny is to achieve sonship to God. And while we are about it, let us never forget our responsibility to share our material and spiritual resources with those who need our help. In so doing, we shall vastly accelerate our own progress toward a full salvation and the triumph of His kingdom.

Let us rejoice in the good news that came to this earth nineteen hundred and sixty-four years ago. Let us rejoice in the birthday of our Saviour, guide, counselor and friend. Let us tell the good news to others and highly resolve once more to dedicate all our time and energies to proclaiming the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Glory to God in the highest!

Anarchists On Campus . . .

By Thurman Sensing
executive vice president
Southern States Industrial Council

Enrollment in American colleges jumped 17 percent this fall, reaching a total of more than 5 million for the first time. The significance of this is that a very considerable group in the nation consists of college students — young people who are acquiring skills and attitudes for their mature years as citizens and leaders.

It is a commonplace of graduation ceremonies to say that these young people are the hope of the nation. They are indeed. The public philosophy they have when they leave college will determine the future of the American Republic — its very fate, in fact. Fortunately, the new generation is one of which older Americans can be proud. The great majority is stable, sensible, and hard-working. True Americanism is in no danger of dying out while in their hands.

But this does not mean that the country can ignore the activities of an irresponsible minority that has been influenced in the wrong direction by adults who want to shatter this republic. Dr. Eric A. Walker, president of Pennsylvania State University, said the FBI had warned him and other college presidents last March of "an organized attempt by foreign money to disrupt the universities of America" through the use of "bogus students and bogus faculty members."

That this warning was well justified was clearly demonstrated in early December by the scandalous and treasonable activities at the Berkeley campus of the University of California. There about 1,000 "students" jammed the university's administration building in an all-night sit-in that disrupted the university administration for 15 hours.

This sit-in resulted in hauling off to jail 814 persons, including 135 non-students who had invaded the campus to join the demonstrators. The first arrest made was of Oakland lawyer Robert Treuhaft, who along with his wife Jessica Mitford, have been identified as Communists several times by witnesses under oath. Also in the group was Bettina Aptheker, daughter of Communist party theoretician Herbert Aptheker, along with members of a local chapter of the W.E.B. DuBois Club, termed a national young Communist organization by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

University president Clark Kerr termed the demonstrations "anarchy by a willful minority of radical students." Even though this group represented only 3 percent of the university's enrollment of 27,500, they created conditions of anarchy just because the university very properly decided not to allow organizations the right to advocate on campus any cause they wanted to — whether legal or illegal, violent or non-violent — as this beatnik, communist, deluded-student outfit demanded.

Even though a vast majority of students had no part in the scandalous conduct, the significant fact is that an organized, radical minority was able to disrupt one of the leading universities in the United States. Moreover, they did this under the misnomer that it was a Free Speech Movement. And even more distressing than this so-called "student" movement, if possible, is the fact that the faculty of the university voted 824 to 115 to support the Free Speech Movement in its demands.

All of which points to the great responsibility that rests not only upon university officials, but also upon university regents, patriotic citizens, civic leaders and public officials to prevent anarchy from invading the campuses of the country. Our university campuses must not become the seat of violent and revolutionary tactics witnessed in other "student" movements over the world. Communist and other subversive elements must not be allowed to spread the agitation and disorders that have racked the Berkeley campus of the University of California. The university officials and their ruling bodies must set the rules of conduct on the campuses, not a tiny minority of radical students supported by ill-chosen faculty members.

This column warned many months ago, when civil disobedience campaigns were begun in U. S. cities, that anarchism would spread. The University of California episode clearly indicates that the anarchists are zeroing in on the college students of the nation. They want to capture the energies of the young people and use them as a force for radicalism in American life.

As soon as its new session is under way, Congress should begin a formal inquiry into the demonstrations at the University of California. The question of subversive involvement is a matter that requires serious study and a public report. Unless there is an investigation, other colleges in other states may find themselves the target of anarchists who pose as legitimate students and faculty members.

SUBSTITUTE

Some researchers conclude that the custom of sending Christmas greetings developed from the old-time tradition of visiting friends on New Year's Eve. When a well-wisher discovered that the person he wanted to visit was not at home—most likely off visiting someone else—he would leave a note and a card as a reminder of the visit.

Plans were made to replace Panama canal within few years.

HOME DECORATIONS

Holiday decorations help emphasize the point that "There's no place like home" at Christmas time. One good source of decorating ideas is a monthly magazine devoted to homemaking and fashions. Department stores are stocked with a variety of decorations and Mother Nature provides such materials as pine cones, green leaves, evergreens, berries, pods and nuts.

HOLLY BELIEFS

The early Druids decorated their halls and homes with boughs of holly as a welcome to spirits threatened by frost and winter winds. Britons considered it unlucky to bring holly into a house before Christmas Eve and a variation on this belief held that the type of weather at the time the holly was brought into the home determined who would rule the house in the months ahead—if fair, the wife would rule, if bad, the husband would hold sway.

Friendly Folks Herald Approaching Holiday

You can often detect the nearness of Christmas in the attitude of the people about you. Elevator operators become more cheerful. Bus drivers will wait that extra moment for you to catch your ride. Store clerks are more courteous and helpful. The greeting of friends and neighbors is more enthusiastic. Most everybody has a good word to say about everyone. Things just seem brighter and more cheerful everywhere you turn.

Bayard High Wins Fifth in Row 87-39

Bayard High school rolled up to a 29-2 first quarter lead Tuesday night and breezed to an easy victory over Beverly High, 87-39 for its fifth triumph of the season without a loss. The game was played at Bayard.

BIG TREES

Annually, the most famous and most photographed Christmas trees in the United States are those erected on the White House lawn and at Rockefeller Center in New York. The 1958 White House tree, an Engelmann spruce selected from the Kootenai National Forest in Montana, was so large it had to be loaded on two flat cars for the trip to Washington. It was trimmed to 78 feet before being raised and decorated, yet was still the tallest ever used on the White House lawn. The Rockefeller Center tree that same year was 65 feet high and 35 feet in diameter at the base. It came from Maine and was selected only after an intensive nine-month search to find the most perfectly shaped tree possible.

DEER PARK

Christmas Program

The Christmas season at St. John's Episcopal church will begin on Christmas eve at 11 p. m., with the Festival celebration of the Christ Mass. The Young Churchmen's choir will sing carols for ten minutes before the beginning of the Holy Eucharist. Assisting the Rev. Fr. Thomas P. Staup with the celebration are acolytes Robert Rollman, choir crucifer; Harrison M. Thrasher, Jr., clergy crucifer; and Randy Storey and Chucky Rounds, torch bearers. During the Offertory the choir will sing "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones", and Miss Katie Thrasher will sing W. J. Kirkpatrick's arrangement of "Away in a Manger." Organist for the service is Earl Foster.

Time goes on and on, yet red and green continue as the most popular colors of Christmas. One can find no legendary or historical reason, and many assume that it has something to do with the green holly with its red berries. On the other hand, it just may be that these bright colors are so popular because they are the brightest of shades.

More and more other colors, particularly dark blue, white or silver and red gold are being used for holiday decorations, it's true. Yet, they have a long way to go before they threaten the popularity of red and green.

TOYS CAN TEACH . . . Toys are for fun, but there's nothing wrong with a little learning. A popular gift for boys is an electrical engineering set.

The Right GIFT

You can make holiday shopping much less of a chore with a bit of planning, and the obvious starting point is a complete list of the individuals for whom presents are to be purchased.

Once the list is completed, jot down beside each name the categories from which a gift for this individual may be selected. For example, if Uncle Fred is a stamp collector, likes to fish and is interested in Civil War history, note these facts beside his name and then do the same for others on the list. With such a list, you'll find you can complete your shopping much faster than you would if you marked only a single type of present beside each name. You save a lot of time looking and hunting for some particular item. And, if you are certain of the hobbies or interests of the intended recipient, your gift is certain to be appreciated.

CAROLING

Carol sings are traditional in many great American cities. The custom is so popular in St. Louis that there is a Christmas Carols Association which has thousands of members. Residents welcome the carolers with lighted candles in their windows and offer voluntary contributions which are turned over to 70 institutions for the handicapped and underprivileged. In New Orleans, carol sings are traditionally held across the street from historic St. Louis Cathedral, in the French Quarter. Youthful carolers sing songs in both English and French.

Mr. Sherman is the son of Mrs. Vanard Sherman, of 2041 Winton Avenue, Speedway, Ind., and the late Mr. Sherman.

Plans are being made for a fall wedding in St. Christopher's Catholic church in Speedway.

ANIMAL YACKERS . . . Larry, the Lion and Crackers, the talking parrot add a new dimension to talking dolls and cuddly animals. Each has a vocabulary of 11 phrases and talks freely at the mere pull of a string.

—o—

The open fireplace so popular in today's modern homes is helping to renew the popularity of the Yule Log tradition. Few moderns are likely to venture into the woods to select their own Yule Log, yet there will be a glowing fire in thousands of homes this holiday eve.

If you are going to sit by the fireside this holiday, you'll be in keeping with tradition if your Yule Log is oak, ash, olive, apple or pine.

Ash is popular because it burns quickly, throws off ample heat and need not be seasoned. Beech has a pleasant aroma and gives off a steady glow. Oak is often preferred because it burns slowly.

Less favorable woods are the elm, which is slow to get started, and poplar, which sparks badly if it is unseasoned.

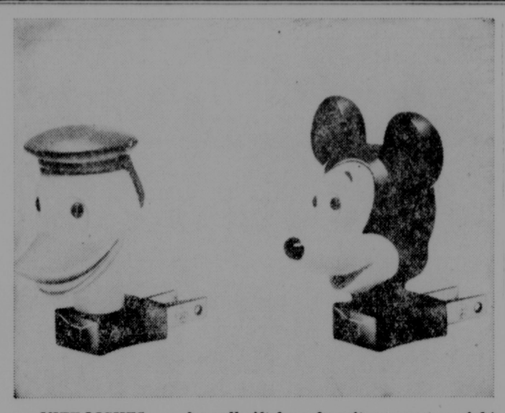
THE PINATA

Pinatas are a necessary part of any holiday party in Mexico. Traditionally, the pinata is a clay jug, with no particular shape, which is filled with fruit, candy, pesos, and a variety of small gifts. It is suspended from the ceiling. Children are blindfolded and given a stick, the pinata is swung back and forth and the fun is on as the merrymakers try to smash the jug and send the goodies tumbling down.



NITE LIGHTS . . . A small gift for a favorite youngster might be suggested in night lights which feature favorite cartoon characters. They plug right into wall outlet, provide just the right amount of light.

Twenty Are Killed On State Highways

Twenty persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police.

Seven of those killed were drivers; eight were passengers; and five were pedestrians.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in six of the deaths; speed in eleven; and "driver error" was present in eighteen of the fatalities.

"Last week's rash of twenty fatalities on Maryland highways completely wiped out the small advantage over last year's performance which has been maintained throughout most of the current year", commented Colonel Carey Jarman, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police. "The 573 deaths registered up to and including December 20 is two above the number killed during the same period last year.

"In every one but two of last week's deaths the investigating officer reported 'driver error' - failure to observe the fundamental rules of the road. Continued emphasis on the necessity of all operators exercising their responsibility for highway safety is clearly indicated by the cold weekly statistics."

EARLY CARD

What some investigators believe to be the first card printed specifically as a Christmas card was the one designed in 1843 by J. C. Horsley for Sir Henry Cole. The card had one center illustration and two side panels. The center panel depicted an English family raising wine glasses to toast a missing friend. Scenes on the side panels showed the feeding of the hungry and clothing of the naked. It was the only card Sir Henry Cole ever had designed — reaction to the toasting scene from temperance-minded friends was far from what he had expected.

Highlanders Lose To Bruce 75 to 65

It was another of those last minute defeats again for the Southern Highlanders last Friday evening on the Oakland court as Bruce High of Westernport defeated the local team 75 to 65. It was Southern's fourth loss in a row this year.

John Kinnie waited until the fourth quarter to score 15 of his 28 points to take the come-from-behind victory.

The Bulldogs of Coach Leonard Ritchie were trailing 52 to 31 after three quarters when Kinnie came on to wrap up a game that had been tied on fourteen different occasions and lead Bruce to its third win against a single defeat the second in the Potomac Valley conference.

Butch Biggs backed up Kinnie's effort with 20 points while Moran had a dozen. For Southern, John Minnick had 20 tallies while Rob Sharps and Jay Rice each netted 16. Shillingburg added 8 while Friend had the same. Others scoring for Bruce were McIntyre with 9, Pampinto with 4 and Inskeep with 2.

Southern outscored Bruce from the floor at 27 to 26 goals but Bruce sewed up the game by converting 23 of 35 foul shots to 11 of 18 for Southern. Minnick and Shillingburg were banished on five personal fouls while Bruce lost no player.

Plan Open House

Open house will be held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Broadwater in the afternoon and evening of Sunday, December 27th. The occasion will mark their 50th or golden wedding anniversary, and will be held at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wampler, on Latrobe Street in Barton.

No invitations will be mailed but all friends and relatives are invited.

No, Virginia, It Isn't Santa Claus

There is both a similiarity and a difference between the subject of this week's old photograph and St. Nicholas. Both travel by sleigh, both make regular rounds, both leave objects behind them, both are welcomed by those they visit, and both, presumably, work for a non-profit organization.

But while Santa Claus comes but once a year, this gentleman made his trip almost every day.

The man in the sleigh is Lloyd Miller, of Accident, and when the picture was taken he was carrying the mail on Route 2, Accident.

Mr. Miller recalled that travel by sleigh was common in the early 1930's, and frequently was the only way he could cover the 22 miles which comprised his route. The woman standing beside him is a Mrs. Claphan, he couldn't remember her first name, but did recall that her husband took the picture.

The scene is near Keyser Ridge, on Route 219 just off Route 40

Incidentally, the name of the gray horse was "Dan," and the bay "Maude."

TREES A' PLENTY

The popularity of the family Christmas tree is found in the fact that approximately 45 million commercially-grown trees were sold in the United States last holiday season. This number does not include the small operator who cuts and sells trees locally, nor the hardy individuals who venture forth to chop down their own.

HOLIDAY HOLDOVERS

In the year A.D. 601, when Pope Gregory I sent missionaries to convert the pagans, he wisely instructed them to allow converts to transfer the harmless features of pagan winter celebrations into the spiritual fabric of the Christmas observance. Mistletoe, the Yule log and the Wassail bowl are examples. In the 8th century, the missionary Boniface may have started the Christmas tree tradition when he persuaded the Teutons to accept an evergreen decorated in honor of the Christ Child and do away with worship of Odin's sacred oak.

Complete Million Man Hours With No Loss of Time

Employees of West Virginia Pulp and Paper's Luke mill passed another milestone Monday morning when they again completed a total of one million man hours without a disabling injury or lost time accident.

The past 69 days, from October 13 to December 21, the over 2,400 employees at Luke worked without an injury.

This new record follows closely a recent announcement that the paper mill had taken top place in a company-wide safety competition for the best safety performance during the fiscal year 1964, ended October 31. Luke employees won a $500 cash award for winning that annual competition and promptly gave $250 each to the Allegany County Heart and Cancer Associations. Their record during 1964 was 2.6 lost time accidents for every million man hours worked.

This new safety milestone of one million man hours worked without a distabling injury or lost time accident is the fifth such record since October 1962. At that time the Luke mill had set its first such safety record in the 74-year history of the company. They turned in the same record performance three times in 1963.

Following the precedent set with the other four records, all employees will be rewarded for their outstanding safety performance with a special gift. Exact nature of the gift will be announced later.

Donates Prize Money

Luke mill employees, winners of the company's $500 cash award contest for the best safety record in 1964, donated their prize money to the Allegany County Heart and Cancer associations.

A check for $250 went to Russell McBee, chairman of the Westernport Heart association. The other check for $250 to Alphonsus Byrnes, a member of the executive board of the Allegany county cancer society.

The Luke mill had a lost time accident frequency of only 2.6 for every million man hours worked during the fiscal year of 1964. This bettered the safety record of 14 other company operations.

Honored For 25 Years Of Service To Company

On Thursday evening, Dec. 17, at a dinner meeting at Wayside inn, Middletown, Va., Carroll G. Sweitzer of Front Royal, Va., received a watch and diamond tie-tac for completing 25 years of service with the American Viscose Division of the F. M. C. Corporation. Mr. Sweitzer is the son of Mrs. Frank P. Sweitzer of Mt. Lake Park. He is married to the former Miss Bernadean Junkins of Altamont, and they have one daughter Barbara Carol, who is a junior at Radford College, Radford, Va.

When offering congratulations, R. T. Carney, plant manager, noted that Mr. Sweitzer had missed only two days work during the 25 years.

IN THE WAKE OF A SONG

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Carols in the night . . . the old story made ever new again . . . the love for the Christ Child, poignant, deep . . . the nostalgia of past Christmases remembered.

In the wake of a song, "Silent Night, Holy Night," all this comes to mind. And we endow Christmas with the trappings of holly and mistletoe, the flash of bright red ribbons, the glitter of the tinsel on the tree.

Yet, south of the Equator, Christmas comes in mid-summer. There is no holly, no mistletoe, and there's not apt to be a tree. But it is Christmas just the same.

This is not merely a season, this time of the birth of Christ. It is much, much more. To understand it fully . . . to see it in its entirety . . . turn to the Church.

Wise Men's Gift

Background Scripture: Matthew 2.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 60:1-6.

LIKE GOLDEN GLEAMS of light in a dark house of mystery, the wise men of Matthew's story come and go. They came from the east, they brought their gifts, they went home another way. How many there were, what were their names and where their homes, no one knows. What was the star that led them? Did they know who the "King of the Jews" really was? Did they forget all the adventure, as the years grew cold? The church has never known exactly what to make of this story. Some count it a legend that has found its way into the original story. Some supply details not in the Bible.

Dr. Foreman

They did not know who he was

The wise men called the Child they were seeking "King of the Jews." Followers of this Child would find higher names for him in time. They would call him Savior, Son of God, even God only-begotten. It is very doubtful whether these visitors could have passed a good examination in "Christology." But they brought their gifts all the same. If they had known who he was, they might have come or sent messengers, from time to time during the years. They might have waited till the Child was grown, and sent some one to learn what wisdom would come from his mind. When the story of his life had been written, they might have asked for a copy. No, all they saw was a Child born to be a king. That he would be king of the world and not of the Jews only, that his throne would be not in Jerusalem's doomed walls but in the hearts of men, they did not know and could not know. They did not wait till they knew all about him before they made their gifts. They knelt to him as the highest they knew. They paid him tribute they paid no other. So it may be with us today. Do you know who Jesus is? The wisest man can never quite put into words the full meaning of Christ. But do you know his superior? Some super-Christ? There is none on the road, none promised to mankind. It will be time to speak of a greater if God sends one. Meanwhile what Christ requires is loyalty, not explanation. Following brings understanding.

They brought what they had

The gifts are interesting. Gold we can understand; that would befit a king. But myrrh and frankincense? These were spices such as one could buy in any bazaar. For some reason it has always been supposed that these wise men were rich, even kings. Alas, wise men are not always rich in this world's goods. It is just as likely that they had spent all they had simply on the journey, and could spare only the little they had left for gifts. There was nothing to go with the gold; no pearls, no silver, no jewels. These were humble gifts, myrrh and frankincense; but if that was all they had, they gave it and gladly.

So it may be with us. We read stories of great and gifted men, and we think how much we could do for the kingdom of God if we were only men like Saint Paul, Saint Augustine, Martin Luther or William Carey. We doubt whether we could really endure to the end as martyrs if we fell into the hands of communist secret police. So because we cannot offer Christ great heroism, or outstanding genius, or immense wealth, we offer nothing at all.

They did not ask to be repaid

The gifts of the wise men were gifts, not loans. Not bribes. These men sent no statement of accounts payable. They did not think the Child, even a royal child, owed them some generosity in return. They were never repaid, never reimbursed for the expense of the long journey. A gift from them was a true gift, it was not something on account. Once more a thought for these days when it is still Christmas; how many of our gifts we made, how many of the generous thoughts we had, how much of what we may have done for Christ in his church, was really given?

HEALTH MAGAZINE

For better health and an inspired soul, read many facts and complete articles like the ones the following excerpts were taken from:

CASE RECORD NO. 1. A 70-year-old woman in a wheel chair suffering from high blood pressure, coronary thrombosis and hardening of the arteries was living on toast, cereal, milk and pop. Doctor said she could never get well. A nutritionist gave a health talk in her home. She started to take brewer's yeast, vitamin C, and vitamin E and to eat lean meat, eggs, cheese, wheat germ, raw fruit, raw salads prepared with unhydrogenated cold pressed vegetable oils. In one year she was working, walking without a cane and praising the Lord "Who healeth all thy diseases. Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagles."

Faith is absolutely essential to heal, efficiency, peace and life both now and hereafter. Without faith it is impossible to please God. Our big insurance companies who insure everything from your health and life to the weather, are cooperating with our socialistic welfare state to destroy faith in God from the face of the earth. All of this is conditioning the people for the reign of the Anti-Christ—now so very near. It used to be that we had to look to and trust in and pray earnestly to God. Now it is all provided by the arm of flesh so that people do not need to pray or trust God. In fact, our economy is fast ruling God out of the schools, out of government, out of the homes and out of the churches who have a form of Godliness and deny the power thereof.

Table decorations are an essential during the holiday season. Let the basic rules guide you when doing your home arrangement.

Decorators say the arrangement should be kept as low as possible to allow across-the-table conversation without "dodging" heads back and forth.

There'll be plenty of food around during the holidays, so be sure the decorations don't take up too much room.

Care should be exercised to subordinate the receptacles used to the materials used as decorations.

Use plenty of color but don't allow one shade to dominate too much.

THE WASSAIL BOWL

"Wassail" derives from two Old English words, "waes" and "hale," meaning "Be well." It was the custom in ancient England for the host to hand a new guest a cup of the beverage (a mixture of beer, spices and fruit juices) and say, "Waes hael!" In return, the guest bowed, touched his cup to the host's, and replied "Drink hale!" or "Drink in health."

Revolt In Congress Needed

Star performer at the recent Philadelphia convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation was the venerable, white-haired, senior senator from Vermont, Farmer George David Aiken, who begins his 25th year at his Senate desk.

Branding the Supreme Court's "one-man, one-vote" decision on reapportionment of State legislatures an "infringement of democratic rights", the Senator demanded that his hearers "rise up on (your) hind legs and fight..." And the speaker assured them that he was prepared to start fighting as soon as the doors of Congress open.

The Senator will fight, he said, for a Constitutional amendment to overturn the Court's ruling and establish the right of each State to decide for itself whether seats in both houses shall be apportioned by population, such as was passed by the House last session, but killed in the Senate.

Allowed to stand, the decision could only result in a Congress controlled by city members and the loss to agriculture of "much of the protection and services it now receives under Federal law. "An urban-controlled Congress," he declared with unassailable logic, "would be interested in food and fiber of the highest quality at the cheapest price, regardless of how or where produced".

Legislatures representing both area and population have constituted, he said, "one of the most cogent reasons for the rapid growth and development of the U. S." And, he asked, if the Court's decision stands, "is there any reason to doubt that a move to reorganize the U. S. Senate on a population-only basis is not far off?"

Evidently the Senators did not think of that - why not, we wouldn't know - when they voted down the corrective amendment that would undoubtedly take a lot of steam out of the inevitable drive to reform the "most exclusive club in the world." Senator Aiken would take care of this menace and many more yet undreamed of, however, by having Congress "settle, once and for all, the question of the powers and limitations of the U. S. Supreme Court".

We're all for the Green Mountain Statesman, along with the Farm Bureau people who endorse Constitutional protection against spreading the sidewalks over the whole State. —U. S. Press Association, Inc.

Eggnog's popularity is such that at Christmas and New Year's, the drink can be found in nearly every average American home.

It is generally believed that Eggnog came to us from the Old English sack-posset, a hot drink which contains the same ingredients — milk, eggs, sugar and nutmeg. No one really knows who invented Eggnog. Researchers just say that it goes 'way, 'way back and like Topsy it "growed and growed."

The flavorful taste of Eggnog is not the only reason for the drink's popularity. Eggnog is easy to make, it goes a long way, and it allows the hostess to have as much fun as anybody else without having to worry about the guests. Eggnog is a serve-yourself drink, and most folks seem to prefer to fill their cup themselves.

Eggnog is flexible. That is, you can make a lot of it in one batch if you've got a large enough punch bowl and your refrigerator is particularly spacious. On the other hand, Eggnog can be made in smaller quantities — which are equally delightful and flavorsome.

A typical recipe would include:

6 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar
2 cups light or whipping cream
2 cups milk
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla
Freshly ground nutmeg

Beat egg yolks and sugar until thick and lemon-colored. Beat in cream, milk, salt, and vanilla. Beat egg whites until they hold stiff peaks; fold into egg yolk mixture. Served in chilled punch bowl; sprinkle with nutmeg. (Makes 2½ quarts.)

MAKING MUSIC . . . Musical toys come in all shapes and sizes. Pretty young lady shown above is surrounded by four which feature favorite TV and movie cartoon characters, make music at the turn of a crank.

Tips To Guide Selection Of Best Holiday Tree

What species of evergreen is best for use as a Christmas tree?

Here are some facts about the most common species which may be helpful in selecting the right tree for your home:

Balsam fir — once the most commonly used, is now relatively scarce. It has short, flat, dark green needles attached to opposite sides of the limbs in a feather-like arrangement.

Top Tree

Douglas fir — the top commercial tree. It has blue-green or dark yellow-green needles, soft and pliable, attached all the way around the limbs, giving it a bushy, full appearance.

Scotch pine — long needled variety. It has needles which are arranged in clusters on the branches. It holds it needles exceptionally well.

Black spruce — a hardy tree, but has a dark, un-Christmasy color. It is widely used for dyed and treated trees.

White spruce — another hardy, attractive tree, but unfortunately it gives off an unpleasant odor.

Some things to look for in selecting a tree: retention of needles; full symmetrical shape; limbs without sagging; fragrant odor, springy branches.

HOLIDAY HINTS

... by Penny Power

As many mince pies as you taste at Christmas, so many happy months will you have in the New Year!
OLD ENGLISH SAYING

★ ★ ★ ★

Remove stains from your best holiday linens as soon as possible. Cranberry juice, for instance, can be stubborn. Rub stain with glycerine before pouring boiling water on it. Or soak the stain first in cold water, then rub with a cut lemon before consigning to your electric washer.

★ ★ ★ ★

For the present with a future, keep these electric helpers in mind when you're making out your list: electric blanket, cordless toothbrush set, blender, can opener, ice crusher, clock, mixer, rotisserie, electric skillet, slicing knife, dishwasher . . . there are more than 100 electric gifts to give—or hint for!

★ ★ ★ ★

(The electricity to power these gifts continues to be dependable, low in price and high in value, thanks to the more than 300 investor-owned electric companies all over the country—companies just like ours. Working hard and working together, we have made electricity the biggest value in the American family's budget!)

Let the children make strings of "spangles" for the outdoor tree, or to hang in the window. Save ends of small-sized frozen juice cans (they cut cleanly with your electric can opener), then fasten with tiny dabs of glue or clear cement, eight or ten "spangles" to a string.

Ever wonder how this country happens to have the best electric service in the world? The answer is: People . . . three important groups of people . . . more than 4,000,000 Americans who invest their savings with electric companies to help them build and grow. Then, the thousands of employees of those companies who put the money to work to provide the abundance of electric power "at your service." The third group is the biggest and most important of all. It is you, the customers, who constantly find new ways to put electric service to work!

All of us here at your electric service company send all of you, our shareholders and customers, the very best of holiday greetings!

Commissioners And Legislators Seek Mine O.K.

endorse the request of the County Commissioners, that a permit be issued to the Bortz Coal company, Uniontown, Pa., to conduct the strip mining in Garrett county, outlined in the letter which the County Commissioners are sending."

The letter continued: "In addition to the matters mentioned by the county commissioners, we wish to point out that it is our understanding that the proposed stripping operation would actually benefit the land involved, rather than harm it, because under the law the Bortz Coal company would be required to back-fill the land which was disturbed and the company has indicated it would be willing to replant this land. We believe that this action would benefit the land because practically all of the present trees and foliage on the property are worthless and the stripping operation followed by planting would actually improve the property for forest purposes. . . . .In our opinion this stripping operation would be highly beneficial to the economy of Garrett county."

In the letter from the commissioners, it was pointed out, "Coal constitutes the most valuable natural resource in Garrett county, and it is generally estimated that there are a thousand tons per foot of coal in each acre of coal land, with the coal under the area running from 3 to more than 4 feet in thickness and hence, each acre contains from three to four thousand tons of coal. This type of coal sells for approximately $4 per ton, which means that the coal in each acre is worth from $12,000 to $16,000. We also understand that about 16,000 tons could be produced each month so that total production would amount to about $64,000 per month. . . . .The people of the county are in need of every possible economic help. . . . .It is estimated that this mining operation would furnish employment for some years to at least 50 persons and is quite possible that by developing different parts of the area involved, would furnish 2 to 3 times that much employment. In addition the state would benefit from the sales tax and both state and county would benefit from the taxes on the equipment being used".

Mr. Schell and also Frank T. Powers, former bureau of mines director, have advised that the property involved is located some miles from any main highway, that no hard surface roads traverse the property and that the stripping operation would not even be seen by the general public, that the flow of water in the area would not be affected and that there is very little commercial timber that would be affected by the operation.

JERUSALEM CHERRY

Flowering plants are ideal for Christmas and one of the more brilliant and less expensive pot plants is the Jerusalem cherry. Its round, red fruit is especially appropriate for the holiday season. It needs bright light and likes a cool temperature, no higher than 55 degrees at night for best results—although it does admirably even with a 65 degree night temperature. If the plant is allowed to wilt, or if cooking gas fumes fill the air, the fruit will drop.

TREE IDEA

An idea that appears to be gaining in popularity is that of decorating a live tree with its roots wrapped in burlap. The tree can be kept fresh throughout the holidays, then planted outdoors.

RING THE BELLS

In Switzerland, bell ringing is a Christmas tradition and each community prides itself on the harmony of its bells. The church bells of Zurich have rung in harmony for hundreds of years, each Christmas calling the faithful to church services.

CHRISTKIND

Dear to the heart of Swiss children is Christkind, personified by a girl in white, her face veiled and her head crowned in gold. Accompanied by other children dressed in white, Christkind carries her basket of gifts from house to house, her coming announced by a silvery bell. When she enters a house, the Christmas tree is lit and delighted children receive their presents.

How do you remove Christmas stains? The best trick to remember is to work fast. Don't let the stain set in the fabric. Even a short delay can be disastrous.

Following are directions for treating washable fabrics to remove the stains you will most probably encounter during the holidays.

Ballpoint ink — use carbon tetrachloride to remove the stains. Soak in warm soap or detergent suds, then wash and rinse in clear water. If discoloration remains on white or bleachfast material, use a mild bleach and launder again.

Candle wax — scrape off excess wax with a table knife. Place stained spot between blotters (white) and press with hot iron. Then rub spot gently with turpentine and wash in warm suds.

Glue — soak in warm suds until dissolved; then launder in fresh warm suds.

Chocolate or cocoa — wash in hot suds. Treat any remaining stain with a weak solution of household bleach or hydrogen peroxide and launder again in hot suds.

Meat juices — soak in cool water; then wash in hot suds.

Gravy and white sauce — soak in cool water then wash in hot suds.

Paint — if fresh, use lots of suds. Otherwise, apply turpentine or kerosene and then wash in hot suds.

Alcoholic beverages — soak or sponge with cool water promptly; thenwash in warm suds.

IN DISGUISE . . . Cecil, the Seasick Sea Serpent, a TV favorite is featured in a quick-change disguise kit which includes eyeglasses, mustaches, false teeth, lion's mane, hula skirt and other similar items.

THE PERSONAL TOUCH

In gift-giving, as in all other things, the "personal touch" is important.

Often, the most appreciated gifts are "home-made" and their value is measured by the recipient not in terms of dollars and cents but in recognition of the time and effort that went into preparation of the gift.

Few of us, however, have either the time or the talent necessary to "make something" for everyone on our holiday list. And, with the wonderful selection of gifts available in local stores, it just isn't necessary. But we can still add the personal touch by putting a little extra effort into gift wrapping.

IN FRANCE

Public Christmas trees are not so popular in France as in America, although they are found in many French homes, usually ornamented with candles and lights, tinsels and colored stars. Also popular is the traditional manger scene—small figures arranged in a fashion that characterizes the story of the Nativity.

Appalachian Plan Heard By Leaders

vided to change the farm land to pasture land for all types of live stock.

6. Timber . . .loans would be granted to provide a management program of the timberland. Mr. Sweeney observed that the majoriparts of the bill as follows:

1. A massive road building proty of the land is privately owned and the people are unable to underwrite a good program.

7. "Cement" . . .this would provide development in some areas where extra financial help is needed. Such as for colleges and schools and conservation work which cannot be underwritten by the communities.

The conference was called by Del. R. Samuel Dillon Jr. (D-Washington County).

Attorney General Thomas B. Finan and Mayor Earl D. Chaney, Cumberland, welcomed the group of Western Marylanders to the meeting. Forty to forty-five of the group were from this county.

Committee Named

The group decided Monday to name a committee of fifteen, five from each of the three counties involved. Three of the members for this county already have been named and they include Helmuth Heise, Deep Creek Lake, for business; Robert Bever, Bloomington, for labor; and Russell Smith, Oakland, for the mayors of the county. The two other committee members are to be named, one from the County Commissioners, and one from the legislative group. They are to meet and select their own representative.

Willard Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, and Charles L. Briner, manager of the U. S. Employment service, will be members of an advisory committee.

These committeemen are to serve for both the Opportunity Act and the Appalachia program, Briner said.

Delegate Dillon said that the three counties would ask the state for a $25,000 planning grant so that Western Maryland would be prepared when the federal Appalachian development bill was passed. The money would be used to hire a consultant to determine the area's needs and co-relate projects initiated locally. The three counties are included in the 165,000 square mile Appalachian area stretching from Erie, Pa., to Birmingham, Ala.

A SAFE AND HAPPY HOLIDAY

To the very young, Christmas is a time of bright little lights on a tree, of shiny glass ornaments and decorations, of filmy spun glass filaments, and of toys that have sharp, rough edges, and lots of candy, nuts and other rich edibles. All of this is part of Christmas . . . and this is fine—but a few precautions should be taken to insure a safe holiday.

Old strings of lights for the Christmas tree should be examined carefully. If worn-out bulbs are discarded, they should be put where youngsters can't get to them.

Glass ornaments and glass "angel hair" should be kept out of baby's reach. The ornaments crumble readily into sharp slivers.

Most manufacturers now avoid lead-based paint, but be sure the toys that come into your home do not bring the threat of lead poisoning when a child chews on the toy.

Select toys with a minimum of sharp edges and avoid toys constructed of materials which are quick to burn—and see that the toys are large enough so that baby can't swallow them.

SANTA'S VILLAGE

Santa Claus, Indiana and Christmas, Florida pop into the news each Christmas season, and throughout the year are visited by thousands of tourists. Away out West, in the San Bernardino mountains not too far from Los Angeles, California, the star of popularity is fast rising for Santa's Village, a replica of the North Pole home of Santa Claus, complete with plenty of snow during the winter months . . . and including, of course, Santa himself, his elves, animals, toys, candy, and a 20-passenger sleigh.

MASTERPIECE . . . The above painting, "The Nativity," by Gerard David, from the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Jules S. Bache Collection, is one of 300 masterpieces of painting featured in the widely-acclaimed color TV presentation "The Coming of Christ." First shown in 1960, this program was repeated last year. It tells the story of Christ and his ministry, bringing to life in a striking realistic still-pictures-in-action technique masterpieces of painting of the late Middle Ages and the Renaissance.

"THE CRICKET"

Charles Dickens is best remembered for "The Christmas Carol"—but this was not the most popular of his Christmas stories during his lifetime. An instant hit with the public was "The Cricket on the Hearth," a touching story of a father's attempts to shield his blind daughter from the realities of life. Shortly after it appeared in 1845, some 12 different theatres in London were presenting dramatic versions of "The Cricket."

GONE TO WORK

Each Christmas week the Georgia Power Company of Valdosta, Georgia, decorates its glass-walled lobby with a beautiful Christmas tree and a Santa who sits by the tree and waves and smiles to all who go by. On Christmas Eve, Santa has disappeared. On the chair is a sign bearing this message, "Sorry—this is my busy night. Santa Claus."

Holiday Greenery Brightens Home

Home decorations are not complete without holiday greenery about the house. The best choices linclude spruce, pine, hemlock, yew and aborvitae. Of these, yew seems to hold up best.

If you use broadleaf evergreens —laurel, andromeda, boxwood, or Japanese holly—for table decorations, keep them in water or the leaves will shrivel and die within a short time. Even though short lasting, broadleaf evergreens are ideal for making wreaths. For this purpose, they may be mixed with holly, balsam or yew.

What Indeed Is Christmas?

What, indeed, is Christmas?

Why is Christmas, of all holidays, the most eagerly awaited, the best-remembered?

The answer must be that Christmas is the one holiday that has a special meaning for all mankind. The spirit of Christmas was first reflected in the eyes of wise kings and humble shepherds who had journeyed from far and near to witness a special miracle—the birth of a promised Redeemer.

Christmas customs change with the modes and mannerisms of new generations. Yet the real story of Christmas remains forever the same. Christmas is the birthday of Jesus Christ.

However we choose to celebrate this great holiday, we must find it difficult to ignore that there is in the world about us a spirit of love and goodness, of close communion with God and with mankind. It lives within the heart of all who have recognized the true meaning of Christmas.

In the report there was included two paragraphs on a study conducted in this county, which stated:

"A study project to determine what services were needed to improve the employability of twenty-one fathers who were receiving A-FDC from the county welfare board was completed during the year. This was directed by a State committee whose membership included employment placement and counseling specialists, a vocational rehabilitation counselor, a physician and a social worker. A local committee with similar representation (other than a physician) had responsibility for offering the services to this group of unemployed fathers. The results of the project are now being assessed.

"Under the Federal Public Welfare Amendments of 1962, the Department has continued the development of AFDC Services aimed at strengthening family life and self-support. Our efforts to fill the additional worker and supervisor positions authorized for this purpose continue".

The Good Witch Visits Italy's Young

It is on January 6, the Feast of the Epiphany, and not on Christmas Eve that Italian children place their shoes by the fireplace. The shoes are placed in anticipation of the arrival of "Befana", the good witch, who comes down the chimney on a broom to fill the shoes left out for her — sweets for the good youngsters, coal in the shoes of the naughty.

APPEAL FOR 1964

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAY SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Since Christmas is the most dangerous time of the year on the highways, The Maryland Traffic Safety Comm. urges us to join with them and the religious and civic leaders throughout the State in reducing holiday tragedies by perpetuating good will and concern while driving.

As Mayor of Grantsville, I would appreciate your cooperation in observing the period between December 13th through January 1st as "Christmas Campaign Time." I wish to call upon every citizen to participate by driving and walking in a safe and sane manner and by setting a good example. Observe all traffic laws, don't drink and then drive, and eliminate all hazards for yourself and your fellowman—be your brother's keeper—assume your responsibilities to him and to yourself. Happy holidays.

HAPPY NEW YEAR GREETINGS TO ALL

Private Industry Scores . . .

The myth that only the federal government can create huge electric power projects has again been punctured. This time it is a private investment group, known as the Western Energy Supply and Transmission Associates. That is proving that a massive project—one that eventually will dwarf the TVA, the Aswan Dam and other giant power producers—can be constructed without the use of a single penny of taxpayer funds.

Work has been started by Western on a vast electric power complex that will cost over $10 billion dollars and will provide energy to consumers in nine western states. An enormous new network of transmission lines will supply local utility companies with cheap and abundant power, Western says, and the consumers will benefit from lower rates.

Actually, the benefits will extend far beyond the consumers in the affected areas to all the nation's taxpayers. That's because the utility companies involved will not supply private funds for the massive project but they will continue to pay taxes, as usual—something the government-financed power plants do not do.

So private industry scores again. During this time of year when it is customary to make resolutions, it would be most appropriate for the federal government to get out of private industry and allow business men to take on the job. They are much better qualified.

Eleven Are Injured In Two-Car Crash

Eleven persons, including both drivers, were injured in a two-car collision on U. S. route 50 near Ridgeville, W. Va., Sunday afternoon.

The accident occurred when a car driven by David Lee Ward, 25, of Baltimore, slid across the highway and collided with an automobile operated by Robert Warnick, Bloomington.

Both drivers and nine persons riding in the cars were taken to Potomac Valley hospital in Keyser. Six of them were admitted and the other five released after treatment for minor injuries.

Riding in the Warnick vehicle were Mrs. Marian Warnick, 53, of Bloomington; Mrs. Abbie Wilson, 49, Westernport; her son, Paul Allen Wilson, 22, Westernport; and daughter, Paula, 2; George W. Wilson, 48, and Mrs. Judy Wilson, 22, Westernport.

Mr. and Mrs. Warnick, Mrs. Abbie Wilson, Paul A. Wilson and Paula were admitted. The others were released after treatment.

Trooper D. L. Elmore who conducted the preliminary investigation, said both vehicles were a total loss and that the probable cause was driving too fast for road conditions.

Garrett County Tops Bond Sales Quota

Sales of series E and H bonds in Maryland for November of $6,757,981 were $559,598 or nine percent of sales of November of a year ago.

Sales of both series for eleven months totaled $74,213,032, an increase of 2.6 percent over the comparable 1963 months, bringing the state's achievement to 96.9 percent of its yearly goal of $76,600,000.

Garrett county was first with 117.8 percent of quota achieved, with Dorchester second and Worcester county third. Baltimore had 93.9 percent.

Anticipating that December sales would be on a par with the average, it looked like the state would exceed the goal by more than $4 million.

Actual figures for Garrett county: quota, $176,000; November sales, $33,514; total sales January to November, $207,276; total sales for the same period in 1963, $174,071; 117.8 percent of quota, with top ranking among other counties.

Injured When Buggy Upsets on Christmas

Isaac Stolzfus suffered a broken jaw and lacerations of the head on Christmas day when the buggy in which he and his family were returning from a visit to home folks upset, pinning him beneath the vehicle.

He was taken to Garrett County Memorial hospital by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schlosnagle, where his injuries were taken care of. His wife and children escaped with minor bruises.

Mr. Stoltzfus returned home from the hospital on Monday and is now recuperating.

The family was returning to their home after spending the day with Mrs. Stoltzfus' home folks when the shaft became loose, frightening the horse. The horse started to run away and the buggy upset, pinning Mr. Stoltzfus beneath it. Robert Swartzentruber and others rushed to the scene and gave aid.

27 Names Added To Registration Books

Twenty-seven citizens have had their names added to the registration books since the registration books were reopened following the general election of November 3.

Miss Julia A. Rowan, chief registrar, said there had been 14 Democrats, 9 Republicans and four others. The breakdown showed the following: Democrat males, 8; Democrat females, 6, with a gain of one male through party affiliation.

Republican males, 6, Republican females, 3, total 9, and a loss of one male through party affiliation. There were four other males for the total of 27.

There was a loss through cancellation: Democrat males, 1; Democrat females, 2, for total of three; Republican males, 5; Republican females, 6, for a total of 11; total loss, 14. There was a loss of 26 through death: Democrats males, 11; Democrat females, 1, total 12; Republican males, 13; Republican females, 1, total, 14; grand total, 26.

Four persons had their maiden names changed to their married names.

The books are open during regular hours for normal registration, change of party affiliation, changing of maiden name to married names, change to the district in which a person resides, or change of address.

Checking Account Query Brings Facts; Also $10,000

A 14-year-old boy, attending a school in Baltimore, with a yen for thrift found himself $10,000 richer on Monday, but it was only for a short while.

Israel Kallus, a first year student at Ner Israel Rabbinical college opened a letter from the Garrett National Bank in Oakland, expecting to find information about opening a checking account that he had requested.

But in its place he found a treasury bill worth $10,000 that had been placed in the envelope by mistake.

He took it immediately to Rabbi Hillel Sittner, professor at the school, who in turn called the bank. Nordeck Shaffer, assistant cashier at the bank, at first expressed utter amazement, but when he heard the details over the telephone he said someone at the bank apparently had stuffed the treasury note into the envelope addressed to Kallus by mistake. He said the note was destined for the Federal Reserve Bank in Richmond, Va. Instead the Federal Reserve bank got the letter explaining about checking accounts.

It was a short term government note, not currency, but one that could have been cashed "without much difficulty" at any bank—if the bearer were known.

Kallus, of Forest Hills, Queens, New York, is a son of the owner of a chain of furniture stores. He said he had written the bank two weeks ago requesting information on opening a checking account because he had heard the charges at the bank were lower than most. The bank note created much interest among the students at the college.

The bank was assured that the note would be returned, and bank officials happily revealed they would be glad to take care of any expense involved.

Asked if he still wanted to open an account, he declared, "Indeed I do."

A local wag jokingly remarked: "They present coffee pots to the local citizens but bank notes of $10,000 to the city people." The bank had presented coffee pots to several persons among the many who called at the new drive-in facility which opened just two weeks ago.

March Of Dimes Set For January

Annual Campaign To Raise Funds To Get Underway Next Month

The annual campaign to raise funds for the March of Dimes drive will begin Friday, January 1, it was announced by Charles L. Briner, campaign director.

Mr. Briner said coin collectors would be distributed to all business establishments to start off the activities and would be done by Saturday.

He explained that the drive this year is for two causes—birth defects and the care of previous polio patients. He said polio still was a factor to be reckoned with in the county although no new cases had been reported in this area for two years. There still are a few cases that receive financial assistance from the local chapter.

It was estimated there would be some 450 to 475 births in the county during 1965 and that some thirty babies would be born with defects, and that this was the place of biggest need. Research also is carried on with money received in the March of Dimes drive.

The coin collectors are to be picked up by January 31. In addition to the containers business and professional people are to be contacted directly. This was done last year, Briner said, and had been very successful.

A Mothers' March will be held in various areas of the county on Sunday, January 24, from 2 to 4 o'clock, and that a radiothon would be conducted from the National Guard armory also on that afternoon.

Bloodmobile to Visit Oakland January 6th

The American Red Cross bloodmobile unit from Johnstown, Pa., will be in Oakland next Wednesday, January 6th and will be at the Oakland fire hall from 12 o'clock noon until 6 p. m., and Red Cross officials are hopeful that the quota of 100 pints will be met easily and perhaps surpassed.

Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, blood recruitment chairman for the Red Cross, said there could be no better way to start the new year than by a resolution to become a blood donor. The real need for blood was pointed out with last week's report from Johnstown which showed that 302 pints of blood were received in the area during the week while at the same time giving out 586 pints to various hospitals where the need was specified.

Mrs. Stemple said the Red Cross chapter was deeply grateful to the many persons who had contributed blood in the past and to the many volunteer workers who assisted at every visit of the bloodmobile unit.

She said the visit of the bloodmobile affords the opportunity to fulfill a civic responsibility, and pointed out that the importance of an adequate supply of blood for the community could not be over estimated because the availability of whole blood for immediate use had no doubt helped to save many lives in the local hospital over the past thirteen years.

Mrs. Stemple had special praise for those persons who time and again contribute their blood and to the many persons who walk in on the spur of the moment to give their pint.

Young Man Is Held On Check Forgeries

James R. Alexander, 18, now residing in Alexandria, Va., but a native of this county, was lodged in the county jail on Tuesday after a preliminary hearing on charges of forgery and passing bad checks.

He was alleged to have forged the name of his grandfather, Vernon C. Friend, on two checks, both for $15, one on the Garrett National Bank, one drawn on the First National Bank. Both were passed at Gregg's Pharmacy.

He was placed under $250 bond in each of four charges for a total $1,000 cash bond and was placed in the county jail in default of bond to await action of the March term grand jury. He may ask for an immediate trial, it was stated.

The charges were preferred by Wayne Wilt, deputy sheriff.

SRC Advertises For County Road Project

The State Roads commission has advertised for bids for the relocation and paving of U. S. route 219, from Northern High school to U. S. route 40, at Keyser Ridge, according to John D. Bushby, district engineer.

Bids for the 4.006 mile county project will be opened Tuesday, January 26 at the SRC headquarters in Baltimore.

Mr. Bushby said the SRC hopes to have the project under contract so construction could start as soon as the weather breaks in the spring. He said a scenic overlook and picnic area would be constructed on the old highway at the Cove where a broad expanse of mountain tableland can be seen.

The scenic view from that point has not been generally available to motorists because of the narrow road and traffic at that point.

The upcoming highway modernization project will continue a contract which was completed and opened for traffic last month. This was the 2.86 mile section of U. S. route 219 between Accident and Northern High and was completed for the SRC by the S. J. Grove and Son contracting firm of St. Paul, Minn., under a $1,635,161 contract.

It provided a relocation highway with two lanes and truck passing lanes where needed.

PSC Formally OK's Phone Rate Hike

The Public Service commission formally approved last Wednesday the rate schedule for a $2,725,000 annual rate increase it authorized Nov. 13 for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company of Maryland.

The increase is effective January 1. C. and P. had sought $6 million a year.

What the increase would mean to customers was indicated by a company spokesman. Generally all extension telephones—business and residence, including private branch exchanges, will cost 10 cents more per month. Nineteen items of auxiliary and supplemental equipment will cost more, in varying amounts.

Installation charge will go up $1 for residence telephones and $2 for business. In general, the charge for moving or changing telephones will go up $1 for both residences and business.

The basic business rate will go up 20 cents a month. There will be no increase in rates for long distance calls to points outside Maryland. On long distance calls inside Maryland a charge of 15 cents will be made regardless of the cost of the call. At present there is a sliding scale.

Unusual Weather Brought To An End

The unseasonable and topsy-turvey weather of the past ten days was brought to a halt today with much cooler temperature in the below freezing range.

It had been a week of unusual events including blooming plants, thunder storm on Saturday, and a rainbow on Christmas morning and also on Saturday. Nature was struggling mightily to get the water table back to normal before the onset of snow. Temperature during the week went up to 63 degrees, with the mercury up to 59 and 54 degrees upon two other days.

A run-down of the week's weather showed the following: Thursday, cloudy and rainy with temperature rising to 63 by 11 o'clock. Rain continued on Friday. There was a thunder storm Saturday and rain continued to fall on Sunday. There was freezing weather on Monday with temperature around 28 degrees and remaining cloudy. It got no higher than 30 degrees that day.

Tuesday began with temperature around 27 but moderating and clearing later. Temperature got up to 59. There was additional rain on Wednesday with the mercury in the 40's but by afternoon it had gone up to 54. Additional rain fell at night accompanied by a high wind. It had cooled considerably by this morning with mercury at 29 degrees, but clearing skies.

Drunk Pedestrian Causes One Wreck; Several Near Ones

An apparently inebriated man who was walking in the middle of the highway between Mt. Lake Park and Oakland on Christmas Eve, was the cause of one wreck and several near wrecks, in attempts of the drivers to avert striking him.

Mrs. Edward Zimmerman, in an effort to avoid hitting the man, swerved to the side of the highway, ran off the berm into the soft dirt and ran over an embankment, overturning. Although she was not seriously hurt her automobile was damaged to the extent of some $600.

Others who narrowly missed similar experiences were Jack Durst, who was enroute to Altamont to pick up a man injured in another wreck, James Remley, Jr., and several others whose names were not available.

The apparently drunken man escaped being hit by any of the autos, and he disappeared from the scene before any of the drivers was able to identify him positively.

Mrs. Zimmerman's car left the roadway in the ditch back of the C. A. Phillips home, on the north side of the highway.

Oakland Native Dies In Bus-Car Wreck

An Oakland native was killed Saturday, December 26, in an accident involving two cars and a bus on U. S. 40 about nine miles west of Hagerstown. Three others were injured.

State police identified the victim as Mrs. Mary Ivadelle Skipper, 45, of 1531 Park Road, N. W., Washington, who was employed as a hostess in a Washington restaurant. She suffered a fractured skull and broken neck in the accident and was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Howard Weeks, deputy medical examiner for Washington county.

Police said Mrs. Skipper was a passenger in a car which crossed over the center line and crashed head-on into the second car, which was driven into the front of the bus. No one in the bus was injured.

Injured were Mohsen Shad-Aram, 26, of Baltimore, driver of the car in which Mrs. Skipper was riding; and Louis E. Mechling, Jr., 61, and his wife, Grace, 63, of Pittsburgh, occupants of the second car. All were admitted to Washington county hospital, Hagerstown.

Born in Oakland December 21, 1919, Mrs. Skipper was a daughter of Guy Paugh, Tampa, Fla.; and the late Iva Friend Paugh. Her husband, S. Dayton Skipper, died at Christmas time last year. She had resided in Pittsburgh for a number of years before moving to Washington six months ago. She was a member of St. Peter's Catholic church, North Side, Pittsburgh.

She is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Virginia Myers, Pittsburgh; a son A 2-c James Skipper, Travis AFB, Calif.; two brothers, Marshall Paugh, Pittsburgh; Wesley Paugh, Tampa; and two grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Minnich Funeral home in Oakland. A requiem mass was celebrated Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at St. Peter's church in Oakland with Rev. Michael K. Carney, pastor as celebrant. Interment was in the Friend cemetery near Swallow Falls.

Pharmacist Coming

The Englander pharmacy will have an additional pharmacist beginning February 1, it was announced this week by C. W. Englander.

He is Ed Fazenbaker, who has been employed in Hagerstown for the past several years.

Mr. Fazenbaker is a native of Westernport. He is married and the father of three sons, one in college, one in high school and one in junior high.

He was graduated from the Pharmacy school at West Virginia university in 1950, in the same class as that of Robert Proudfoot. It was also learned that he went to high school with S. R. Pagenhardt.

Fazenbaker is president of a barbershopper group in Hagerstown and is also a ski enthusiast.

Ski Championship Races Scheduled January 30, 31

Seventh Annual Event Will Be Held At Marsh Mountain Ski Area

The seventh annual Maryland State Junior Ski championships are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, January 30 and 31, it was announced this week by Dr. Harold Ashby, president of the Western Maryland Ski club, which sponsors the event.

The ski club met Monday night to work out details. Harvey Winters, Jr., was named as race chairman.

Slalom events are scheduled for Saturday, January 30, with the giant slalom on Sunday.

There will be classes I, II, III and IV for both boys and girls as rated by the USEASA. Entry blanks are due by January 28, and should be mailed to Mrs. H. Taft Oursler, at Oakland.

Skiers aged 17 and 18 compete in class one; those 15 and 16 in class two; those 13 and 14 in class three; and those 12 and under in class four.

Trophies are to be given for first, second and third places in all events, it was stated.

Holiday Mail Shows Increase in Oakland

Holiday mail showed an increase at the Oakland post office during the Christmas season, as did many offices in the tri-state area.

Figures were released by Guy William Hinebaugh, postmaster. Cancellations from December 1 through December 25 at the Oakland post office totaled 198,958 in comparison to 164,030 for the same period last year and 152,164 the previous year.

There was no record of incoming parcels and incoming letters, but postal workers were aware the amount was very considerable and the mailings remained heavy until the day before Christmas.

The increase for the period was 34,928. Mr. Hinebaugh said the office would not be open for business on Friday, January 1, but that persons would be able to get into their boxes in the post office.

Income Tax Forms Arrive In Area

Garrett county residents for the past several days have been receiving their New Year's greetings from the State of Maryland and from the federal government. Forms for the yearly income tax returns are being distributed.

Irving Machiz, district director of the Internal Revenue service, pointed out that there are a number of legislative changes since the last tax filing period.

In filling out the reports a taxpayer may choose to take a standard deduction or they may itemize their deductions.

The percentage of taxes to be paid was decreased as the result of legislative action, but there were also changes in items that could be deducted. As space permits The Republican plans to use some tax guides which will inform the taxpayers what may and may not be done.

One Is Hospitalized

Charles McKinley, about 40 years, employe of the West Virginia State Roads commission, was hospitalized at Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland on Christmas Eve, as the result of a one-car accident on State route 135, east of Altamont.

He was later transferred to the West Virginia university medical center at Morgantown.

Trooper Ronald Lewis of the Maryland State police, who investigated, said the man had run off the berm, a short distance east of the overhead bridge. He was charged with operating under the influence of liquor and reckless driving. A hearing has been postponed pending the treament of his injuries at the medical center.

Flu Virus Strikes Mac Mathias Family

Congressman Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md.) and his two small sons are confined to their Frederick home with a flu virus. Mrs. Mathias is recovering from pneumonia in the Frederick Memorial Hospital.

The unwelcome virus visitor hit the Mathias home on December 23 when Mrs. Mathias was rushed off to the hospital. All are reported in good condition.

Mr. Mathias had planned to spend this week between Christmas and New Year's holding office hours in his District offices at Cumberland, Hagerstown, and Oakland. Due to his illness and that of his family he has had to postpone this schedule. Dates will be re-scheduled as soon as possible.

Constituents are asked not to contact his home. Matters concerning his Congressional Office are being handled by his staff in Washington and the District Offices.

Three Are Seeking Immediate Trials

Three persons who are confined in the county jail, awaiting action of the March Term grand jury, have waived their right to indictment and have asked for an immediate trial.

Arrangements have been made for their trial as soon as Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill returns from a vacation trip.

Thomas Edward Haley is being held on charges of escape from a forestry camp and also from the county jail.

John Edward Saunders is being held for auto larceny, escape, and another auto larceny.

Richard D. Paugh is being held for breaking and entering and larceny, auto larceny and escape.

Haley and Saunders, who had escaped from the forestry camp near Lonaconing, and who also were charged with the theft of an automobile, teamed temporarily with another jail inmate, Richard D. Paugh, 24, of Kitzmiller, and broke out of the county jail but were back in the hands of the law the same day. They had sawed two bars of one of the windows on the south side of the jail and made their get-away in the automobile owned by the Rev. Fr. Michael K. Carney which was parked across Fourth street from the lock-up.

The three were captured by state police in Westminster. Saunders and Haley had been held in the county jail since December 5 when they were arrested in Hagerstown and charged with stealing an automobile from the Grantsville area.

Paugh was lodged in jail December 8 on nine charges placed against him for breaking and entering, burglary and larceny, all committed in the Kitzmiller area. He was under bond totaling $4,500.

Two Are Fined For Spotlighting Deer

At a hearing before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney, two brothers, John W. McKenzie and Edward D. McKenzie were found guilty of two charges, that of spotlighting with firearms in their possession and that of having a loaded rifle in their truck.

They entered pleas of not guilty on both charges, and when found guilty the former entered an appeal in both cases.

Magistrate Maroney fined them $20 and costs for having a loaded rifle in their truck and $100 and costs for spotlighting with firearms in their possession. In the case of Edward McKenzie the magistrate suspended the fines.

Inspect State Police

Maryland State police stationed in this county went to the LaVale barracks yesterday where the annual inspection took place.

The inspection was conducted by Col. Carey Jarman, superintendent; Lt. Col. George C. Davidson, chief of operations for the State Police; and Capt. W. E. O'Hara, troop commander.

All personnel, equipment, weapons, vehicles and the barracks were inspected. Lt. W. H. Massey is commander of the LaVale barracks which includes all troopers serving in Allegany and Garrett counties.

Holiday Trade Is Excellent, Most Stores Report

Some Businessmen Indicate Business Was Best Ever

Holiday buying among Oakland stores was considered excellent this year, most merchants declaring that the month of December was generally better than last year and in some instances the "best Christmas we have ever had."

With Christmas falling on Friday this year, it gave shoppers plenty of time to complete last minute business. Most business men indicted that Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were particularly good days, with people cooperating fully with the merchants in the plan to close early on Christmas Eve so that employes might have a little more time with their families.

The merchants' committee of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce had decided to remain open in the evenings, starting December 15, but closing at 5:30 on Christmas eve and remaining closed on Saturday, December 26. This apparently caused very little loss of business on that extra day.

One merchant told inquirers that business was no better or no worse than last year but was not enthusiastic. "Very happy over the results," one business man said. "Biggest Christmas season by far," said another.

Because of the comparatively warm weather of the present season, one merchant said the sale of ski equipment and heavy winter clothing was possibly less than last year, but buyers made up for it in other purchases.

One man said the pattern remained much the same, that December business remained rather constant through the years. Grocery sales seemed good this year, with all of them getting their share of the trade, in spite of the additional markets available in this area.

Stores generally were well stocked with quality merchandise and people again found that in most instances it wasn't necessary to go to other cities to get what they wanted. The weather didn't prevent any person from going to other cities who wanted to do so, but there was no great surge to the larger cities.

It was agreed that this year's Christmas business was generally very excellent, and hope was expressed that similar conditions would continue through the early months of 1965.

Three Are Injured In Two-Car Crash

Three young men were injured Tuesday night in a two-car crash on the Broadford road, just east of Oakland. The two automobiles involved were practically demolished.

One automobile was driven by Jack Alfred Kight and riding with him was Michael Vance. Gary Sell was the occupant of the other car, owned by his step-father, Robert Weeks.

After the cars side-swiped the Kight car left the roadway and struck a utility pole. Kight suffered a severe blow on the head and was unconscious for a time. He remains a patient in Garrett County Memorial hospital. Vance suffered contusions and abrasions but was released from the hospital yesterday. Sell was not injured.

Investigating the accident was Corporal Robert D. Henline of the State Police. Corp. Henline said the investigation is continuing and as yet no charges have been preferred.

Fire Partially Destroys Home

Fire of undetermined origin partially destroyed the home of Silas Sterling in Crellin on Tuesday night about 10 o'clock. Oakland firemen were called to the scene and aided in saving some of the household furnishings.

It was a one-story frame dwelling and was unoccupied at the time of the fire. Mr. Sterling is in an Oakland nursing home and Mrs. Sterling recently passed away.

Outside walls still are upright but flames gutted the interior.

The American Way

Growing A Money Tree . . .

By Harry Browne
Editor, Freedom Magazine

Wouldn't it be wonderful if you had a money tree?

Just think: you'd never have to work again — except to pick whatever money you needed off the tree.

Doesn't that sound heavenly?

But you're not selfish, are you? While we're dreaming, let's extend our wish to include a money tree for everyone. Then no one would have to work. We'd each have all the money we need.

Yes, it's a mean old world without money trees. Why didn't the Creator see fit to give one to each of us?

But wait a minute! We have a government in Washington that's equipped with a printing press, plenty of paper and ink, and a determination to promote our "welfare". Why doesn't the government do something about the money shortage? Why not print enough money so that no one will have to work again?

Sound ridiculous?

Of course!

Its Real Value

In the first place, money is not wealth; it is only a means of exchange. Real wealth consists of such things as goods and services, personal property. The value of money is only in what it will purchase. What good is a million dollars if inflation cuts its buying power to one loaf of bread?

You and I know that the only way you can have anything is to work for it. To have things, you must produce them — or produce something you can exchange for what you want. We realize that the more money there is in circulation, the less each dollar will buy. And no matter how much money we "grow", we still have to produce more products and services in order to be a wealthier nation.

Isn't that right?

Well then, what in the world are they trying to prove in Washington? Why try to make us believe the government can return $11 billion to us in the form of a "tax cut" — and yet not cut down on its own spending at the same time? How can we be any richer just because an extra $11 billion in printed money has been put into circulation? Obviously, what is needed is more production, not more paper money.

No, money trees are not for us. They're for children reading fairy tales and for politicians — but not for grown-up men and women.

Our True Wealth

For each of us has something far more valuable than a money tree. We each have arms and legs and a mind that can conceive of ideas. We can grow and prosper by increasing our talents and energies.

Money trees soon die because they're unreal to begin with. But man's ambition is real and limitless. In a free economy, the sky's not even the limit. There's nothing you can't do, if you really want to do it — and if it's not infringing upon the property of another.

So what we really need from Washington is the freedom to produce more. We need an end to foreign aid and farm subsidies and urban renewal and public power and all of the rest of the fairy-tale programs that are taking our wealth from us. What we need is the freedom to grow and prosper on our own.

That freedom is worth a million money trees. And it can be yours if you're willing to work to obtain it.

Rose Oldest Of Gridiron Bowls

IT used to be that any armchair sports fan could name without any difficulty the bowl games to be traditionally contested on New Year's Day. In fact it was possible in previous years to watch part, if not all, of more than one of these great gridiron battles. Now they are numerous.

The "daddy" of all the bowl games, however, is the fabulous Rose Bowl, which started as a supplement to the Tournament of Roses in 1902. Michigan walloped Stanford 49-0 that year.

Chariot races were substituted for football the following year and not until 1916 when Washington State beat Brown University did collegiate grid action at its finest return to the Tournament of Roses.

Since that time the Rose Bowl has remained the number 1 New Year's Day sports attraction, and besides the thousands who watch from their living-rooms, annually attracts crowds in excess of 100,000.

Cannon Welcomed Russian New Year

In pre-revolutionary Russia, booming cannon welcomed in the New Year and the evening of December 31, known as St. Sylvester's Eve, was cause for great fun and enjoyment.

It was custom for Russian boys to go from house to house encouraging everyone across the gulf from past to present. While so doing, they scattered oats and other grains in petition for a bountiful harvest.

A mythical symbol was Ovsen, pictured astride a boar, symbolically associated with pork served for New Year dinner and the symbolism of Ayran descent.

New Year DECISION

It began to snow just as they left Pleasureville and turned on Route 24. Jim Davis muttered an ugly word and took a quick side glance at his wife. "Wouldn't you just know it! Weather's clear for 60 miles on Interstate and it begins to snow when we turn on this wagon trail."

Francis Davis laughed shortly. "Remember, dear, this trip is your idea. I wanted to spend a nice, quiet New Year at home by the fireside. Oh, no, not you. The whole family is getting together at mother's, so we must go too."

"You know we have to go. Everyone will be there. Mother wants to talk about some new ideas for the business. If I am to take over as general manager when she retires, I have to know what is going on. I can't learn anything about the management of the business just calling on customers."

"There'll be plenty of time for that when the change is made, Jim. This meeting could have been held at some other time. The rest of the family live within 20 miles of Carterville. It's no effort for them to get together.

Jim looked at his wife. "Everything you say is true."

They shouldn't expect us to drive nearly 200 miles, particularly during the holidays."

Jim slowed down as the spray from a passing truck covered the windshield with a mixture of water and ice.

"I am not a child. But, I am realistic. Mother made a success of Davis Brothers after father died.She raised a big family. She built something for them, and for their children. She has the right to be a bit domineering."

"Then, dear husband, what makes you think she will not continue to be domineering for the rest of her life? Do you think she is just going to one day give it all up and say, 'O.K. children, you're on your own.'?"

"She intends to retire next month. She'll be out of the picture then."

"She will give up her office, perhaps. My bet is that future company business will be conducted in the family parlor and you'll be making the pilgrimage quite regularly."

"All right, all right." Jim pulled into a service station. "There's a cafe next door. Let's get a cup of coffee while they fill the car with gas."

Silence

They were silent over the coffee. Finally Jim looked across the table at his wife. "Everything you say is true, Francis. I've thought about it for a long time. I have had offers from other companies. I almost took a job with Daugherty Associates, I may yet. It's still open. I love my mother and my family. But I don't think things will change. On the other hand, I don't really want to get out. The company needs me. I have established excellent relationships with all our customers. It will take someone else years to achieve as much, just as it has taken me a long time."

Frances winked across the table. "You have a way of getting things done, so why say things won't change, or can't be . . ."

"You mean I can change things?"

"Can't you?"

Jim Davis was silent for a long time. "Come on. There is a motel next door. I'll not drive another mile tonight."

Relaxing in a plush chair, Jim Davis reached for the telephone. "Take off my shoes, will you, hon? I'm bushed."

Attentive

Dutifully, Frances removed his shoes. Then listened attentively as he placed the call.

"Mother? Jim. I've decided not to drive the rest of the way tonight. Weather's rotten and I'm bushed. We're checked into a motel near Pleasureville." He paused, listened for a moment. "Well, you just go right ahead. But remember, if I am to be general manager, I intend to have my say. I'll be there sometime tomorrow; not sure just when. We may sleep in a while tomorrow."

He put down the phone and turned to his wife. "Happy New ear, darling."

What Happened To The American Tradition?

Today, many people are wondering what has happened to the American system that produced the most prosperous nation in the history of the world. They wonder how America's economic system has bogged down; how we have become the champion of every nation's interests but our own. The answers to these understandable questions are not easy to come by.

But one American scholar has come forward to light a candle amidst this darkness of confusion. Clarence B. Corson, Professor of American History at Grove City College in Pennsylvania, has written a new book entitled "The American Tradition".

In it, he does more than just seek to persuade us that the traditional American concepts have been subverted. He defines the exact characteristics of the American tradition — and relates them to a host of matters: constitutional safeguards, equality, opportunity, group action, etc. From this, he paints a clear picture of the factors that are responsible for America's greatness.

Tradition Forgotten

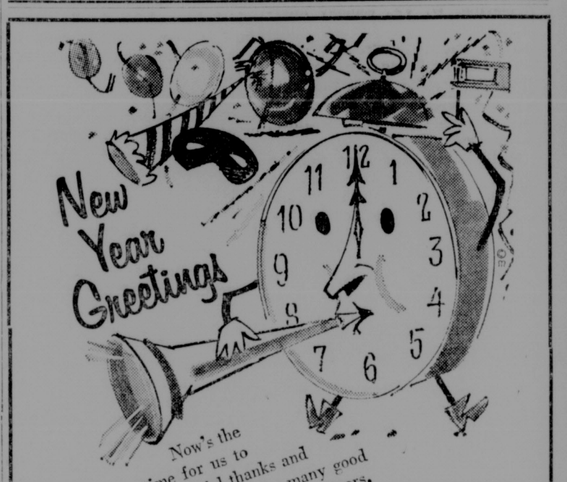
He then shows how this tradition has been lost — "forgotten" as he puts it. He points out that today's intellectuals "had forgotten what our ancestors knew, that a government of men is usually arbitrary and despotic, that a Constitution must be rigorously adhered to or it will lose its force and character, that concentrated power is ever a dangerous thing to the liberty of a people, that power exercised by a majority can be tyrannical just as that exercised by a minority, that the ultimate meaning of human institutions rests in their relationship to the individual, that government cannot act positively to benefit selected individuals and groups without acting unequally upon others, that goods are produced by the willing action of men who have incentives, and so on. In short, they had forgotten — that is, did not believe — the fundamental tenets of the American tradition.

"Seeing the abundance of America, they supposed that they could redistribute it at will, without deleterious effects. Seeing the freedom in America, they supposed that they could pick and choose among its components. Seeing how much had been done by taking thought, they imagined they could do all things".

Approach Fails

The author shows how the new approach has failed — and yet has received little criticism for its failures. The Federal Reserve System (in opposition to the American tradition of private enterprise) was created in 1913 to end all depressions. American intervention in World War I (contrary to the American tradition) was justified for it was the war to end all wars. But somehow the "experts" have remained aloof from these failures; and they continue to remake America.

Lastly, Professor Corson presents a road back to the American tradition. He suggests general proposal that will help reestablish the great system we have forsaken. In addition to calling for repeal of the present income tax amendment, he cites other ways to bring our Constitution up to date. He points out that new inventions and progress have created areas of private enterprise (such as radio and television) that need to be protected from government, just as the newspaper profession has been from the start.



Now's the time for us to extend grateful thanks and best wishes to our many good friends and customers.

"Let's try the cafe we saw in the Want Ads—I'm kind'a tired of leftovers!"

Harry Ashby buttoned his coat against the wintry wind and glanced at the ornate clock in the jewelry store window. Ten o'clock. Two more hours and the New Year would be officially recorded.

Harry didn't like the idea of spending the holiday alone. But business had brought him to Greendale and that business wouldn't be completed for a couple of days yet. It was too far to go home, much as he would like to spend the time with Helen and the kids.

He glanced at the blinking lights of the movie house across the street, then gave it a second thought. He'd seen too many movies, too much television in the last couple of days. He could buy a book or a newspaper, but reading had no appeal either.

A Thought

He ambled down the street, leisurely looking into the store windows, only half seeing what was displayed in each. He began to look for a restaurant. After all, he hadn't eaten since this morning and that had been only toast and coffee served in his motel room. Funny though, he wasn't really hungry. Yet, there might be a chance that he would find someone to talk to in a nice restaurant. That was what he really needed, someone to talk to, anybody.

He ambled down the street, leisurely looking into windows.

Harry paused at a busy street corner, nonchalantly watching the lights change from red to amber to green and back again. He was unaware that he was blocking the sidewalk, forcing pedestrians to walk around him.

Suddenly, he noticed the man across the street. He, too, was blocking traffic, just standing there, watching the lights change back and forth. Ah, thought Harry, a kindred soul.

The lights changed again and Harry started across the street.

Encounter

As he passed, Harry brushed against the man ever so slightly. "Forgive me," he said in his politest voice. "I am afraid that I was daydreaming."

The man smiled. He was neatly, yet obviously inexpensively dressed. "Perfectly all right. I am afraid that I was, too."

"Yes, but you were standing still. All my fault. I'm sorry."

"No harm done." The man turned his attention to the lights again.

Down a succession of streets Harry wandered until he heard the clock in the tower strike the hour of eleven. He turned his footsteps into the nearest restaurant, found a quiet table in a corner and began to study the menu. He had resigned himself to a solitary meal and, probably before the New Year arrived, he would be back in his room asleep.

"Happy New Year," he muttered to himself.

Surprise

"Happy New Year," came the reply.

Harry looked up. It was the man from the street light incident. "We meet again," the man said. "Welcome to the Cafe Roberto. I am Roberto."

"I see," Harry said. "I thought you were . . ."

Roberto laughed, "Like you, a wandering stranger? Oh, no. I am instead, perhaps, a student of human nature. A people watcher, you might say. When I grow tired or bored, I like to step outside and watch the world go by. You have gone by many times tonight, my friend."

Harry laughed. "I must have been absorbed in my solitude. I thank you just the same and I shall enjoy the hospitality of your Cafe Roberto."

Roberto held up his hand to stop a passing waiter. "Good," he said, taking two glasses from the waiter's tray. "And, we shall drink a toast to the New Year."

Harry raised the water to his lips. "To a Happy New Year." Perhaps it would be. Even the water seemed to taste like champagne.

New Year Customs Many In Japan

The most popular illustrations on Japanese Christmas cards are of the stork and the turtle. These represent the wish for a long and healthy life, apparently, as the stork is supposed to live 1,000 years and the turtle said to live for 10,000 years.

Also popular are illustrations of the Seven Gods of Good Fortune and the Pine tree, which symbolizes good fortune.

Most Japanese merchants send cards to their customers.

It is also traditional for bells to welcome the Japanese New Year. The bells ring out 108 times on New Year's Eve, reminding the people of the 108 commandments of Buddha.

One interesting old Japanese custom is the spreading of parched beans about the house, in the belief that such drives away evil spirits and invites good luck to enter the household.

ROMAN CALENDS

The word calendar comes to us from the Romans. On the first day of the month, known as Calends, the priests assembled the people for a review of the sacred days and festivals that would be observed in the months ahead. The people marked important days on their "fasti", so we must speculate why it is we wound up with a calendar rather than a "fasti."

UNIQUE CALENDAR

The Moslem calendar is unique in that the twelve months of the year begin with the approximate new moon without any intercalculation to keep them geared to the seasonal equinoxes. Thus the months, and New Years, too — retrograde through the entire year in about 33½ years.

Your doctor has any one or all of four basic reasons for prescribing the drugs he makes use of for your better health. These four are (1) to cure disease, (2) to prevent the development of disease, (3) to increase or decrease a physiologic function of the body in order to alleviate pain or undesirable symptoms, and (4) to help restore the body to its normal power of function.

Letters to the Editor

Editor:
Republican

Dear Sir:

I read a recent article in your paper by Mr. Fulcher Smith who stated that of the recent 2 day doe season that 60 percent of the kill were button bucks. This seemed quite high to me so I did some checking of the records and find that of the 359 deer killed in Garrett Co. (this does not include 27 that were checked at Westernport) 282 were does and 77 were bucks which is about 22 percent and not 60 percent. Also to go a little farther Allegany County had a total kill of 482 of which 371 were does and 111 bucks or 23 percent.

Very Truly Yours
Carroll E. Miller
P.S.—Official Checking Station for Oakland Area.

Dear Sir:

Please find enclosed two clippings from the Grant County Press, Petersburg, of December 16. This certainly will give our game commission and law makers as well as the people of the county a good idea of what they are doing to our deer crop.

It seems to me they want to get rid of the deer and if this is the case the land owners may as well help them. If the deer are getting small from inbreeding why doesn't the commission get some bucks to turn out. They get extra money from deer stamps and that big trout stamp but where do they put the trout?

L. P. King

Ten Years Ago, (1954)

Incomplete returns indicated that West Virginia's recently completed any sex deer season was a successful one. Grant county reported 1,358, which showed less than last year, while Hardy county hit 809.

Deer Kill Totals 525 For County During Season

When the curtain came down on the current deer season Saturday evening, the total kill for the two week "buck only" season was estimated at 525, according to Conservation Officer Joe Michael.

Hunting pressure for the second week was very light and all things considered it was a rather uneventful season in Grant county. No more than the usual number of violations were reported by law enforcement officers and fortunately the season in Grant county was accident-free.

Take Happy Outlook For A Good Year

Thinking about that New Year resolution, or whether or not to make any promises for 1965?

Why not resolve, simply, to try to make it a happy year for yourself and for those with whom you come in contact.

Begin by making an effort to know yourself better. Sit down for a moment and think about the things you like about yourself and the things you would like to change.

Look for Good

Think about the people about you — your family, your friends. Consider their good points and consider as well the things about them that displease you. Ask yourself why this is so, and what can be done about it.

Promise yourself to make an effort in the year ahead to be understanding of the problems of others, to think about the other fellow as well as yourself. Sometimes, if we just make an effort to put ourselves in the other fellow's shoes, we get a better understanding of why he does certain things or acts a certain way.

Resolve

Resolve, in the months ahead, to do the things you like to do. Spend more time pursuing a favorite hobby, whether it be reading, woodworking, or what-have-you.

Make an effort to change the things you don't like — and the best starting point is to change the things about yourself that you know should be changed.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
PRESIDENT—NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

Former President Eisenhower is said to have remarked that the deposed Khrushchev, if the truth were known, might like to take his family out of Russia. A cartoonist for the Buffalo Evening News has shown Mrs. Khrushchev calling from their apartment kitchen to her dejected husband: "Couldn't you run for New York senator, Nikita?" We are not suggesting that America, the land of freedom and enterprise, is the place for fallen dictators to start new careers. But it is gratifying that the U. S. still operates its melting pot and haven for the oppressed.

What is distressing, however, is that events of recent years have made possible our protection, often under the guise of maintaining freedom, of any and all radical revolutionaries that care to form up to the right or the left. Virtually all the screams have been uttered about a single rightward nonviolent organization, with the leftish press at home and abroad playing it up into a cacophony of fear of American conservatism. But the wave of neo-radicalism has been largely ignored, except by the propaganda machines in Havana, Peking and Moscow.

Columnist Victor Riesel, perhaps the most competent writer in the labor movement today, has described this growth of violent radicalism as stemming from Communist purpose and currently "haunting America." In many guises but never entirely disguised, "its leaders are young and openly call for street violence, armed squads, mass revolution, the destruction of capitalism, general strikes, committees of struggle and the weakening of police authority to put down riots," Mr. Riesel recently wrote.

Four particular groups, he said, are more active than the many others and they never run short of funds. These are: the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC), the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM), Hammer and Steel, and the Workers World Party. These outfits run more than 100 "clubs" in 10 major cities and even in some areas of the South and New England, according to Mr. Riesel.

Mr. Riesel believes that members of one or more of these groups have been in the middle of virtually every major street disturbance we have had. Better informed than most of our commentators, Mr. Riesel has read their literature. He notes the theme of violence in one of their quarterlies, from which he quotes: "We intend to find out how to elevate every daily struggle of the people into revolutionary will. It is our intent to build a mass revolutionary party. It is our belief that the objective conditions exist in our country and on the world scene for such a development. We will encourage every revolutionary or militant tendency among the people . . ."

A PLM leader is quoted to the effect that workers "must be prepared for violence out of self-defense." Hammer and Steel, Mr. Riesel explains, has been most active for Mao Tse-tung and Red China's guerilla warfare and violent revolt. This Boston based group, he revealed, has called for a Cuban-style revolution right here in the U. S. and also demands armed revolt by the Negroes. It reminds us, as it does Mr. Riesel, of the proliferation of the radical groups of the Thirties, when they had virtually no opposition and enjoyed some encouragement from the White House itself.

Analysis Of The Foreign Aid Controversy

Americans would seem to have some justification for expecting that the money, agricultural supplies and military assistance that have been poured into foreign — specifically Communist — countries would generate some spirit of cooperation, friendliness and even reciprocation. That such has not been the case should now be abundantly clear to anyone who can read.

Four Points

The controversy over foreign aid which divides the Congress and public opinion has been analyzed in a study by Milorad Drachkovitch, "United States Aid to Yugoslavia and Poland" (American Enterprise Institute For Public Policy Research, 1012 14th Street N. W., Washington, 5, D. C.; $1.00). The book makes four main points:

1) In spite of all ideological differences and the doctrinal claim of superiority of the Socialist economic system over the capitalist, Communist leaders have not hesitated, whenever they deemed it necessary, to request and accept aid from capitalist regimes; 2) In every one of these instances U. S. aid has been of vital importance to the survival of the Communist countries; 3) Communist governments have always avoided making any substantial concession for aid received from the West; and 4) After expressing gratitude on receipt of Western aid, Communist governments have either deliberately suppressed any mention of its existence or have tried to minimize it.

No Justification

Certainly nothing in the record would indicate that acceptance of $2,304,000,000 by Yugoslavia and $878,000,000 by Poland since 1945 has had any impact whatsoever on the policy-orientation of these countries. Yugolavia has not supported pro-Western policies, and has even attempted to export its own Communist model among the nonaligned "third world" of neutralists — in Africa, Asia and even Latin America.

There is a growing realization that U. S. aid programs have produced little tangible return. The sharpness of debates over the foreign aid bills of 1963, and the closeness of key votes, indicated mounting dissatisfaction.

Support Of Communism

Mr. Drachkovitch maintains that far from affirming U. S. sympathy and support for the ultimate freedom and self-determination of the people of Yugoslavia and Poland, such aid strengthens their Communist rulers.

The book concludes with the views of a growing school of thought that aid should either be given with specific strings attached, or discontinued entirely. This, not in order to win a captive area to the West, or to impose the American way of life, but simply to promote the cause of human freedom in that part of the world.

Who Started Holiday Toast?

Whether with egg nog, coffee or whatever, nearly everyone offers a toast to the New Year. Just who started the custom of offering a "toast" is open to question.

We do know however, that the ancients indulged in the custom of celebrating a fine harvest or a fine hunt with a "toast", although the word itself goes back only to the 17th century when it was English custom to place a bit of toasted bread in a cup of wine.

The "broken glass" toast, or the habit of breaking the glass after the toast was made, originated with the military practice of offering a toast to the queen and throwing the glass into the fireplace. We can speculate that breaking the glass prevented someone unlucky from spoiling the wish for good health by drinking from the same glass.

Sermonette By Area Ministers

Rev. Henry A. Lee

About this time of year most of us are scared stiff by the calendars on our walls. The year has passed so swiftly. We are reminded that each moment stands between yesterday and tomorrow. From behind us the river of yesterday flows beyond us into the river of tomorrow. We stand at the point where they join—turning from the known to the unknown.

The calendar of 1964 has been written full by all of us. It can never be erased or re-written however much we may long to do so. History records with Pilate, "What I have written—I have written." And Paul advises, "Forget those things which are behind." We will not and should not, however, completely forget 1964. It holds for us many sacred memories. Let us take from it the memories of our gains in godliness, the lessons which have made us wiser, and the dreams which were born—and turn toward 1965.

1965 is an unsoiled calendar . . . nothing has been written on its pages . . .but we may anticipate what will be written. To many 1965 will bring sadness, frustration, and defeat. For thousands marriage vows will be broken, crushing homes, while the heat of new love will be cooled in the icy atmosphere of the divorce court. Thousands will wrestle with sickness, cancer, heart disease, and other illnesses of the body, and others will be killed on our highways. Many will be called to walk through the valley of the shadow of death, while others left behind brush away tears. Many will lose fortunes and live in shattered dreams. But most tragic of all will be those who wander through another year—aimless—filled with inner fears—purposeless—with no hopes, ambitions, or dreams to guide them . . . .defeated.

And the bright side? For other thousands the vows of marriage will kindle a flame which will burn for eternity. Others will assault sickness with the knowledge and skill of medical science and march toward conquering cancer and heart disease . . . .and the church will marshal its forces to fight illness around the world. New life will emerge—triumphant in the midst of suffering and death. New parents will find fulfillment and love in the birth of a child. . . .their tears will be tears of joy. Fortunes will be won and many will prosper. And many will walk into 1965 with purpose and vision, guided by timeless hopes and ambitions, knowing that with them goes God Himself.

God and ourselves will determine what we write on the calendar of 1965. He will provide the life, the health, the time with which to write . . . .We must do the writing. May it be such that 1965 will truly be anno Domini, "the year of our Lord".

Highlanders Take Mt. Savage 66 to 65

The Southern Highlanders received some Christmas cheer in the first victory of the season over Mt. Savage Indians last Wednesday evening, December 23, at Mt. Savage. The final score was 66 to 65, and put them 1 to 2 in the Potomac Valley conference.

The victory came as the result of sensational shooting by Jay Rice, who collected 36 points on 16 field goals and four out of five foul goals. It shook the 4-game losing streak of the Highlanders and put them 1-4 for the season. Many of Rice's shots were of the long range variety.

With Mt. Savage leading 65 to 64 and less than a minute remaining, Rice converted two foul shots to give the Highlanders a come-from-behind triumph.

Southern held a 17-15 edge at the quarter, trailed by a point at the intermission 32 to 31, and was four points behind Mt. Savage at 47-43 entering the final period.

Birmingham, who sank 9 out of 12 foul shots for Mt. Savage, tied up the score at 64-all on a pair of free throws and put the Indians ahead at 65-64 with another foul goal. Then Rice pulled the game out of the fire for Coach Bill Watson's quint.

George Shaffer sparked Mt. Savage's attack with ten field goals and 6-10 at the foul line for a total of 26 points.

Outscored 26 to 20 in field goals Mt. Savage kept it close by sinking 25 of 33 at the foul stripe for a .758 average. Southern hit on 14 of 20 for .700.

M. Friend had 5 points for the Highlanders while J. Minnick had 7, Shillingburg 5, Sharps 11 and M. Flanagan 2. Rob Sharps and Mike Friend of Southern and Bill Johnson of Mt. Savage, fouled out with five personal fouls. T. Dettmer was non-scoring.

Scoring also for Mt. Savage were B. Johnson with 10, Wilson 9, Birmingham 11, Harvey 9. D. Blank was non-scoring.

The loss was Mt. Savage's fourth against a single victory.

The game closed the pre-Christmas schedule for the Highlanders who will resume play on Tuesday, January 5 against Bayard, at Bayard.

24 Are Killed On Maryland Highways

Twenty-four persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police.

Eight of those killed were drivers; twelve were passengers; and four were pedestrians.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in eight of the deaths; speed in twelve; and "driver error" was present in nineteen of the fatalities.

"Christmas week of 1964 has come and gone, leaving in its wake twenty-four dead persons on Maryland highways, which fact has been duly entered in the record book," commented Colonel Carey Jarman, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police. "At the same time, the total for December was pushed very near to the all-time high of 72 in November".

Colonel Jarman asked: "Why are so many being killed on the highways and what are we (including you) doing about it? Certainly, an appropriate double-barrelled question.

"In last week's carnage it is easy to recognize contributing factors such as too much speed, too much alcohol, and too many driver errors, but we see, also, too much impatience. This is a prominent characteristic of the unsafe driver and it shows itself in such actions as driving too fast, trying to pass when the way ahead is not clear, and failure to reduce speed when conditions are bad—fog, rain, snow, and ice.

"As to the second part of the question—what are we (including you) doing about it? My answer is: Not enough."

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haenftling, Accident, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joyce Ann, to James Robert Born, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Born, 5957 N. Newark, Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Born, a 1961 graduate of Concordia College High school, Milwaukee, Wis., is also senior at Concordia Teachers college.

No date has been set for the wedding.

IN with the NEW...

Time to say goodbye to 1964, and we do so with some regret. It was a good year, full of progress and change, and during which our new Oakland Drive-In facility was born. It was a year in which we made many new friendships and cemented many old ones. It was the forerunner, we hope, of many more good years in this fine, fast-growing area.

To you, our special friends and patrons, may we extend our best wishes for a year of health and plenty for you and your families. Thank you for giving us the pleasure of serving you!

We will be closed all day Friday, January 1. Open Saturday, January 2.

There's magic in these sands of time, and as a child you were bewitched with endless fascination as you watched the grains sift from one glass sphere into another.

But as you grow older, the hourglass begins to have a different significance. Now you see the grains of sand as passing time—almost as if it were being snatched away from you. And there is a kind of desperation watching it go.

Why? Because never again can we recapture these minutes, hours, days!

But let's not bemoan the passing of time. Let's determine to take advantage of those grains of sand which we still cup within our hands. It's really never too late to begin again. God has revealed this important fact of life to us again and again throughout His teachings. Discover it for yourself by going to church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Strange Kingdom

Lesson for January 3, 1965

Background Scripture: Matthew 3.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 40:1-11.

HAVE YOU EVER heard so much about a person you have never met, that it almost seems that you have met personally, after all? Let's suppose you have a friend — call him Bill — who in turn has a friend named John. In the course of a year or two Bill has told you so many stories about John that you feel you know him. You know how he thinks, how he acts; you can guess what he would do in an emergency; you may think so well of him that you want nothing better than to arrange to meet him. And yet Bill has never given you the whole story of John's life. What he has given you are living glimpses into the character of a real man.

Dr. Foreman

The New Testament gospels are like that. Strictly speaking the gospels do not give us the story of Jesus' life. What they do is to give us a number of short stories about him, a number of remarks he made. They tell us so much — every bit of it revealing — that we feel we know the vital facts about Jesus.

Occupied country

Each of the four gospels puts together a different set of stories and reminiscences of Jesus; and each mosaic comes out a different (but not contradictory!) picture. The portrait in Matthew comes out showing Jesus, a child born "across the tracks" so to speak, a young man earning his living for years as a carpenter, being all the time a King. This was astonishing, and it would have astonished you, too, if you had been there. Jesus lived in what would nowadays be called an occupied country or territory — occupied by the military of a foreign nation, that is. Rome and the Romans were everywhere. Now the Romans had one Caesar and that was enough. (In future years that was not enough, but that's another story.) The point is that every Jew in the place ground his teeth every time he thought of the hated Romans and their insolent soldiers. The question is, how could Jesus or any one else claim to be a King without getting entangled with the Romans?

Great expectations

There were two reasons in particular why Jesus did not immediately get pounced on by the watchful Roman security police. One was that he did not at first lay claim to a throne, and when people called him Messiah (which meant something like King-Elect) he would vigorously hush them up. Another reason was that he lacked the things most pretenders to a throne would be expected to have, such as an army and a squadron of diplomats. But the real reason why it was so long before the Romans took notice of him was that he turned out to be so different, and his kingdom so different, from the king and the kingdom the people were looking for, that his own people, the Jews themselves, did not recognize him.

Reality

What they got, or what they were offered, was something, Some One, far better than their greatest expectations; a king who would not only be the legal heir to David's throne, — which Jesus was — but one to whom "all authority in heaven and earth" had been given. They expected a Kingdom, right away, in which every evil which torments man would be destroyed, and right maintained by force. What they got, or what they were offered, was a kingdom of the heart, — a realm that might have to wait centuries to be fully established, yet one which could begin now — and does exist in the hearts of faithful people everywhere. The news of this kingdom is never expressed as a second-best, or as a disappointment: it is always good news, — for that is what "Gospel" means. It is the best news there is. The kingdom of Christ is as near to you as your next prayer; it is as powerful as the Spirit of God.

DANGEROUS IDEA

Looking about the country this season, Howard Kershner, who writes a commentary on the news and broadcasts from Radio City Station in New York City, said in a recent broadcast he found "much that is wrong and deplorable in our own country and even more in the foreign outreach which causes people to be uneasy and unhappy."

After pointing out many things for which to be thankful, he had the following to say:

"A strange and dangerous idea seems to have taken root in the minds of many of the leaders of America—the idea that we must not win the cold war or wage it too vigorously for fear that it might arouse our enemies to greater efforts. But if one is struggling with an enemy who is determined to kill him, he does not say, 'I must be gentle to avoid stirring up in my opponent a more intense desire to kill me.' A determined, implacable enemy completely dedicated to our destruction cannot be made any more dangerous by our acting as if we intended to win than by a soft appeasement policy. The longer we pursue this policy, the weaker we become while the enemy grows steadily stronger.

"By refusing to win the Korean war, we convinced the enemy that we can be pushed around and that we will not take a vigorous stand anywhere. Korea led to surrender in Laos and to a half-hearted, no-win struggle in Vietnam. State Department policy has included declarations that we must be careful not to encourage indigenous rebellion against communism in the satellite countries or anywhere else. To do so, it is said, would cause stronger effort to expand communism. Our soft policy has discouraged the people in the satellite countries who rightly believe they cannot depend upon the United States to help them win their freedom. Refusal to win at the Bay of Pigs was a crushing defeat for anti-communist forces throughout the world."

Howard Kershner's commentary on the news can be heard over WPIT radio each Tuesday at 12:30 p. m.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAY SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Since Christmas is the most dangerous time of the year on the highways, The Maryland Traffic Safety Comm. urges us to join with them and the religious and civic leaders throughout the State in reducing holiday tragedies by perpetuating good will and concern while driving.

As Mayor of Grantsville, I would appreciate your cooperation in observing the period between December 13th through January 1st as "Christmas Campaign Time." I wish to call upon every citizen to participate by driving and walking in a safe and sane manner and by setting a good example. Observe all traffic laws, don't drink and then drive, and eliminate all hazards for yourself and your fellowman—be your brother's keeper—assume your responsibilities to him and to yourself. Happy holidays.

To Conduct Revival

The Deer Park Assembly of God church will conduct a revival beginning Tuesday, January 5, with Rev. and Mrs. Charles McClure, as evangelists from Washington, Pa.

The coming of a New Year serves to remind us that, as it has been so often said, time is like money. We are suddenly made aware that we have wasted some of this precious commodity during the year that is fast drawing to a close.

Without this New Year to remind us, we might be unimpressed with the monotonous passage of time and the endless pattern of days and nights might have no special meaning.

We are optimistic, nearly all of us. We look upon the New Year as a time of bright hope and promise. We expect more from 1965 than was achieved during 1964. Amid the gaiety that traditionally ushers in the new season, we find the time to be serious with ourselves. We reflect somewhat upon the year that will soon be history. We think of the things we shall do differently in the days, weeks and months ahead.

This is as it should be. If we are to do better for ourselves in 1965, we must realize that our experiences of 1964 — our achievements, successes, failures and unfinished endeavors — provide the starting point for efforts toward a better tomorrow.

We shall have this better tomorrow if we remember the kind of world that we live in. Our modern world is used to change. It is a competitive world. It is a world of contrast — luxuries, gadgets, and playthings on one hand, poverty and unhappiness on the other. It is a world not completely at peace with itself. Much can be done in the cause of brotherhood and in the effort to achieve better relations between all peoples and all nations.

Let us hope that 1965 will be a better year for us all.

FAMILY NEW YEAR

Fred Anderson slammed the kitchen door and flopped down in a chair. "Well, there goes the New Year's Eve party for us. I'll not go if the Smiths are invited, and you know they are."

Eve looked up from her cake preparations. "Fred, you made too much of nothing. Boys are always getting into arguments and little fights. Parents should try to settle these things, not lash out the way you did at Bob Smith. I don't blame him for telling you off the way he did."

"He should have admitted it was all Teddy's fault. You know our Stevie. He never started trouble with anyone."

Eve smiled. "The way I heard it, they both started it. I think they are equally to blame."

"Well, I punished Steve. Why shouldn't he do the same with his boy?"

"Maybe he did. But it certainly wasn't your place to go over there and tell him what the punishment should be."

"O.K.," he said. "Maybe I did go too far."

Fred poured himself a cup of coffee. "O.K., maybe I did go too far. But it burned me up. I don't care if we have been friends for two years. I'll never fish or golf with the man again. And I won't go to the neighborhood New Year party, either. I don't even want to see him."

Eve shoved the cake into the oven. "You're just punishing yourself. You know Bob won't bring the subject up at the party."

"He might. And I'd sure hate to lose my temper again."

"I'd hate it, too, if you intend to make as big a fool of yourself as you just did a moment ago."

Fred put down the cup of coffee, unfinished, and stormed out of the room without another word.

Ann Smith finished setting the table and smiled at her husband who had already taken his customary seat and was busy fixing plates for the children. "Feeling better, dear?"

"I'm still mad. How could Fred act like that? I knew he was a doting parent, but I never expected anything like that."

"You were not a very good picture of the good humor man yourself, you know."

Not a Chance

"We're not going to the party. I don't want to be in the same room with that man again. I'd prefer not to be in the same block or town with him, but I can't change that. I can stay away from the party."

It was almost dark when Stevie Anderson knocked on the Smith's door. "Hi, Mrs. Smith. Is Teddy home? We made up this afternoon and I wanted to talk to him some more. I'm real sorry about the whole thing."

"Teddy's playing somewhere, Stevie. Probably in the back yard. But it's almost dark. Why don't you see him tomorrow? I'm sure your parents are wondering where you are."

The News

Stevie smiled. "They know I won't go far. They said I could stay out a while, if I didn't get too far away. But, I will have to go home soon. Dad says we will celebrate the New Year by getting to bed early tonight. Some celebration."

Ann Smith smiled and shut the door, wondering what she would wear to the New Year's gathering.

As was the neighborhood tradition, the couples began to gather at the community center at 10 p.m. The Smith's were among the last to arrive and the first persons they encountered were the Andersons.

Fred Anderson coughed. Bob Smith took out his handkerchief and blew his nose.

"Hello, Fred."

"Bob."

"Stevie told us you weren't coming tonight."

Fred Anderson blushed. "Teddy told us the same thing about you."

Together they said, "Well, I'll be . . ."

Ann and Eve both laughed heartily. "And we put 'em up to it," they both said.

And then all four said, "Happy New Year, one and all."

No. 5346 Equity In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

Order of Publication

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District No. 2 of Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Collector of Taxes for Garrett County, Maryland, and the State of Maryland, to James Sines and Betty Lou Sines, his wife, the Plaintiffs in this proceeding:

All that lot or parcel of land containing 2 acres and 88 poles, more or less, situate in Election District No. 2 of Garrett County, Maryland, assessed to Amanda Sines being the same property which was conveyed to Amanda Sines by deed from Noah Frazee and wife, dated January 12, 1931, and recorded in Liber E.Z.T., No. 102, folio 227, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, in which the coal and other minerals were reserved.

Our Calendar Should Last For A Long Time Yet

Every once in a while someone comes up with what they consider a better method of marking time, yet experts believe our present Gregorian calendar will not likely be replaced for a long time to come. Mathematicians estimate it will be accurate until at least 2500 A.D.

People have always been fussy about time. Daylight Saving Time annually causes a stir in some sections of the country and things can get confusing for the individual who lives near the edge of a time zone.

Perhaps the first fairly accurate calendar was devised by the Ancient Egyptians. It consisted of 12 periods of 30 days each, with five days added to the last period just to keep things straight.

This method is somewhat similar to the Gregorian Calendar, except that the Gregorian provides that years divisible by four, excluding the years numbering the centuries, shall have 366 days, and the century-marking years are leap years only if divisible by four after the ciphers have been removed.

Leap years thusly make it unnecessary for us to "tack on" those extra five days and keeps us in tune with the solar year, which actually consists of 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes and 46 seconds.

As the experts say, we're in good shape until 2500 A.D. Who can say what method of counting time will evolve by then? Perhaps some will come up with a perfect method of marking time.

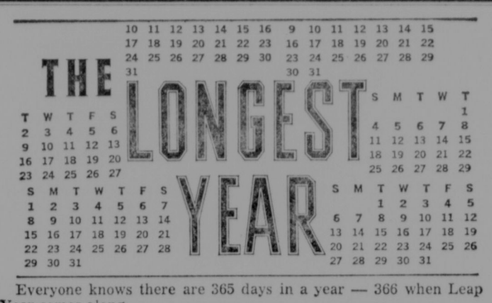
Fair Directors To Organize Jan. 5th

The board of directors of the Garrett County Fair association will meet Tuesday evening, January 5, for the purpose of organization and election of officers, it was announced by H. G. Gortner, president.

Five members of the board were recently elected and re-elected and included Mr. Gortner, Allen S. Paugh, Mrs. Leslie Guard, Gerald Glotfelty, and Ross Crowe. Crowe replaces Walter DeBerry who retired from the board.

Other member of the 20-member board include Charles Bowman, Harland Bowman, John Brenneman, Harry Collier, Arthur Fitzwater, Mrs. Bruce Folk, Hubert Friend, Mrs. O. C. Glotfelty, Robert L. Glotfelty, Lawrence Glover, Mrs. Robert Hoffman, D. L. Klotz, Fredlock Schenk, Claude Wagner, Jr., and Charles Wilt.

Other officers in addition to Mr. Gortner are Mr. Brenneman, vice-president; Baity Ridder, secretary; and Mr. Paugh, treasurer.



Everyone knows there are 365 days in a year — 366 when Leap Year comes along.

Yet one year had 445 days. It's not a year any of us remember, because it was the year 46 B.C.

The unusual circumstance came about when Numa Pompilius supposedly created the Roman Calendar in the seventh century B.C. — a calendar that was two months behind the sun when Julius Caesar put his experts to work on the problem. The mathematicians came up with a calendar, but still had the problem of doing something about the two months needed to catch up with the sun.

They solved the problem by inserting the two months between November and December, thus giving the year 46 B.C. a total of 445 days, but also giving the following year a fresh start.

We ask Simca owners:

Why did you trade in your VW for a Simca 1000?

William Botkin, Columbus, Ohio: "On impulse, I took one out for a spin. Was delighted with the way it handled. Much better all around, especially on the turnpikes. My wife liked the all-synchro gearbox. Last week, for the 30th time, I taught a VW humility in the traffic light Grand Prix. Simca's heater—which really heats—is a godsend..."

George Stevens, Martinez, Calif.: "The VW didn't seem to fill the bill for my wife and me. The 1000 is roomier, easier getting in and out of. The day after we bought it, we took a long trip and couldn't have been more delighted with the comfort or the economy..."

Mrs. Audrey Stein—Maplewood, N.J.: "My VW needed a lot of repairs, so naturally the 5-year Simca warranty* looked awfully good to me..."

Larry Drake, Pineville, West Va.: "Extra room, better visibility. It handled better. I've been well satisfied with the change to the 1000..."

Jack White, Albany, Ohio: "I had two VWs. Now I have one, plus your Simca 1000. The 1000 rides smoother. And I get better gas mileage from it. With your warranty* I'm not afraid of an engine bill using up all the money I've saved on gas..."
